Newton Welfare Bureau Re-Elects Officers At Annual Meeting

Reports On Unemployment And Camp Work Show Tremendous Increases Over Preceding Year

On Wednesday afternoon the Annual Meeting of the Newton Welfare Bureau was held at 12 Austin Street with Mr. Elliott B. Church, President, in the chair. A report was given of the work done for 1930. Compared with the work reports of other years, it had increased tremendously, particularly since last Fall. The unemployment conditions were felt very seriously beginning early in the Spring as was indicated by the mounting cost of relief paid out by the Bureau to families where they did not have sufficient income even during the Spring and Summer months when ordinarily there is plenty of work. In the Fall the Mayor's Committee asked that the Welfare Bureau take charge of relief which it has been doing since November. The total relief for the year amounted to $3387.00 and the total number of families with whom the Bureau worked was 534, an increase of 126 over the 408 of the year 1929. The staff has had to be increased to meet the increased work. The relief for the three winter months—November, December and January, two years ago amounted to $1487.85; one year ago to $1439.33, and this year $5744.38.

The camp work during the last few years has increased steadily and last year 157 individuals had vacations planned for them by the Bureau. The bulk of these were tubercular contact children or underweight children referred by the schools and were paid for from the Health Fund which is the money from Christmas Seals sold in Newton. From this same money $2279 was spent for milk for families and some children in the schools. Dr. Cecil Clark, the Chairman of the Health Fund of the Bureau, reported on the work done by the Health Committee and the expenditures of this money.

The Home Service work of the Newton Chapter American Red Cross which is work with the families of veterans, and men at present in the U. S. Service, is done under the Newton Welfare Bureau by Miss Esther Walker. Her report for the year was given and a total of 63 families were assisted, 12 of whom were in Needham as the Newton Home Service Section also covers that district, the other 51 in Newton.

The speaker for the afternoon was Mr. Richard Conant, Commissioner of Public Welfare for the State of Massachusetts. He spoke about the new law for Old Age Assistance which was passed by the legislature last year and which becomes effective July 1st. He said the aged person must be seventy years of age, must be a citizen and have resided in the State of Massachusetts for twenty years. The amount to be paid through the Department of Public Welfare in the local cities and towns should be sufficient to provide a "dignified" standard of living for the elderly people; it was not to be a pension but was to be paid on the basis of the need of assistance; the primary responsibility for caring for the aged still rested upon the families as it should. Mr. Conant spoke of two other States which had already passed similar laws, New York and California, but neither of these States were as well organized to administer the law from a social service standpoint as Massachusetts. The experience of Massachusetts administering the Mothers' Aid law already in existence has given training and experience throughout the State and the Old Age Assistance would be administered on the same basis. If the age is kept as at present at 70, the extra amount to be paid by the State will be about $3,000,000. If the age is decreased to 65, for which there is some agitation, it will amount to about $6,000,000. The legislature is at present discussing how this additional tax money shall be raised. Those present at the meeting were very much interested in what Mr. Conant told about the law as of course it is very pertinent to the work of the Welfare Bureau.

The Officers and Directors for the following year were elected and they are as follows: President, Mr. Elliott B. Church; Vice-President, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor; Mr. Philip W. Carter and Mr. Leon B. Rogers; Treasurer, Mr. William M. Cahill; Clerk, Miss Dorothy L. Simpson. Directors for Three Years—Mrs. George W. Auryansen, Mr. Richard B. Carter, Mr. Elliott B. Church, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, Mr. George H. Ellis, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mr. William T. Halliday, Miss Edith Jamieson, Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, Rev. Raymond Lang, Miss Mabel L. Riley, Mr. James A. Stafford, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, Mr. Kenelm Winslow and Mrs. Phister Cowin. Directors for One Year—Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, Miss Callista Roy, and Mr. Ulysses G. Wheeler. Nominating Committee—Mr. William T. Halliday, Rev. John S. Moses, Mrs. Phister Cowin and Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell.

It was voted to extend a vote of appreciation to Mr. Thomas R. White who volunteered his time in auditing the accounts for the Welfare Bureau for the year 1930.

CIVIC ARTS ASSOCIATION OF NEWTON ORGANIZED

At a meeting held in the Newton Centre Playground building, Tyler terrace, Sunday afternoon the Civic Arts Association of Newton was organized, and officers elected to serve until the annual meeting to be held in October.

Officers elected are: President, Edward E. Whiting; vice-presidents, William H. Rice, Mrs. Ralph Henry, Rev. Chester A. Drummond; recording secretary, Lyscom A. Bruce, Jr.; corresponding secretary, Miss Anne E. Bunker; treasurer, Charles E. Hatfield.

A special meeting will be called to elect a Council, to consist of one representative from each village in Newton. An executive committee of five, and four department directors, will then be chosen and preparations begun for the season's work. According to the constitution adopted at the organization meeting, the elected officers, elected council, the executive committee and the department directors will constitute the association's Board of Governors.

The object of the association, as stated in the constitution, is "to promote interest in all the Newtons for the discovery of artistic talent, and its encouragement by means of exhibitions, pageantry, drama, music, the dance, and the fine and decorative arts and related subjects."

The association is the outgrowth of the Newton Pageant which was successfully given last spring. Any resident of Newton is eligible for membership, and the dues will be nominal. There will be no commercial phase to the association. It is the professed purpose of those who co-operated in organizing the association to make and keep it representative of all Newton.

At 2:30 a short reception will be held that all may meet Mrs. MacDonald, and following the pageant, tea will be served.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF ELIOT CHURCH PRESENT PAGEANT

Under the auspices of the Woman's Association of Eliot Church a pageant, "Cupid Darts in Foreign Hearts" will be given Tuesday afternoon, February 10 at 3:00 o'clock. The pageant is under the direction of Miss Bessie Stratton, and was written by Mrs. Fred A. MacDonald of Worcester who will be present and appear in the production.

At 2:30 a short reception will be held that all may meet Mrs. MacDonald, and following the pageant, tea will be served.

Newton Bankers Association Meets

Elect Officers—Gross Assets Increase—Send Message To Hoover

The annual meeting of the Newton Bankers' Association was held last evening at the Brae Burn Country Club. The guest speaker of the evening was former District Attorney of Middlesex County, Robert T. Bushnell. Officers for the year were elected as follows: President, Judge Wm. F. Bacon, president of the Newton Savings Bank; vice-president, Frank H. Stuart, president of the Newton Co-operative Bank; secretary, Roland F. Gammons, president of the West Newton Savings Bank; treasurer, Charles W. Mercer, treasurer of the Newton South Co-operative Bank.

During 1930 the gross assets of all the banks in the city of Newton showed a total increase of $4,702,865. This amount was divided between the three classes of banks as follows: Savings Banks, $2,151,724; Commercial Banks, $1,267,573; Co-operative Banks, $273,568. The present gross assets of all the banks in the city total $56,914,865 divided between the Savings Banks with $26,093,724, Commercial Banks with $22,034,573, and Co-operative Banks with $8,786,568.

The association voted to instruct the secretary to send a message to President Hoover expressing approval of his stand on the serious questions now confronting Congress and unqualified confidence and support in his efforts to prevent unsound legislation.

CATHOLIC CLUB PRESENTS PLAY

The pre-Lenten production of the Newton Catholic Club Players will be presented at the club hall on Washington street, West Newton, on the nights of February 9 and 11, with dancing after the performance on both of the nights.

In their second presentation of the year, the Players are offering a delightful farce-comedy, "Here Comes Patricia" by Eugene C. Hafer. The three-act piece is well done by a cast of players who have all appeared at the club before.

The Misses Enid A. Laffie, Ellen K. Cuniff, Marie A. McGrath, Martha E. Heffron, Geraldine R. Herlihy, and Jean B. Ford are the ladies of the cast, and the members of the Catholic Club in the male roles are William J. Robblee, Jr., Richard J. Leahy, Thomas J. McInerney, Harry R. Walsh, and Philip J. Cronin.

The cast has been rehearsing under the direction of their coach J. Neale McDonald, of Auburndale, Boston College graduate, and director of many amateur productions in Greater Boston. Mr. McDonald coached other Players' shows including "Cat O' Nine Tails" and "The Patsy."

A new stage setting has been built under the direction of Jack Tuschner, technician and stage manager, whose settings have marked the productions at the club since the inception of the Players. Harry R. Walsh is production manager, assisted by Joseph J. Ryan.

A special children's performance will be given at the club on Sunday afternoon. Rich Heffron's Club Orchestra will play at all performances and for the dancing on Monday and Wednesday nights.

JANUARY BUILDING REPORT

The report of the Newton Public Building Department for the month of January shows that 42 permits were issued during the month with an estimated valuation of $788,700. Other permits issued included—single dwellings, 25, valuation $272,800; double dwelling, 1, $9000; private garages 4, alterations on buildings 9. Last year in January 57 permits were granted and in January 1929, 89 permits were granted.

Permit For Apartment Building In Newton

Half Million Dollar Structure Is Planned on Centre St.

A permit has been granted for the erection of a large apartment building on a site bounded by Centre and Mount Ida streets, Newton. This site was included in the general residence zone when most of such zones were recently changed to private residence zones on the promise made by the architect and the then owner of the land that a strip of land varying in width from 15 feet down, would be given to the city to widen the dangerous curve on Centre street hill. Alderman Gallagher had called attention to the dangerous traffic situation caused by the combination of curve and grade at this point, and had not the agreement been made by those interested in the construction of an apartment building on the site in question, it would have been placed in a private residence zone.

Some weeks ago plans were submitted to Buildings Commissioner Chadwick for an eight-story apartment building on the site. Provision had not been made for the ceding of land to the city for the widening, as promised. A permit for the building was withheld until the owners of the property had agreed to donate the land for the widening and to make the building six stories high instead of eight.

The apartment building will be erected on land formerly owned by Peter Turchon and John T. Burns. It is planned as a co-operative apartment building, the suites to be owned by occupants. It will contain 57 apartments of 3, 4 and 5 rooms and bath. Some of the apartments will have two bathrooms. The building exterior will be constructed of brick and stone. It will have a large courtyard on the Centre street side and will set back 15 feet on the Mount Ida street side. Herbert O. Townsend of Quincy is the owner of the proposed building and Edward B. Stratton of Newton Centre is the architect. The building will be 265 feet long on Centre street and 145 feet on Mount Ida street. It will be 65 feet high.

RECREATION FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Beginning Monday morning, the vestry of the Methodist Church at Newton Highlands will be heated and open to all of the unemployed young men who are seeking wholesome recreation free of charge. Two small golf sets, two pool tables, ping pong and miniature pool tables will be at their disposal. Tuesday afternoon, those who have utilized the facilities will be taken to the Y. M. C. A. and a basketball team formed. After practice, the boys will take a swim in the "Y" tank. Interesting classes of special instruction are to be formed if the boys desire them. It is the belief of the pastor, Rev. Wm. E. Austell that the young men of Newton should have wholesome "loafing places" at their disposal and believes that it is the church's opportunity to provide such at this time. The church will be open from 10 a. m. until 9:00 p. m. Two more pool tables are needed. If anyone is willing to loan a miniature pool table to the church to help meet this emergency during the next few months, please call the pastor C. N. 3361.

MR. BOLSTER RESIGNS

At the annual meeting of the Hospital, January 29th, Mr. Bolster's resignation as treasurer of the Newton Hospital was accepted, with regret, and Mr. Wickliffe J. Spaulding, of Auburndale, was elected as his successor.

The Hospital has been most fortunate in securing the services of our leading citizens in positions of responsibility in its management. Mr. Bolster has served the Hospital as treasurer twelve years and feels he should be relieved. His predecessor, George Royal Pulsifer, served as treasurer of the Hospital fourteen years and really selected Mr. Bolster as his successor. Two able or more loyal men could hardly be found who could carry the responsibility of the position and at the same time enjoy more fully the confidence of the citizens of Newton.

The position carries with it a very large responsibility. The Hospital is really a $2,500,000 property and its successful administration means responsibility. During the twelve years in which Mr. Bolster served as treasurer, the major development of the Hospital has taken place; much of the surrounding property has been acquired and new buildings have been erected. In the campaign for these improvements, seven thousand subscribers were secured. The size of the task of the treasurer is indicated by the statement that the treasurer collected $1,452,000 from these subscribers. For this work together with the daily conduct of the Hospital indicates something of the debt the citizens of Newton owe Mr. Bolster for his twelve years' service.

The best thing about it is Mr. Bolster's own statement, "I have greatly enjoyed the work and the friendships I have made in these twelve years of service."

Red Cross Quota In Newton Exceeded

Voluntary Contributions Total More Than $11,400 Asked

$10,000,000 is enough—so say experienced Red Cross experts—to carry on an adequate relief program in the Drought Area. Over half of this amount has been collected to date throughout the United States.

Newton was expected to contribute to this $10,000,000 fund $11,400 and it is with great pleasure that the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross announces that Newton's voluntary contributions to Drought Relief have exceeded the quota.

It is interesting to note that the Bill for the $25,000,000 appropriation before Congress at the present time contains no mention of the word "Drought." In other words it is a relief Bill of a general nature. The Red Cross to administer this fund might be called upon to go outside of its province of Disaster Relief and enter into social and civic welfare problems (such as the unemployment relief program, etc.). This the Red Cross cannot do, and is not fitted to do. Therefore the Red Cross has asked to be relieved from the responsibility of accepting this money from Congress for administration.

The American people have always relieved suffering by giving freely and with generous hearts. It has been rather a shock to many people to feel that this privilege might possibly be taken from them by an Act of Congress that, while depriving them of their privilege of charity, would result in a tax burden being ultimately forced upon them.

The Red Cross is the nation's sole agency for Disaster Relief. It has had years of experience in hundreds of Disasters. It does its work of relieving suffering promptly, efficiently, thoroughly, and above all economically.

Suffering in the Drought Area continues and the Red Cross is working there night and day to alleviate distressing conditions.

The Newton Chapter of the Red Cross will gladly receive contributions for Drought Relief and every penny contributed will be sent at once to the Drought Area.

Aldermen Appropriate $4,476,958.05 For Budget For Coming Year

Hold Up Appropriations For Traffic Lights—Several Hearings Held on Various Matters

The principal matter before the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was the consideration of the budget. The figures recommended by Mayor Weeks, with few exceptions met with the approval of the Finance Committee, and the budget, as presented by the Finance Committee was approved by the Board with but one change.

The total amount of the budget recommendations as submitted by Mayor Weeks was $4,495,253.37. The Finance Committee cut this total to $4,484,658.05. Protests against the installation of two "Electromatic" traffic signals at a cost of $7700 caused this item to be dropped off the budget leaving the total at $4,476,958.05. In addition to this $290,459 was appropriated as the budget for the Water Department; this amount to be raised from Water Revenues. The Mayor had recommended $300,414 as the budget figure for this department. The passing of the budget appropriation at the first February meeting is perhaps the earliest this has been done in the history of the city.

The meeting opened with hearings on petitions of the Edison and Telephone Companies for joint pole locations on streets now accepted, but which until recently were private ways. No opposition appeared to these perfunctory petitions. Neither did any one appear to oppose the petition of the New England Concrete Pipe Company for a permit to install a 1000 gasoline tank and pump at 198 Needham street, Newton Upper Falls.

The next matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition to have Angier circle given some other name. This circle is a short, new street which runs from 1720 Washington street, Auburndale. The person who disliked the name did not appear to speak in favor of the petition, but several property owners and residents on the street were present to object to any change. Lyman Hutchins of 14 Angier circle stated that if the name were changed it will cause much inconvenience by necessitating such documents as deeds and mortgages to be corrected, that mail matter may be delayed and other complications ensue. Mr. Hutchins said that the party who circulated the petition asking for the change in name could give no good reason for so doing.

James Covington of 5 Angier circle opposed the petition and stated that one of the petitioners had a house for sale and thought that the name of the street retarded the sale because it is too high-toned.

The hearing on the amendment to the Traffic Rules which would prohibit parking on the west side of Walnut street, Newtonville, between Highland avenue and Otis street, brought a protest from Perley A. Hilliard who conducts a candy shop at 340 Walnut street, the opposite side from where the amendment would take effect. A young man read a letter signed by Hilliard which tartly criticized Newton's traffic regulations. This letter said in part: "As a voter, property owner and merchant doing business on that part of Walnut street affected by this proposal, I wish to express my protest against further restrictions of parking on Walnut street. Business has suffered severely from nuisance legislation. Cannot Newton have the good sense to help business instead of hindering it? Let's put men to work. Let's make Newton more convenient for trade. Let's keep the trade we have rather than drive it away with No Parking signs. A few feet added to the width of this street would solve the whole problem. This could be done without sacrificing the shade trees by running the sidewalk inside these trees."

No protest against the change was made by the Newton Club in front of whose property part of the restricted area lies. A letter signed by several property owners on the side affected favored the change. Chief of Police

Hughes also had asked for the change. The tenor of Hilliard's letter certainly did not have the effect he desired. Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the Traffic Committee commented that while the Aldermen desire to listen to both sides of a question and give respectful consideration to opposition, such opposition as was manifested against this proposed change merited little consideration. He moved that the rules be suspended so that the proposed change could be acted upon at once. Aldermen Collins and Woodcock, the other Ward 2 aldermen agreed that the change was necessary in the interest of public safety. Alderman Woodcock, who lives in the area affected, told that Walnut street narrows 10 feet at the south side of Highland avenue and collisions have frequently occurred there.

The Board unanimously voted to suspend the rules and amend the traffic ordinances so that the change was made. Mr. Hilliard, whose opinion of parking restrictions in this city is not very laudatory, has been a resident of Newton Highlands for about two years.

Nine names of Newton citizens were drawn from a box and as a result the owners of these names must serve as jurors at sessions of the Superior Court to be held this month and next at Cambridge and Lowell. The nine citizens who must perform civic duty are: Patrick Fleming, 324 Walnut street; Ellis C. Burgess, 47 Carleton street; Edwin H. Peek, 23 Wilshire road; Lloyd Freeman, 184 Pine Ridge road; Arthur J. English, 286 River street; Joseph T. Gilman, 243 Otis street; Albert E. Yarland, 8 Whitney road; John M. Glynn, 74 Eddy street; Lawrence Reichle, 17 Malvern terrace.

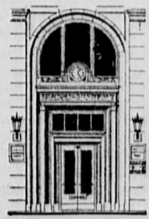

The Public Works committee reported adversely on the offers of John T. Burns of $10,000 for the purchase of land owned by the city at Commonwealth avenue and Woodbine street, Auburndale, and of Cashman & Ginsberg for the purchase of the old Hamilton School and its site at Lower Falls for $2240.

The Board voted to approve the request from Mayor Weeks that a house at 216 Crafts street, Newtonville, located next to the F. A. Day School be sold to Thomas Matthews for $2000. Mr. Matthews will move this house to a lot nearby on Watertown street. The site of the house will be used to increase the grounds of the Day School. Aldermen Temperley inquired regarding the assessed value of this house. He was anxious to know whether, or not, the city was obtaining enough for the building. None of the Aldermen knew what the assessed value was, but President Collins informed the Upper Falls member that the Mayor had asked for bids on this house and Mr. Matthews' offer was the best.

A resolution introduced by the Committee on Legislation dealt with a matter which is of prime import to many residents of the Newtons, as regards future transportation, and to all residents of Newton as regards future taxation. The huge rapid transit project favored by Mayor Curley of Boston to facilitate traffic on the Boston Elevated system calls for an estimated expenditure of $40,000,000 for the subways and other rapid transit routes in various parts of Boston and its suburbs. Cities and towns in which lines of the Elevated are located must foot the bill and it is proposed to prorate the cost according to the valuations of the various communities. Based on the valuation of the City of Newton, the share of this city for the next 40 years might be as high as $50,000 a year.

Because the only Wards in Newton where tracks of the Elevated run, and where it is contended that any residents of this city are served by the Elevated, are Wards 1 and 7. The resolution passed by the Board will seek to have Legislation passed which

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

From early Spring 'till late in Fall,
When sidewalk cycling has the call,
I state my disapproval.I welcome Winter for the fact
The sidewalk is no cycle track,
Conditions won't permit it.The world's a cycle, so I've found,
Things even up as they go 'round, Observe the situation.You think from sidewalk cares I'm free,
Not so, I've still anxiety.

There's snow that must be shoveled.

Somehow, I had always supposed that the hottest days of Summer constituted the "silly season", so-called.
Apparently, there is a period in the Winter, possibly the days of lowest temperature, when intellectual diversion may be permitted in realms of utter nonsense. I take this charitable view of the attitude of the college professor who urges the coining of hybrid words. They are, he points out, to be obtained by combining parts of two or more words. He calls them
"portmanteau words".Says this learned scholar, "When the job is skillfully done, such words soon come into common use, particularly in business and commerce.
Words such as cafeteria and grocer-ia are familiar examples of this type." That sounds reasonable but when the professor points out how it is done, I am disposed to grit my teeth. "The next time the wife serves you with an inedible biscuit or you drop one on the floor of a restaurant, be nonchalant; you have only had a 'biscuitastrophe'."Then to further incriminate himself this teacher of pure English says that "sniff" is a combined sneeze and cough, that another cute one is "swellelegant"—but I just can't continue. My reason is that I cannot become nonchalant, which, he makes very plain, is a state in which one should be at the time.A scholarly friend of mine informs me that the German language includes many words which are the union of several. But this, I venture to say, and I know little German apart from sauerkraut and wienersurst, is done in a dignified way and not as an attempt to be funny. The Germans do not go in for comic forms of speech and if they coin "portmanteau" words such words are intended to convey something and not produce a laugh.I wouldn't be so fussy if it were not that our speech is daily becoming more and more low-brow. I am not insistent that our ordinary talk should be pedantic but I believe that the choice of words is after all something to be applauded or admired. I happen to know of a man of marked oratorical attainments. He never at any time finds it necessary to resort to slang.
In consequence it is always a pleasure to listen to him. Free speech is one of the inherent rights of the American people, slang is one of their conspicuous failings.For these reasons I am of the opinion that the educator who urges the coining of "portmanteau" words is talking of something on which he should be silent. I should call him a gabby professor or a "progab" or "gabsessor", whichever he preferred.

RUNAWAY HORSE AT HIGHLANDS

In these days of automobile accidents, the traffic hazard of by-zone days, a runaway horse, is a rarity.
Sunday, George Goodband, who conducts a riding school on Dedham street, Oak Hill, hitched one of his horses to a sleigh and was driving along Boylston street, near Hartford street, Newton Highlands, when the horse became frightened and bolted.
Goodband, his daughter Elizabeth and Ralph Milliken of 154 Plymouth road, were hurled from the sleigh and slightly injured. The horse was stopped on Walnut street.

15 YEARS' EXPERIENCEthe matter and convince myself of the futility of attempting to beat the law.I discovered that prior to the introduction of the income tax in Massachusetts persons were taxed on the capital value of their intangibles at the local rate—that is, if the local assessors wanted to find them or could find them. The income tax law changed this by making the income it earned taxable only to the holder of the security and this at six per cent. In the old days, if a person owned a thousand dollar bond which was taxable they would be taxed in Newton $27.20. They are now, provided it is a six per cent. bond, taxed only six per cent. on the $60 or $3.60.
Because of this very reduction the Legislature has sought to make certain that every one pays. That, as I view it, is not unfair. As far as that goes I cannot fail to admire those who drafted the original legislation.We find that the first requirement is that every individual will be penalized if he fails to file annually his tax return. Second, in order to make sure that he files, those who pay the interest, dividends or salary must report to the taxing authorities what has been paid. If the taxpayer does not file a return the authorities have two years in which to reach him and he is liable to a $5 a day penalty for every day that he fails to file his tax return.One would think that after the State had put into operation all this system, which, as I have said, is singularly foolish enough to attempt to evade payment. But you would be surprised at the number of those who make the attempt and have to be taught a lesson.It is surprising the many ways in which tax-dodgers may be found out.
The more common is the information which comes to the taxing authorities of interest and dividends paid to individuals. These people, if they have not filed a tax return are given full opportunity and a chance to explain why they should be penalized for failure to file.Neighbors do a lot of talking and the news of the delinquent ones reaches the ears of those most interested—State officials. A man whose business it is to pursue tax-dodgers said, "I seldom hear of persons who are heard bragging in clubs and other social centers that they have not filed an income tax.
Suddenly they learn that their boasting has spread and they are in trouble with the officials."Neighbors are sent out from time to time to persons who might very well be in receipt of income sufficient in amount to pay an income tax. For example, it is supposed that a person who runs a high-priced automobile is in the possession of a certain amount of income which might be taxed. Subsequently Special Officer Mullen went to Campbell's home and found five shotguns which had been stolen from the office of the American Express Company at Newton Centre by another youth and given to Campbell.Campbell was sentenced to the Concord Reformatory. At the request of Rev. William Austill of the Newton Highlands Methodist Episcopal Church, Judge Bacon continued Hooper's case until February 16. The clergyman stated that he knew the youth and his family and wanted to examine Hooper's capacity to change his motives.In the Newton court on Saturday Judge Weston imposed heavy penalties on John T. Levalley of 26 Clinton street, Newton, and William J. Burke of 19 Boyd street, Newton. The two young men were charged with having been present where gaming instruments were found and with maintaining a common nuisance. The cases were the result of a raid on a clubroom at 277 Washington street, Newton, on the night of January 17.
Each was fined $50 on the first charge and sentenced to three months in jail on the second charge. They appealed. Three other young men charged with being present in the club room when the alleged gaming instruments were seized received the heavy fines of $50 each on this charge. The gaming instruments placed in evidence consisted of some playing cards and one pair of dice.
Attorney Meagher for the defense contended that this pair of dice had been "planted" in the clubroom by the police. He also intimated that two $1 bills which the police testified were found in the clubroom were manufactured evidence.When the police raided the clubroom they found a push-button near the door which connected with a buzzer in another part of the premises.

John Shea of 70 Andrew street, car on Lincoln street, Newton High-jured but the shock of the collision caused him to faint.Domestic and Imported Groceries

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

Dramatics

Residents of Waban and of Newton Centre, in fact of all the Newtons, are given opportunity to enjoy amateur dramatics in these two sections of the city on the evenings of Friday, February 6, and of Saturday, February 7. There is a wide interest in this form of entertainment that is always apparent, probably because everyone likes to see those with whom they are acquainted appear in some assumed character, and, usually, productions by this so-called "home talent" assume a skill and professional ability that surprises.

The Waban Woman's Club, under the auspices of the Dramatic committee, of which Mrs. Robert W. Moore is chairman, presents at the Neighborhood Club a mystery play in three acts by Eleanor Robson and Harriet Ford, entitled "In the Next Room."
The cast is composed entirely of Waban residents, many of them members of the Woman's Club. The play begins at 8 p. m., and will be followed each evening by dancing. Tickets are in charge of Mrs. Albert H. Houghton.
Proceeds will be added to the Club's contribution to the Waban Library Fund, toward which splendid project the Clubwomen have lent every support and have worked out many methods for raising funds.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club offers at the Club House on the same evenings a comedy in three acts, by Avery Hopwood, whose comedies are so enjoyable, entitled "The Alarm Clock." Its action concerns the upsetting of the luxurious home and bachelor regime of one Bobby Brandon, by the invasion of relatives, and the thrusting upon him of family life.
Naturally things happen, and curiosity is aroused to see how enjoyable are these amusing happenings. This play opens at 7:45 sharp, and also will be followed by dancing. The Ways and Means committee in charge has also arranged to serve sherbet, coffee and doughnuts downstairs immediately following the play. Tickets at $1.00 include dancing. There are no reserved seats, so that those who attend should consider this in planning time of arrival at the Club House. The cast is made up of talented Newton players.

Christian Era Study Club

Mrs. Edward Edmonds will entertain the Christian Era Study Club on Monday, February 9, at her home, 153 Hancock street, Auburndale. Two papers will be given: one on Motley's "History of the Dutch Republic," by Mrs. Herbert E. B. Case; and another on Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by Miss M. Shepard.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its next regular meeting on February 13, at the Unitarian Parish House, Rev. David N.
Beach will speak on "Lincoln's Great Rival." Mrs. Starr A. Burdick is chairman for the program. There will be music and a social hour, with Mrs.
Frank Pulver and Mrs. Max J. Ham-ant as hostesses.

The next meeting of the Travel
Class will be held on Monday, February 9, at the home of Mrs. John
S. Franklin, 40 Lincoln park, West Newton. Mrs. Franklin will be assisted by Mrs. Alvah L. Jordan.
The Travel Class celebrated its twentieth birthday at the last meeting, January 26, in a gala occasion at Mrs.
Wilson C. Dorr's. A birthday cake was cut by Mrs. Francis E. Sowers who was honor guest, as she is the only present member who was a charter member.

Newtonville Woman's Club

On Monday, February 9, at 2:30 o'clock, Miss Helen Nute, of the English Department of the Newton High School, will address a meeting of members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, at the house of Mrs. Charles A.
Richardson of 17 Claffin place. This is one of the Club's "Afternoons With Books" and Miss Nute has chosen as her topic "New Biographies."

The first meeting in February of the Hospital committee will be held on Thursday, February 12, at 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. R. Ward Hill.

The classes for beginning, intermediate, or advanced French will be started this month. Mrs. James D.
Elliott will give any further information, if telephone calls to W. N. 2663 reach her before February 10.

The Mayor's Relief Committee earnestly urges the co-operation of every clubwoman in finding work for unemployed Newton residents, many of them in most needy circumstances.
The committee is prepared to furnish experienced men for almost any kind of work in the house or yard. These may be received by telephoning W. N.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The Conservation and Garden unit of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club invites all garden lovers of the Club and their friends to an informal discussion of problems in gardening at the Workshop, on Wednesday afternoon, February 11, at 2:30 o'clock.
Mrs. Edward J. Smith will be present with new features in gardening to offer, and will gladly answer all questions.

The last of a series of Cooking lessons, by Carolyn Webber Bixby, will take place on Friday, February 13, at 9:30 a. m. in the Workshop. These popular lectures, sponsored by the American Home committee, have been highly attended this year, and it is hoped that more busy housewives will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Mrs. Bixby. How to serve meals that cook themselves, and how to entertain without a maid, will be discussed at the final lesson. Tickets at thirty-five cents will be on sale at the door.

Members of the Club are anticipating another gala day in the calendar of Club activities on Tuesday, February 17, when the Dramatic committee presents, both afternoon and evening, the three-act play "Love in a Mist," by Amelie Rives and Gilbert Emery.
The committee is fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. James S.
Gove as coach, and it is of interest to note that the play will be produced with an all-Woman's-Club cast. The dramatic ability of those taking part is well known, and the production promises to be one of the most successful ever staged by the Club. Those who will appear in the cast are: Mrs.
Raymond Collins, Mrs. Herbert N.
Odell, Mrs. Edwin S. Drowne, Mrs.
Hans E. Bernt, Mrs. Margaret C.
Rutherford, Mrs. James B. Prouse and Mrs. Murt S. Wallace. Music will be provided by the Peter Trist. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. C. C.
Thompson, of 1141 Walnut street, or from the chairman, Mrs. Arthur I.
Brown, of 1456 Centre street. Each member is entitled to one ticket which may be obtained upon presentation of her membership ticket.
Guest tickets for either afternoon or evening performance are seventy-five cents.

Newton Community Club

Members of the Newton Community Club are offered a pleasing opportunity for hints on cooking in a Cooking Course by Carolyn W. Bixby, who will solve "Home Makers' Problems."
Friends and neighbors of the Club members also may join if they desire.
The first lecture of the series will be given in Channing Church Parlors at 1:30 p. m. on Wednesday, February 11. Two other lectures, one to be held in March and one in April, make up the course at the nominal fee of $1.00.
Single tickets may be secured for 35
cents.

Dr. Lothrop Stoddard, world traveler, will lecture on the subject "Reforming America," on the afternoon of Thursday, February 12, in Underwood School Hall. There will be music by Mrs. Stoddard and Mrs. Wallace Wales, and a special feature will be the exhibition of Quilts owned by Club members. The Club entertains at this time friends from Stone Institute.

Social Science Club

The next regular meeting of the Social Science Club will be on February 11, at 10 o'clock, at the Hunne-well Club, Mrs. Carolyn J. Mansfield, a member of the Club, will read a paper on "The Congo." The hostesses are to be Miss Fanny M. Adams and Miss Mable Hall.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Frederick S. Fogg, chairman of the Division of Education, will broadcast "Women's Clubs as Educators," from Station WBZA, next Thursday afternoon, February 12, at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, Pianist-composer, accompanied by the studio string quartet, is to entertain at 1:40. Mrs. George F. Boutwell, New Hampshire press chairman, will be on the air at 1:50 with a broadcast on "Publicity, the Bullder."

CLUB PROGRAMS. A mutual service to the Women's Club seeking worthwhile lecturers and entertainers, and to the lecturers and entertainers with their ability to offer, is now being established by the State Federation. One only wonders that such an idea was not long ago put into practice, since for many years those with talent to give have been advertising in Federation Topics, the State's official Club news organ. Perhaps the appeal during the past year from several Clubs that have made up their entire year's program by seeking the advice of the secretary at State Headquarters has shown the value and necessity of such service, and brought this thought into crystallization. At any event, now there is offered to Program committees of the affiliated Clubs the opportunity to consult with a committee at Headquarters, headed by the third vice-president, Mrs. John H. Kimball, and assisted by Miss Ethel M. Eaton, the Headquarters secretary. This "Program Service" will consist of lists of lecturers and entertainers, by card catalogue, accumulated for several years, with the verdict of those Clubs who have heard them, serving as guides, which may be consulted through the committee.

The advantage of such a service is truly mutual, since the reactions of those Clubs who have heard the programs will assist in decisions, and entertainers who have given their money for many seasons to Topics will at last receive the aid merited in securing Club engagements. This should encourage advertisers which will work to the advantage of Topics, and should likewise encourage them for the money spent to look for and rightly to expect return for that advertising in opportunities on Club programs. Only those who advertise in Federation Topics will be listed in the catalogue, a restriction which is just to their advertisers.

Program committees will welcome this avenue of securing at first hand reliable information as to the value of certain speakers, entertainers, and musicians, and for them to seek this avenue will make for the success of the project.

AMERICANIZATION. The Newton Community Club, and its Americanization committee, are shown the honor in February Federation Topics of high praise from the Twelfth District director, Mrs. Horace B. Gale, of Natick.
The continued excellent work of Mrs.
Raymond Lehrer and her committee deserves this praise. Mrs. Gale speaks of this work as splendid, and mentions specifically the recent meeting where lantern slides depicting the main events of the Revolutionary War were shown to a gathering of foreign-born women, and mentions, also, the trips to Wayside Inn and to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, as well as efforts of the committee to encourage the foreign-born to take out citizenship papers.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL. Clubs are advised of the urgent need at the Children's Hospital at Boston, of oil-cloth animals and scrap books. The Hospital has appealed for these, stating that the youngsters enjoy these so much. Here may be an opportunity for the Junior Clubs to be of service.

INTER-RACIAL UNITY. Another opportunity for the Juniors is offered by the State Division of Interracial Unity. They are asking the Juniors to assist in making maps for the adult alien classes. Full information as to this may be secured on request from Mrs. Joseph Lelyveld, 166 Reed street, Rockland, Mass.

General Federation

MOVING PICTURES. The National
Preview committee of the General Federation reports pleasure in presents for popular enjoyment a film that ranks as excellent. It is "The Great Meadow," an historical drama depicting life of the pioneers who followed Daniel Boone into Kentucky.
Adventure, heroism, romance and a tremendous theme are skillfully and satisfactorily portrayed.

On the other hand "Bachelor Father" is not recommended. The theme is degrading, and it is full of vulgar lines.

The following are reported as FOR ADULTS ONLY: "The Criminal Code," a picture which reaches the heights of intense dramatic art; a story of compelling interest and strong dramatic construction. "Scandal Sheet," a gripping newspaper story; out of the ordinary; good entertainment, and excellent acting. "The Blue Angel," is a social tragedy carried out to a logical but unpleasant conclusion.

The following are reported as pictures FOR THE FAMILY: "Fair Warning," a typical western told in unusual manner, with marvelous Rocky Mountain scenery as a background. "Reaching for the Moon," an amusing farce concerning a Wall street broker and an aviatrix. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in some of his expected acrobatic stunts after partaking of a special cocktail mixed by his valet. "Reducing," a comedy vehicle for Marie Dressler and Polly Moran, with plot and interesting story, and much slapstick comedy dealing with a beauty parlor. "The Gang Buster," a picture of mixed seriousness and farce in which gangsters are brought to justice, through the hero's inability to understand the seriousness of the situation. Probably the best is "The Devil to Pay," story of a young

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Complaints are being heard concerning the use of the driveway at the Newton railroad station as a parking space by motorists who leave cars there for long periods, interfering with traffic through this street.

There is no good reason why the City of Newton should pay extravagant prices for traffic signals. It is more essential that a number of dangerous or near-dangerous street intersections be protected with practical traffic signals than to pay $3000 or $4000 each for complicated traffic signals at two or three street intersections.

General Smedley Butler has had opportunities the past couple of weeks to realize how it feels to be faced by a court martial. A few years ago the general was responsible for the court martial of Col. Williams who preceded him as commandant of the Marine Barracks at San Diego, California. Colonel Williams arranged a party in honor of General Butler and was indiscreet enough to become intoxicated at the affair. His guests were charged with charges against him. "The mills of the gods grind slowly".

It was the writer's privilege to become acquainted with John C. deMille when the latter became a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen. This city was fortunate to have within it for a score of years a manly man, a gentleman of Mr. deMille's type. It was a distinct loss to Newton that the heart ailment which caused his death forced him to resign from public service shortly after his election to the Board of Aldermen. He would have been a decided asset to the government of Newton.

There is a traffic rule in Newton, in common with other cities, which forbids double parking or standing of automobiles. The reason for such a rule is obvious to anyone who drives a car. An automobile or truck parked in the middle of a street is apt to cause other automobiles to collide. Trucks supplying chain stores in the Newtons have been repeatedly ignoring this traffic rule. These huge, closed trucks, because of their size so completely obscure the view when they are parked out on streets that they are especial menaces to traffic. The police of Newton should compel the drivers of chain store trucks to obey traffic rules. The fact that chain stores expect drivers of their trucks to work under pressure so that a maximum of deliveries will result, is no reason why such drivers should be allowed to disobey traffic rules.

Persons who fall on icy sidewalks and suffer injuries will get sympathy, but little else, if they enter damage claims against the city. If the ordinance which specifies that sidewalks must be cleared of snow and ice within 24 hours after a storm were enforced in Newton by the police, fewer persons would be the victims of painful falls. And for the benefit of newcomers in this city it is the duty of occupants, or owners of premises to have snow removed from sidewalks. It is not the city's duty.

Boys and girls in Newton have not the opportunities for coasting that their fathers and mothers enjoyed, but because of the activity of the Playground Department in keeping Bulbough's Pond and other places cleared of snow, the youth of Newton today enjoy much more skating than the youngsters of a generation ago.

Misplanners experienced on the same day recently by two trawlers on the fishing grounds at Georges Banks, far out on the Atlantic, caused the papers to print accounts of the towing of the disabled vessels into Boston by two Coast Guard cutters. Each of the trawlers lost its rudder, and by a coincidence one bore the name "Newton" and the other "Brookline." Until these misfortunes befell these two boats of the Boston Trawling Company, few persons in this city knew that the fishing fleet includes a boat named for Newton.

The Boston papers on Tuesday told of a dinner tendered to F. Trubee Davison, Assistant Secretary of War, in charge of aviation. Mr. Davison informed the gathering that air maneuvers will start at Dayton, Ohio, on May 18 next and will end at Washington on May 30. He stated (according to Boston papers) that on May 24th, using the Boston airport as a base, the First Division army air corps will engage in the greatest peace time air maneuvers the world has ever seen, with an all-night sham attack on Boston by 672 airplanes. Mr. Davison was quoted as saying, "If you plan to go to bed on the night of May 24th you will be wasting your time."

This news ought to be very welcome to invalids in Greater Boston, not to mention nervous persons. And it will be a wonderful experience for unfortunate who will be ill and fevered on the night of May 24th. The so-called "fire-works," featuring noise bombs, which have been all too evident at celebrations hereabouts in recent years have given a slight inkling of what may be expected when Boston and vicinity will be "bombed" by hundreds of airplanes. Just why all this racket could not be pulled off in the wide-open spaces, where sick folks lives will not be jeopardized by such a helllettoise noise can perhaps be explained by the enthusiasts who want the people of New England to cooperate in this big air spectacle. And the millions of dollars which will be expended on the gigantic air maneuvers starting at Dayton on May 18 and ending at Washington on May 30 would be of great assistance in providing food for hungry folks in Arkansas, Kentucky, and other places, including Massachusetts.

It behooves citizens of the Newtons to keep close watch on developments in the matter of the Boston to Worcester traffic artery. This big, high speed road was planned to follow the old Worcester turnpike to provide a straight, short route between the two large cities and furnish a quicker route to New York and other points west and south. It will carry by far the heaviest traffic of any highway in Massachusetts when finished. During the past couple of months organized efforts have been vigorously pushed to change the route of the big artery. At least one person, heretofore identified with motor-truck and bus interests has displayed considerable activity in advocating a change from the present plans.

One individual from Worcester, proposed to members of the Newton city government the preposterous plan that the artery be transferred from the Boylston street as its route in this city to Commonwealth avenue, with the thousands of heavy trucks which will use the big highway, to be diverted along Washington and Watertown Sts. through West Newton, Newtonville, Newton Corner and Nantum.

Residents of Wellesley have been propagating into demanding that the traffic artery be kept out of their town limits. Supposing the residents of all the other cities and towns through which the new artery will run, should make similar demands? Where would the big highway be located? And if the road should be kept away from Wellesley, residents of that town to be consistent, and unselfish, would refrain from travelling on the new highway. They would not, of course, impose on others what they would not have imposed on themselves. The ostensible solicitude of some of the proponents of the change of route in the new traffic artery is in the interests of the general automobile public. Their real interest is in behalf of automobile activities which include buss and trucking companies.

INDIAN CHIEF AT BOY SCOUT COURT OF HONOR

The February Court of Honor, held during the 21st Anniversary week of the Boy Scouts of America, of Norumbega Council, Inc., B. S. A., Newton, Mass., will be held at the Levi Warren Junior High School, West Newton, on Wednesday evening, February 11th, at 7:30 o'clock.

The program includes higher Scout awards, of which several will be made—the real purpose of the Court. Mr. G. D. Marcy, first vice-president of the Council, will speak on practice of the Scout Oath and Law in daily life and will lead the Scouts and Scouters in the Scout Oath, as is customary at Scout gatherings during Anniversary Week. President, Maynard Hutchinson will speak on Abraham Lincoln.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Chief Big Man, of the Crow Indians. He will appear in full Indian regalia and war-paint and will tell the story of the Custer Massacre, the scene of which lies near Chief Big Man's home. He will also show Indian sign language telling a story in it and then interpreting into English. All are cordially invited to attend.

AN ACTIVE MONTH

During the month of January the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church arranged several events of particular interest.

At the regular monthly meeting Jan. 2nd, Mrs. Robert E. Bruce, Mrs. William T. Rich gave illustrated lectures on recent trips to foreign countries. Mrs. Bruce spoke on Ur of Chaldaea and Babylon, and Mrs. Rich on the Passion Play and Oberammergau. Miss Bruce rendered two fine piano solos.

A large gathering of Group members and their friends were entertained at the Church on Friday afternoon, January 9th. Progressive games were enjoyed followed by musical selections sung by Mrs. Carrie H. Worden and Mrs. William T. Taylor. Miss Inez Glidden of the Curry School of Expression, gave a humorous reading "Too Many Wives." Refreshments and a social time completed a very successful and enjoyable occasion.

Adole Hoes Lu gave a dramatic reading of "The Devil's Disciple" by Bernard Shaw on the evening of January 12th and was enthusiastically received by a representative audience.

The Missionary Department was fortunate in having Mrs. Jesse K. Marden speak at the meeting January 21st on personal experience in Turkey, where she served as a missionary for many years.

On January 29th a fine church dinner was served, following which an unique and humorous address was given by the Reverend John Nicol Mark on "Robert Burns, The Man and His Message."

ROTARY CLUB

The Rotary Club had as guests the Watertown Club at the Woodland Golf Club Tuesday, which is the usual day for the meeting of the Watertown club. Instead of Monday, the day of Newton's sessions. The speaker was provided by the Watertown club and an excellent one he was. Mr. Percy Bugbee, Assistant Managing Director of the National Fire Protection Association, told in convincing manner of the terrible and needless fire losses in this country using as his examples the Cleveland hospital fire of 1929, the Nashua fire, and the conflagration at a night club in Detroit, all recent occurrences. He contrasted the wrong attitude of many Americans toward stringent fire laws, and their enforcement, with the population and conditions which prevail in Germany. Newton and Watertown, said the speaker, rank high in their fire codes and the excellence of their departments, being far above the average of Massachusetts, which unfortunately is behind in its fire laws as compared with many states.

The speaker was introduced by Chief O'Hearn of the Watertown Fire Department, a Rotarian; and Chief Randlett of Newton, a member of Newton Kiwanis, attended the meeting as Mr. O'Hearn's guest.

CITIES CHANGE 65% IN ONE YEAR

In a talk before the students of the Newton High School recently Mr. Charles W. Hawkes, manager of the Sampson and Murdock Company, explained that the population and business make-up of a city changes about sixty-five per cent. each year.

These changes include people moving into the city—those leaving town—and those moving from one part of the city to another. The 65% is the average figure secured from data for every city in the United States having a population of 100,000 or over.

An interesting feature of Mr. Hawkes' talk was a brief description of the first Directory ever printed for the City of Boston. He had one of these books with him, and read several unusual listings. The little pamphlet was published in 1789, and 56 pages, with 1200 names. The present directory for Boston has 2,862 pages and 422,730 names.

The publisher of the 1789 Directory endeavored to list names according to social standing instead of alphabetically. For example, the first name in the book is Honorable Samuel Adams—while the last name under the A's is another Samuel Adams. This latter gentleman, however, was a "truckman."

Paul Revere was not so prominent in 1789 for he appears as number 37 under the R's as a "goldsmith."

One good woman we find listed as "Mary Butler, boarding house for gentlemen and all sorts of garden seeds."

In these days of Prohibition, the following advertisement from the Providence Directory of 1824 is interesting—

SAMUEL W. WHEELER

No. 110 1/2 Westminster Street
A few doors west of the Universalist Chapel.

Where may be found a general assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, TEAS, SUGARS and SPICES, with a large variety of other articles usually kept in Grocery Stores. Should the quality of any article, purchased as above, not meet the expectation of the purchaser, it may be returned and if the money has been paid it will be refunded.

N. B. Cash or Goods given for clean cotton and linen Rags, Lard, Lard, Lard, constantly on hand, by the jar, bladder, or dozen, or less quantity. January 21.

Mr. Hawkes called attention to the fact that Directories for practically all cities in the United States and Canada are on file at the Boston office at 111 Summer street. Use of these for any ordinary reference is free.

SPORT NOTES

Gilligan Scores for Town Team

Tommy Gilligan, who recently returned to Newton from a trip to Chicago, is playing with the Newton Town Team for the balance of the hockey season. In the Town Team's past two games he has led the attack to win. Tuesday night under the floodlights on Bulbough's Pond the locals turned back the Watertown Hockey Club, 4 to 2, with Gilligan scoring three times. Billings added the fourth Newton counter. Wednesday night the Town Team shut out the Lexington Wanderers, 1 to 0, with Gilligan scoring the only tally in the first period.

Dartmouth Yearlings Win Two

The Dartmouth freshman hockey team with Frank Spain, Langdon Powers, and Bob Bennett in its lineup won games on Tuesday and Wednesday on its invasion of Connecticut. Tuesday Pomfret school was defeated 6 to 5 with Spain scoring twice. On Wednesday the Green yearlings humbled their rivals, the Yale freshman sextet, 3 to 2. None of the locals scored in this game. Joe Gilligan, former Newton high athlete now playing a defence position on the Eli first year team, was the leading Blue performer.

Kollmyer Unlikely to Run

Hamilton Kollmyer, former Newton high and Exeter star runner, has been confined to the Stillman infirmary at Harvard for the past week and it is doubtful if he is in shape to run against Penn tomorrow night as a member of the Harvard relay team at the Millrose games in New York.

Wildcats Lose to Tigers

The New Hampshire University hockey team lost a 5 to 4 hockey decision to the Princeton varsity team at Princeton with a long shot by Cook of the Tigers scoring the winning point. George Colburn, Newton youth, is captain of the Wildcat team and plays defence.

POLICE NEWS

Chief of Police Hughes has been confined to his home the past two weeks with a severe attack of grippe.

Joseph Silverstone of Beecher terrace, Newton Centre, was fined $100 by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Tuesday for making an illegal sale of liquor. For keeping and exposing liquor sale he was given a suspended jail sentence of three months.

Thomas J. Day of 13 Shorncliffe road, Newton, was fined $100 by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Monday. Day was found guilty of promoting a lottery. His house was raided on January 24th and a large quantity of lottery tickets seized.

The Newton police department issued a warning on Monday that persons begging in this city will be prosecuted. Many complaints have been received concerning a large number of persons coming to Newton from outside with a view to begging.

Two youths were captured "with the goods" in the home of Thomas Enegess, 229 Tremont street, Newton, by Patrolman John McNeil on Tuesday afternoon about 3 o'clock. A woman living in the apartment under Mr. Enegess' heard footsteps and knowing that some of the Enegess family were at home telephoned the police headquarters and Patrolman McNeil, who was pulling a call from a patrol box was notified. He went to the Enegess home and captured John V. Foley, 19, of 17 Anson street, Jamaica Plain, and Michael Zakewski, 20, of 49 Middle street, South Boston. On them was found a watch and some jewelry which they had found in the Enegess apartment. They appeared in the Newton court on Wednesday and were bound over to the Grand Jury $10,000 bonds each.

Gerardo Gentile, of Lincoln road, Newton, was fined $10 in the Newton court on Wednesday for keeping a barking dog. Judge Weston warned Gentile that he will be fined $20 if he appears before the court again on a similar charge. A woman residing at Walnut street told of the incessant barking of the animal.

Mrs. Grace L. Johnson, 42, of 564 Grove street, Lower Falls, and Norman Dugan, 27, of Waltham, who has been boarding with her received jail sentences of three months each from Judge Weston in the Newton court on Wednesday. Dugan has a wife and two children in Waltham and on complaint of his wife, Newton police recently raided Mrs. Johnson's home and arrested the pair on statutory charges. Judge Weston asked Dugan if he would return to his family and upon receiving a negative answer, imposed the sentences. Both appealed.

Robert Morton of Foster street, Newtonville, was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with refusing to move his car from a restricted area on Walnut street, Newtonville, when ordered to do so by patrolman Imrie Marshall. Morton told the court he was waiting for a crippled relative and the case was placed on file.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The monthly meeting was held on Wednesday, February 4th, at ten o'clock. During the morning the members were engaged in sewing and in the making of surgical dressings. Mrs. G. W. Axtell is chairman of the work committee and Mrs. A. E. Vose directed the making of surgical dressings. Luncheon was served at one o'clock at tables very attractively decorated with Valentine favors and candles. Mrs. George A. Keil was chairman. Mrs. R. E. Chambers presided at the meeting following luncheon. Mrs. J. F. Brant led the devotional exercises. Mrs. Chambers read letters of appreciation from China where surgical dressings had been sent to aid in the medical work.

Mrs. William Oliver, who has conducted a survey of the migratory workers, gave a talk on conditions among them and described the work being done at Christian social centers to help these people and especially the children. Her travels had taken her into a number of states in the east and as far as Oregon and California. She gave an appealing account of the child workers laboring long hours at monotonous and tiresome occupations, with no time for play and the natural occupations of childhood. Some of these tasks were the shucking of beans for canning, topping of beets, packing of shrimps and oysters. From this class of children come many of the delinquents. There has been less progress made in the work of agriculture than in other occupations.

Mrs. Oliver spoke warmly of the interest of President Hoover in child welfare. "There are from two to three million of these wandering people in our country. Unemployment is the cause of some of this restlessness, and the spirit which sees 'better pickings further on' is the motive in many cases. Also the freedom from the expense of rent. They live in barns and tents and in most unwholesome surroundings. The children are bereft of educational opportunities which go beyond third grade. As some one expressed it, 'You can not educate a procession.' 'Born in the prunes' was the reply of a child as to time and place of birth. In these Christian social service centers the children are taught better ways of living and often the employers co-operate and in bearing the expenses. This class of people are many Mexicans, Italians and negroes.

NEWTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK

A meeting of the shareholders of the Newton Co-operative Bank will be held on Tuesday, February 17, 1931, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the office of the corporation, 299 Walnut street, Newtonville, Mass., for the purpose of nominating directors to be voted for at the Annual Meeting on March 17, 1931, and to transact any other business which may legally come before the meeting.

WARREN W. OLIVER, Clerk.

The Annual Meeting of Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, managing the Boy Scout program in Newton, held its annual dinner meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club on Tuesday evening, February 3rd, 1931.

The following officers were elected unanimously by the Council members, of whom 98 were present: Mr. Maynard Hutchinson, President; Vice-Presidents, Frank Ashley Day, 1st; Henry A. Wentworth, L. Cobb, Chairman, Messrs. A. C. Blunt, Jr., L. D. MacNutt, F. Wellington Gilcreas and William T. Halliday.

Following the dinner there were brief reports by the President, Mr. Maynard Hutchinson; Mr. C. H. Cobb, Treasurer and Chairman of the Finance Committee for 1930; Mr. Marcy, Chairman of the Boy Scout Exposition Committee; and the Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr. Songs were interspersed during the meeting, led by Dr. Cecil Clark, who had composed several original ones for the affair, with Mr. John Kent at the piano.

Senior Patrol Leaders Speak

A big feature of the program was the presence of the Senior Patrol Leaders, the ranking boy officers of the Troops, who were guests of the Council at dinner. Following the brief reports, which included the acceptance of the printed annual reports of the Council, Mr. Hutchinson introduced each Senior Patrol Leader, telling his Troop number, village, number of Scouts in the Troop and his subject. The speeches presented the boys' own ideas of the various matters they talked about.

Eagle Scout Roger Maynard of Troop 1, Newtonville, spoke on Troop Records; Gordon McMillan of Troop 2, Auburndale spoke on "Outdoor Cooking"; Edward Patterson of Troop 4A, Highlands, spoke on "Over Night Camping"; Eagle Scout Owen Collins of Troop 4B, Highlands, spoke on "Outdoor Games"; Stuart DeBard of Troop 7A, spoke on "Tracking"; Luigi Mengali of Troop 7B spoke on "Scouting"; Keith Southard of Troop 7C spoke on "Troop Games"; Edward Offit of Troop 9, Waban, spoke on "The Patrol System"; Jack Bierer of Troop 10, Waban, spoke on the "Jamboree"; Robert Lavery of Troop 11, Newton, spoke on "First Aid"; Mate Jackson Kent of Ship 13, Sea Scouts, spoke on "Sea Scouting"; James Arbuckle of Troop 14, Upper Falls, on "Tenderfoot Requirements"; Richard Shaw of Troop 15, Auburndale, on "Map-Making and Map-Reading"; Frederick Hoey of Troop 16, Upper Falls, on "Safety"; William Woodman of Troop 17, Peabody Home for Crippled Children, on "Tenderfoot Knots"; Eagle Scout Robert Young of Troop 18, Center, on "The Nobscot Reservation"; Francis Cooper of Troop 19, Center, on "Why Scouts Do Community Service"; Edmund Kent of Troop 20, Center, on "Camp Cape Cod"; and Joseph Murphy of Troop 21, Center, on "Merit Badges." Life Scout Austin Fisher, Jr., of Troop 15, Auburndale, Chief of the Traffic Police Squad, spoke about the Squad and its work.

The eyes of the men were opened by the understanding of Scouting in its fundamental values expressed by the boy officers and their capability for expressing themselves clearly and concisely on their feet.

Following this, Mr. Gunnar H. Berg, the Director of Volunteer Training for the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America gave a most inspiring address on boys and what the Boy Scout program has to offer them.

Review of Traffic Squad

On Saturday morning, February 7th, at 10:30 o'clock, Chief of Police Michael Hughes will review and inspect the Boy Scout Traffic Police Squad of Newton Boy Scouts. They have been in operation for two years and have prevented many accidents since they have been on duty. Not one accident has occurred at any post where a Boy Scout Traffic Police Officer has been on duty, and in addition, they have saved the city money.

Solution of Last Week's Hand

While the finesse is an important play in bridge when necessary to make a contract it is better to avoid finessing when the same results can be achieved. In the hand last week the most practical play is to make the Queen of Diamonds good. The Jack of Spade finesse is not used.

The hand last week was:
South—declarer Spades—A, K, J Hearts—A, K, Q, J, 10
Diamonds—A
Clubs—K, Q, 10, 3
West
Spades—8, 7, 4, 3

Diamonds—K, 7, 6, 5
Clubs—9, 7, 6

Contract six Hearts. Grand slam is made.
The play: West leads Jack of Diamonds, North plays 3, East 5, South Ace. South leads three rounds of trumps, discarding 2 of Spades from Dummy. South leads King of Clubs, West plays 5, Dummy 2, East the 6. South leads Queen of Clubs, West plays the 8, Dummy the Ace, East the 7. Dummy leads the 4 of Diamonds, East plays 9 of Diamonds, West plays 10 of Hearts, West plays 2 of Diamonds, South leads 10 of Clubs, West discards 3 of Spades, Dummy wins with Jack of Clubs, East plays the 9. Dummy leads 8 of Diamonds, East plays 7. South ruffs with Jack of Hearts, West plays 9 of Diamonds. Note that South cannot afford to Finesse the Jack of Spades for if unsuccessful, West could lead a Diamond and game would be lost. South must make sure of game so leads Ace of Spades, West plays the 4, Dummy 5, East the 9. South now leads the 3 of Clubs, West discards the 7 of Spades, Dummy wins with 4 of Clubs, East must now discard. If Dummy's Queen is made good, South may discard Jack of Spades. If East discards a Spade, Dummy will lead a Spade for the 12th trick, and win by South's King making the Jack good for the 13th trick and grand slam. It will be interesting to now exchange the Queen of Spades and the King of Diamonds with West's hand for 2 cards of their respective suits, which will make the Jack of Spade Finesse impossible. Play the hand exactly the same way and the result is also a grand slam.

As was expected the Aldermen approved the budget figures as recommended by the Mayor with but minor exceptions. We are glad to note that the appropriations of $4100 and $3600 for traffic lights were held out for further consideration. We can conceive of no intersection in the city where such sums are warranted for signals of the "electromagnetic" type. And for that matter we do not believe automatic signals are necessary at the junction of Beacon and Walnut streets where it was planned to spend the $4100. A considerable sum has already been expended by the city in widening the corners of this intersection in order to create an unobstructed view. Route 128 was relocated on Walnut street a few months ago, but traffic on this route is not of exceptional volume. Had the proposition to make Beacon street, the greater traveled of the two highways, a "through way," causing all vehicles on Walnut and other streets to stop before entering, been carried out, no talk of automatic signals would be necessary. If the city desires to install a signal on Beacon street the point where the necessity is greatest is at its intersection with Chestnut street, with its blind corners and downgrade on Beacon street. The location of the $3600 signal, at the corner of Watertown and Walnut streets, is the scene of an extremely blind and dangerous intersection. While a signal is both desirable and necessary at this point we feel that a less expensive type would meet all requirements.

The Red Cross points out that the real problem in the present situation in regard to the collection of funds is to keep the spirit of the people generous, unselfish and responsive to distress. The political confusion existing in Washington, due to some degree to selfish politics, does not reflect a great deal of credit on the present Congress. "The existence of the Red Cross is an insurance to the people of the country that the U. S. Treasury will not be 'raided' each time a disaster strikes."

From a financial point of view it is interesting to learn that in 1930 the increase in the gross assets of all the banks of Newton was over four million dollars more than in 1929. It further proves that the public is saving for a "rainy day." Eddie Cantor says, "don't they know it is pouring now?" If a reasonable portion of that four million dollars were circulated by purchasing from independent Newton merchants the "depression" hereabouts would soon be a "washout."

Recently we commented upon Mayor Curley's plan for a Federated Greater Boston which has caused at least one of our readers to remark that perhaps all do not agree with us that Newton does not desire such a step. We would remind our readers that our columns are always open for expression of public opinion and we welcome comment on either side of this or any other matter of civic concern.

We urge our readers to consider carefully the facts noted in the first of a series of articles on this page under the heading, "Facts About Newton." The Newton Hospital, the subject of the first group of this series, is one of our outstanding institutions which is dependent upon the citizens for its support. Your help makes possible the good work accomplished by it.

The retirement of Mr. Stanley J. Bolster as treasurer of the Newton Hospital after many years of service is a distinct community loss. While we regret Mr. Bolster's retirement we also congratulate the hospital in obtaining the services of Mr. J. Wycliffe Spaulding to fill the vacancy.

Again Newton has not failed. The quota of $11,400 for the Red Cross Drought Relief Fund was exceeded by more than $4,000. Newton has reason to be proud of its record for generosity.

Did the groundhog see his shadow? Who knows? Spring is still weeks away. Brrrrrrr!

Facts About Newton

The Newton Graphic this week begins a series of articles on different institutions and matters with which every citizen should be familiar. The first group of these will be on the new Newton Hospital by Mr. Charles E. Kelsey, the President.

The First Year in the New Hospital

Every one of the seven thousand subscribers to the new buildings of our Newton Hospital will be gratified to learn that the Hospital has earned a larger percentage of its expenses for the year 1930 than it earned in 1929. In the old buildings. The cost of conducting the large Hospital with the better service was of necessity materially greater, but the patronage and the income were proportionately even greater.

To be exact, the Hospital earned 78.3 per cent. of its expenses in 1930, and 77 per cent. in 1929. By comparison, the percentage of earnings of the Newton Hospital is three to five per cent. greater than that of a dozen other hospitals of similar character in Massachusetts.

In 1930 the Newton Hospital had a daily average of 145.84 patients, as compared with 137.49 daily average in 1929.

Through the hearty co-operation of our Newton doctors, the Hospital has established during recent months a new service that promises to be a great boon to people of moderate means. For this service the doctors have agreed to scale down their fees. The Hospital also contributes to this reduced cost service by scaling its per diem charges for private or semi-private rooms, as well as its charges for the use of the operating room, the laboratory, the x-ray, etc.

In this way the Hospital hopes to place its services at the disposal of those families who cannot afford to pay full hospital rates and full professional fees. It seems to the Staff and to the Trustees that in providing this new plan for families of moderate means, the Newton Hospital is taking a long step forward in making its service available for the people of Newton and Wellesley. It is of course understood that this new service includes the very best of medical and nursing care; in fact, the best of everything the Hospital can provide.

In all these ways the Hospital strives to serve, in an acceptable manner and at an expense which all who need the Hospital services.

CHARLES E. KELSEY,
President.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The expeditious handling of a great quantity of matters has characterized the progress of the 1931 session of the General Court. Although this is the first week in February, a large number of bills have been disposed of and the committees are hearing long lists daily. If the present speed is continued there is every reason to hope that the session this year will be comparatively brief. However, there are usually a number of controversial subjects put over until well into the session and this means a delay that can hardly be avoided.

The Governor's budget is now before the Ways and Means Committee of the two branches which are sitting jointly to hear the various items. The principal topic of conversation in this connection is the Governor's plan to raise $20,000,000 by a bond issue for public works, including road building. Commissioner Frank E. Lyman of the Department of Public Works has set forth his views. At the hearing at which he appeared Representative Baker of Newton questioned the Commissioner pretty closely as to details. The attitude of the joint Ways and Means Committee is a matter of speculation. On this, however, depends the future of the Governor's proposals. There is little doubt but that the Governor will not find the committee unanimous. How effective the opposition will prove remains to be seen.

The announcement of Governor Ely that he has arranged to have a broadcasting apparatus installed in his private office at the State House leads to only one conclusion and that is he intends to speak to the people over the radio if his program for a bond issue and other matters do not meet Legislative approval. The Governor has merely said that the microphone will be useful when needed. This is a bit cryptic. It is thought to mean that should he feel that opposition to him had reached the stage that an appeal to the people will be necessary, he will resort to it.

Never in the history of the Gardner Auditorium, the largest hearing room, has such a crowd appeared as came to oppose State Tax Commissioner Long's proposal for a tax on beverages. Mr. Long was alone, for when the chairman of the Taxation Committee asked if others wanted to be heard for the measure no one stood. When the opposition was called for it seemed as if the entire gathering of 1000 men and women arose. No bill this session has aroused such numerous and vigorous opposition. It seemed to have been overlooked by opponents that the idea did not originate with Commissioner Long but that he was ordered by the 1930 Legislature to investigate the advisability of taxing beverages and luxuries. Consequently the Commissioner was obliged to make a report, which he has done. It is more than likely the Taxation Committee will report against it and it may offer a substitute measure.

The bill authorizing the Middlesex County Commissioners to build the new courthouse building at West Newton is advancing without any opposition.

City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett appeared before the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs to urge favorable action of Mayor Weeks' bill authorizing the Metropolitan District Commission to construct an extension of the West Roxbury parkway from a point near Newton street, Brookline, to Beacon street, Newton Centre, at a cost of $400,000. The City Solicitor explained the imperative need of the proposed improvement. When a member of the committee asked Mr. Bartlett why this road should be built as a State highway and two-thirds taken out of the highway fund, Mr. Bartlett said that would suit Newton.

Director John C. Hall of the Securities Division of the State Department of Public Utilities has arranged for the publication by the division of a "Blue Sky" monthly bulletin containing a list of securities approved during the previous month and of those barred during the same period. It also contains a list of brokers registered for 1931.

The hearing on Greater Boston bills given by the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs brought out a lively opposition. The hearing did not consume as much time as had been expected as both sides lost no time in presenting their arguments. According to gossip the proposed legislation has little chance of favorable consideration in either branch.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Putting "Fire" into a tired husband who thought his pretty bride just a part time wife, curing him of his unromantic manners and changing him into a fiery lover, is the theme of a delightful sparkling comedy starting Sunday. Edmund Lowe and Lella Hyams have the leading parts and are too well known to need further introduction. "Outside the Law" with Edward G. Robinson is the outstanding accompanying drama. This is a picture of the underworld with the thugery omitted and one which anyone can enjoy.

For the last half of the week Joan Crawford will be seen in "Paid," a drama which will surprise her fans to the utmost. On the same program will be the screen's most popular boy, Charles Buddy Rogers, who is seen as a stranded American sportsman in London. The title of this drama filled with romance is "Along Came Youth."

Announcement is made at this time of "Hell's Angels" to start on the following Sunday for four days. This will be accompanied by "Big Shots."

The Public Works Committee reported adversely on two petitions of John Donnelly & Sons for billboard locations. One asked for a location on the wall of a building at 317 Watertown street, corner of Dalby street, Nonantum. The other asked for two large signs on the roof of the building at 283-291 Centre street, Newton. This is the one-story building which starts at the corner of Pearl street. Alderman Powers called attention to the persistency of Donnelly & Sons in asking for bill board and sign locations and suggested the committee should grant such petitions. He stated that the Board should instruct the Legislative Committee to seek information as to the present status of the bill board situation, so that it can be given consideration at the next meeting. He also suggested that the committee should delay in putting into effect the will of the people as manifested some years ago when a referendum to end the billboard nuisance was passed by a large majority. This matter was referred to a master for investigation and has been dragging along for several years, according to the Ward 1 alderman.

Appropriations passed by the Board included — Street Department, construction of drain between the B. & A. bridge on Washington street, Auburndale, and Aspen avenue, $5294; Department of settlement of claim of W. N. and Ruth Snider, $250; Accounting Department, laborers' pensions, $1691.78; Mayor's Relief Committee expenses, $850; Playground Department, for employment of additional men at Thompsonville playground and for new traffic signals, $5,000; Department, labor tools and supplies, $5000. The last two appropriations were to relieve unemployment. They will give more men work at Thompsonville and enable the work on the water reservation at Needham to be continued.

BUDGET DISCUSSION

In commenting on the budget recommendations of the Finance Committee of the Aldermen, Chairman Ball said that the city departments asked for less money than in 1930, with the exception of the School Department, which shows an increase every year. He stated that there is no reason why this year's tax rate should be much higher than last year's.

Mr. Ball called attention to an appropriation item of $1040 in the Executive Department budget. This is to provide a stenographer for the Mayor's office. Alderman Smith asked why the Mayor's salary was placed at $3000, when the aldermen had voted in 1927 to place it at $2500. Alderman Ball replied that the Mayor can recommend any salary he sees fit.

Alderman Floyd asked why the figure for soldiers' burial in the budget of the City Clerk's Department had been reduced to $100, 50 per cent. less than last year. He was told that this is a "set-up" figure which is in place of the $7700 for the city. He said that this is a "set-up" figure which is in place of the $7700 for the city. He said that this is a "set-up" figure which is in place of the $7700 for the city.

Alderman Ball called attention to the fact that City Engineer Morse is to receive a salary increase of $100. He is the only department head to get an increase and this was done to bring his salary on a level with that given to the new city commissioner.

Alderman Powers inquired regarding a cut of $1800 made by the Finance Committee from the Mayor's budget recommendation for the maintenance of school buildings. Alderman Gallagher, chairman of the Public Buildings Committee, explained that the committee made a tour of the buildings and wherever it was deemed possible to save on the budget recommendations the committee had suggested a cut. Alderman Ball said he would read all the items in this appropriation.

He said that the aldermen so desired. Alderman Powers stated he was interested chiefly in the Stearns, Elliot and Lincoln schools, as the two latter are among the oldest buildings used for school purposes in this city. The former was built in the early '80s; the Lincoln School in 1854. Alderman Gallagher replied that no cuts had been made in the amounts specified for repairs on these schools. In the discussion which followed it was stated that although an amount might be provided to make repairs on one school this could be shifted to another school maintenance during the year, if such action were deemed wise by the Mayor and Buildings Commissioner. Alderman Powers inquired as to the value of the budget recommendations when such a policy is pursued.

Alderman Ball called attention to the fact that the Police Department budget provides for one less patrolman than last year. No appropriation was made for new motorcycles, but these may be purchased later when a reduction is agreed upon.

Alderman Chase asked regarding a reduction on insurance rates in this city when the new fire alarm signal system will have been completed. He was informed that the insurance underwriters demand a certain number of firemen on duty at all times as one of the conditions for lower rates. No additional men were provided for this year.

A new item appeared this year in the Welfare Department budget. This is $13,000 for Old Age Assistance and it is made necessary because of the new law which provides that any person over 70, who has been a resident of the State and city for a sufficient period, can obtain $8 weekly, if adjudged to be in needy circumstances.

Alderman Ball explained that this amount is a tentative figure and may have to be altered.

Referring to the School Department budget, President Collins stated that the average yearly salary increase is about $40,000, but this year it is much larger because of the new junior high school which will be opened at Newton Centre next September. Alderman Ball gave the information that the request from the School Committee for an appropriation of $9400 to provide free bath towels for pupils in the junior high and high schools was not included in the School Department budget. The Mayor has taken no action on this request. The School Committee thinks it is a hardship on certain pupils to ask them to pay 5 cents a week for a bath towel. The girl pupils bring their own towels. The boy pupils pay 5 cents each week to rent a towel. These towels are provided by a company engaged in this business.

Alderman Smith advocated an appropriation to provide a salary for a supervisor of penmanship in the Newton schools. He said the penmanship of boys and girls in the Newton high schools is deplorable. Alderman Ball gave Alderman Powers information he thought would please the latter when he stated that $500 was included in the budget of the Playground Department to provide equipment for Boyd Park playground. Alderman Powers replied that unless a suitable fence is built around this playground and to protect it any money expended on equipment there will be wasted.

A heated discussion arose over an item in the Street Department calling for $7700 to purchase two "electromagnetic" traffic signals. One of these is to be installed at the intersection of Walnut and Beacon streets, Newton Highlands, at a cost of $1400; the other would be placed at the intersection of Walnut and Watertown streets at a cost of $3300. Alderman Ball stated that at the request of a member these items would not be included in the budget, but would be acted upon at a later meeting. Alderman Murray did not favor the elimination of these items. He favored passing the figure specified in the budget for traffic signals and lights, and stated that the matter would be decided upon after a conference between the Mayor, chairman of the Finance and Public Works committees and the Traffic Committee.

Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the Traffic Committee, also opposed the elimination of these items from the budget. He called attention to the very dangerous condition at the intersection of Walnut and Watertown streets and the imperative need of protection there. He also mentioned the fact that State Route 123 was changed from Chestnut street to Walnut street at the request of persons residing on the former street.

Alderman Powers stated that the items had been omitted at his request and that he would raise a charter objection if any attempt were made to include them. He said he is not opposed to proper traffic signals at Watertown and Walnut streets, but can see no crying need for an expensive signal at Walnut and Beacon streets, which is wide open on all four corners. There is much more need for a protective signal at Beacon and Chestnut streets.

men voting against the Finance Committee's recommendation were—Gallagher, Murray, Howlett, Holden, Grebenstein and Powers.

Alderman Holden suggested that city employees in the Street, Sewer and Water departments be accorded the privilege of a day off with pay so that they can attend the funerals of relatives. Other classes of city employees now have this privilege.

The president advised that the "Dramatics" scheduled for February 9 would take place at a later date. Mrs. Virginia Jones, representing the Thomas Long Company, jewelers at 40 Summer street, Boston, gave a delightful lecture and demonstration on "The Romance of Silver and The Art of Table Setting." The silver and china used were exquisite, and the members were very much interested in the many lovely patterns of silver. Mrs. Jones demonstrated an informal dinner with one maid service.

Mrs. J. H. Connors was chairman of the evening.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands met on Tuesday afternoon, February 3, at 2.30 o'clock in the Parish House of the Congregational Church, with the president, Mrs. Harry P. Forte, presiding. It was voted to make the customary philanthropic disbursements, including, this year, $80 for the Newton Red Cross Drought Relief.

Following the business meeting, a musical program was rendered by Elcom, cellist, with Lucy Chase Simonds at the piano.

The Club was particularly fortunate in having as speaker of the day, Rev. Michael Ahern, S. J., Head of the Department of Chemistry and Geology, Weston College, whose subject was, "Does Science Menace Religion?" Graduated from college at the age of nineteen, Father Ahern later did graduate work in Austria and in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a prolific writer, and has spoken before many local organizations as well as organizations in other parts of the country. His affiliations with scientific bodies are many, including the American Geographical Society, the Geological Society of Boston, of which he is vice-president, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is past councillor of the American Chemical Society. Father Ahern, who is a brilliant speaker, held the close attention of his audience throughout his address, and those who heard him deemed it a rare privilege to be present.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Relaxation and the art of attaining it" was the keynote of Dr. Elwood Worcester's talk to the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, February 3, when he addressed that assembly in the parlors of the Central Congregational Church.

Dr. Worcester said in part that everyone has reserve forces within, from which to draw when the crises of life have to be met. That all are living at too high a tension and expend more energy than is necessary was also shown by him. The greatest practical thing in life is not to exert this energy unnecessarily. To be reconciled with one's life is one of the finest attainments of each one's existence.

At this time of hurry and high speed Dr. Worcester's subject "Living at Low Tension," brought helpful suggestions to everyone, and the period of relaxation at the close of the lecture rounded out the theme which he had conveyed during his talk.

The unique feature of the musical program was the Kindergarten Band of the Horace Mann School. The children, keeping perfect rhythm, and following their little teacher, played the selections which were announced from an improvised microphone. Miss Mary Bowers conducts this juvenile orchestra.

The Hospitality committee served tea, with Mrs. Le Seur T. Collins, Mrs. William B. Hanna and Miss Mary L. Rolfe in charge. Mrs. Raymond Lang, Mrs. Albert M. Lyon, and Mrs. Augustus Wakefield presided at the tea table.

Auburndale Review Club

Tuesday evening, February 3, was not only the Annual Guest Night, but also the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Auburndale Review Club. The chapel of the Congregational church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and had a gala day appearance, as the guests arrived, and were greeted by the president, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew. A mammoth birthday cake, surrounded by forty candles, attracted much attention. Among the guests of the evening were Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Horace B. Gale the twelfth district director, also Mrs. Whittemore and Mrs. Merriam from the Framingham Woman's Club. After a word of welcome had been given by Mrs. Drew, and brief responses from the guests, the entertainment of the evening was in charge of Mrs. Eugene U. Ufford.

Two members of the Club, Mrs. Nelson Freeman, and Mrs. Franklin Lealand, furnished piano duets and the vocal selections were by Mrs. Charles Briggs.

Mr. Nixon Waterman, author and poet, delighted the audience with readings from his own works. Especially his nature poems and homey subjects furnished variety, both grave and gay, which were much appreciated by his hearers.

Delicious refreshments were served during the Social Hour by "daughters of the Club" under the leadership of Miss Ruth Ufford.

A charter member, Mrs. William H. Blood, and a former president, Mrs. Arthur C. Farley, were the gracious hostesses at the serving table.

A nominating committee, consisting of Everett A. Greene, Mrs. H. W. Fitts and Rev. M. L. Bullock was appointed at the recent Executive Committee meeting.

Our District Executive Secretary, Miss Barker, was the speaker on the topic Adventures in Friendship, at the Young People's Forum at the Waltham Asbury Church last Sunday evening.

She is also teaching regularly on Tuesday afternoons at the Newtonville Week Day School of Religion, a week day enterprise in which several of the Newtonville churches are interested. THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"The Snowy Owl and a Few of His Cousins" is the title of an interesting motion picture to be shown at the Children's Museum of Boston this Saturday at 2:00. The picture shows these handsome, fluffy creatures in their summer and winter haunts and particularly in the winter scenes do they seem to be most appropriately named. Mounted birds will be on display with the film.

A great treat was enjoyed by members of the Indian Pow-Wow Club last week when members went in a group to a benefit performance of "The Silent Enemy" the motion picture of Indians facing the hardest foe to conquer—hunger.

OPPOSES FILLING IN CHARLES RIVER

Herbert J. Kellaway of Newton Centre, a member of the Planning Board of the City of Newton has a letter in the "Watertown Sun" last week which is reprinted here. The parkway extension referred to is that of the road which parallels the south bank of the Charles River from Faneuil to the foot of Maple street, Newton. The extension of this road along the river bank to the Galen street bridge in Watertown was authorized by last year's Legislature. The delay in this project has been occasioned by the fact that the appropriation for it was included with that for the other projects affecting the Charles River Basin—the big job to be done around the basin in Boston in conjunction with the Storrow donation and the road to be built along the river from Faneuil past the abattoir to North Brighton. The basin improvements in Boston have been held up because it has been estimated this work will cost over $1,000,000, more than originally estimated. Senator Hollis has been endeavoring to have the cost of the work in this section separated so that the extension to the Watertown bridge can be made.

Editor WATERTOWN SUN:

"At the suggestion of one of your fellow townsmen, I am sending you the following notes upon the proposed extension of the parkway upon the southerly side of the Charles River as it passes through Watertown. An account was given in your last issue of a hearing but it did not state the suggestions of the members present. It seems that the proposed plan of the former commission upon the development of the Charles River contemplated the filling in of the river as the proposed driveway extension enters Galen street near Galen street bridge. "There are several reasons that should be thought of in opposing such filling:

"1. It is the head of navigation and with the increasing use of the river and basin any contraction would be detrimental.

"2. It would destroy the natural beauty, now existing and preserved by purchase by the Commonwealth, by destroying the trees and shore as a setting for the stone-arched Galen street bridge.

"3. To bring the highway out to Galen street would only increase the congestion at the bridge as well as conflicting with the Elevated cars in their turning movements into the yard.

"In the past it was the idea of planning to secure as much as possible the beauty of the way as well as utility. Recent planning it seems to me, as I have observed it in various new projects, ignores the idea of beauty. Speed and hurried traffic is the watch word, not the preservation of the landscape for the enjoyment of this generation as well as future generations.

"To relieve the situation there seems to me to be an opportunity for co-operation on the part of three interested bodies, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, as represented by the District Commission, the Boston Elevated Railway, and the Town of Watertown, viz: The Commonwealth to secure the best for the use and beauty of a parkway, the Elevated to co-operate and adjust its traffic layout to permit of the carrying through of the parkway on proper lines and the Town of Watertown to see that what has been secured by past energetic efforts is not destroyed by hasty decisions, without proper co-ordination of all related interests.

"It may be said of the Elevated that they cannot move their tracks. From my observation I should say that the layout now existing is one of out-of-date, and is not in keeping with the modern trend and with the three-car trains should be made modern to accommodate the new traffic. For instance, the entrance should be moved away from the bridge so as to give proper visualization of the region for all forms of traffic. The buildings are in the times obsolete and in keeping with the trend in other yards should be torn down and replaced by smaller and more modern facilities. In a word, what the Elevated needs is more room.

"To abandon Water street by trading abutting property, would give added openness at the entrance and would eliminate the need for entrance so close to the Galen street bridge and leave room for the parkway to carry along the Charles River without filling as proposed.

"It would seem to me that the properties along the street suggested to be abandoned would be of such valuation that the owners would be willing to trade to secure some compensation for property that yields nothing or less than nothing. The buildings are antiquated and out of repair and if removed the only value would be in the land.

"If the Boston Elevated Railway would study its needs for future operation, in co-operation with the Town of Watertown, and in conference with the District Commission, all and each, the idea of co-operation and preserving the beauty as it now exists, they would all do a public service and be protectors of what all should desire for the future.

"In time the Elevated may move, by modern trend of transportation, and then the occupancy would be nobody knows what. The only thing that will be permanent will be the allotment of land that is taken now for the extension of the parkway upon the South side of the river.

"I trust your readers will endeavor to secure what is needed for the future of Watertown's beauty, as others have done in the past by making and keeping the Square one of beauty and openness.

Yours very truly,
HERBERT J. KELLAWAY.

When will Massachusetts realize that present day conditions demand that unanimous jury verdicts are in all too many cases the loophole for the defeat of justice. The time has come to change our jury system so that a three-fourths or two-thirds vote will determine the verdict.

EGYPTIAN THEATRE

Four exceptionally fine feature plays will be shown at the Egyptian Theatre, Brighton, during the coming week starting Sunday. The first part of the week the soul stirring drama "Passion Flower" with Kay Francis, Charles Bickford, Kay Johnson, and Lewis Stone, also the comedy hit, "Oh for a Man" will be shown.

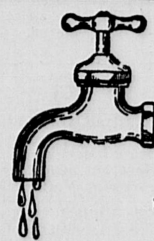

"Passion Flower" represents the cause of bitter unhappiness in many a home when a more attractive woman enters the scene, and "Oh for a Man" is one of the smartest, most sophisticated films which has come upon the screen for years.

The program for the last three days will be "The Blue Angel" with Marlene Dietrich and Emil Jannings and "The Cohens and Kelleys in Africa" with George Sidney and Charlie Murray. Marlene Dietrich is seen as the ravishingly beautiful cabaret player with whom Emil Jannings falls in love and marries. Their wedded life passes through a series of devastating events through no fault of the bride. "The Cohens and Kelleys in Africa" is a new comedy feature in which Murray and Sidney run rampant in scenes filled with laughs and thrills.

MIDDLESEX COURT, M. C. O. F.

Following the regular meeting an entertainment program will be enjoyed by the members of the Court. It is expected that some of the charter members and a number of Past Chief Rangers will be present. A collection will be served. Thomas Fitzgerald is chairman of the committee in charge.

Increase In County Tax Rate Due To Projects Planned For Coming Year

New Courthouse At West Newton And Other Work Expected To Relieve Unemployment Substantially

The Middlesex County tax rate for the coming year may be increased by 22 cents per $1,000 of valuation, the tax rate for this year being estimated at $1.59 as against $1.37 in 1930, according to a proposed budget of the Middlesex County Commissioners, Walter C. Wardwell, Erson B. Barlow, and Nathaniel I. Bowditch, which has been forwarded to the State director of accounts. The tax to be raised, $2,323,000, will be apportioned among the 54 cities and towns of the county, when authorized by the Legislature.

In return for this 22 cent increase Middlesex will receive substantial relief from the unemployment problem through an increase in public work, will continue to enjoy its "Pay as you go" policy, and will benefit by the greatest number of public improvements ever made in the county in a single year.

The enterprises upon which the Commissioners are now engaged, and which will furnish employment to many hundreds of workers, include the new $1,000,000 House of Correction at Billerica; The Tyngsboro bridge across the Merrimack River at Tyngsboro, in connection with which the Legislature requires the county to pay land damages and one-fourth of the cost of construction of a new bridge and its approaches; a new district court house for Newton, which legislation has required the Commissioners to build and for which an appropriation of $150,000 has been made; and a new district court house at Cambridge, legislation for which is now pending with a probable appropriation of approximately $400,000.

In addition to the new institutional and building work which is under way, the sum of $500,000 will be spent on the county highways to satisfy the public's demand for improved roads. This sum is $100,000 in excess of last year's appropriation and will give Middlesex some of the finest roads in the State. Agricultural aid will be given in the rural communities to the extent of $45,000, an increase of $6,000 over last year. This increase takes the place of the $10,000 formerly contributed by the cities and towns of the county.

Benefits to the county include the new Tuberculosis Hospital at Waltham which will be ready for use this year. Its erection was required by law at a sum which will be somewhat in excess of $2,000,000. It brings to Middlesex County one of the finest institutions of its kind in the country. The cost of this hospital is to be met by all of the cities and towns of the county except Cambridge and Lowell, which by law, each having over 100,000 population, provide their own hospitals.

The old House of Correction at East Cambridge, inadequate and in part unfit for use, was condemned last year when it was found that part of its foundations had given away. This institution has been repaired so that it will give service for many years to come as a jail and confinement place for short term prisoners, but about $140,000 had to be expended for this purpose.

Despite these many public improvements the county debt, the commissioners announce, is comparatively small, being at the present time but $1,080,500. Middlesex, the largest county in area and population in the entire United States, is, the commissioners say, in a very conservative and safe position and can well afford such items of improvement as may be found necessary by the Legislature and residents of the county.

The Commissioners' statistics show that the County's population, by census of 1930, is 934,924, and that its valuation for the purposes of taxation is $1,460,945,445. In estimating the amount to be raised by taxation this year the Commissioners found that the enterprises upon which they are now engaged, and the treasury balance depleted by a decline in fees from the courts and registry of deeds, will require approximately $326,000 more than last year. This accounts for the 22-cent increase.

This figure also includes expenditures of the courts which have shown an increase in costs which must be met and over which the Commissioners have very little control, as well as maintenance of the Walden Pond State Reservation.

W. C. T. U.

The February meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. was held in the beautiful Baptist Home, Chestnut Hill.

A most interesting address was given by Miss Edna B. Bagnall on the "Police Woman Movement," stressing the preventive nature of the work done.

The title, "Police Woman," is certainly a misnomer as there is nothing suggestive of the police about the little lady who acts as a sort of super-chapman at the commercial dance halls and a "big sister" on any and every occasion which calls for a sisterly interest.

The five Police Women of Boston are hardly enough to carry on the Protective Work adequately.

The regular meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Carl Enholm, 205 Beacon street, Newton Lower Falls on Monday evening, February 16 at 7:30.

Drought Relief Fund Increases

Newton Passes $19,000 Mark For Red Cross Work

Voluntary contributions to Newton's Drought Relief Fund have amounted to $19,000.

Every penny of this sum represents a freely offered gift and we can be justly proud of Newton's generous response to the call for $11,400. Newton has done its duty and more.

It will interest the people of Newton to know that there has been no house to house canvass for this amount—there has been no "drive" element in the collection of this money. The story of the Drought Disaster has been told by the Clergy, through the newspapers, radios, posters, etc., and the people of Newton have listened and understood.

The Newton Chapter of the Red Cross wishes that it were possible to list the names of those who have given to the Drought Fund. There have been 1389 responses in Newton and whether the gift has been "just a few pennies" (and some of our Newton children have emptied their banks for the sufferers) or a large gift of $1000 it has been genuinely appreciated.

There are months of hard work to be done by the Red Cross in the Drought Area—careful, constant work that calls upon every resource of the Red Cross organization financial and otherwise. Red Cross work is now well under way while political warfare still wages in Washington. The effect of the relief measures upon the sufferers is already apparent—we are told that many children have already begun to lose their "lean and hungry" looks and life is once more "worth living" for thousands who had begun to lose heart.

While we do not want to urge or press the people of Newton to give further to the Drought Relief Fund, we encourage those who have been tending to give and have not done so to send their contributions to the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, 12 Austin street, Newtonville. The amounts set as quotas are purely arbitrary and the Newton People's generosity in exceeding them will help the National Drought Fund where other localities have found it impossible to give the amounts expected from them.

Not a penny will be wasted. Every penny that has been given, or that will be given to the Drought Relief Fund will be sent to the Drought Area where it will be spent solely for the relief of suffering.

WEST NEWTON BOY SCOUTS ADOPT NOVEL METHODS

The boy scout troops of West Newton have adopted several novel methods of putting across their annual drive for funds now under way. The drive opened Wednesday with the distribution of a tabloid newspaper "The Scout Paper," which contained full details of the drive and acquainted the people of West Newton with the many contributions the scouts make to community development.

The major events of the drive will take place Friday evening. Early in the evening fathers and mothers will be guests of the scouts at a dinner in the auditorium of the Unitarian Church. Then the party will adjourn to the auditorium of the Levi Warren Junior High School where an entertainment program has been arranged. F. N. Blodgett will show his own moving pictures of big game hunting and salmon fishing in Alaska, an exhibition which is somewhat out of the ordinary because Mr. Blodgett and his companion, Lawrence Lombard, made the trip by airplane. The pictures will be followed by a boy scout play in which the entire cast will be composed of members of the troop, coached by Mrs. Joseph Fuller.

The moving pictures and the play will be repeated on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of all the boys in West Newton who are not members of scout troops. The drive for funds will start Sunday afternoon when 75 men will begin a house to house canvass of the entire district.

The West Newton scouts are divided into three groups, 7A, 7B and 7C, and they are directly affiliated with the Norumbega Council which supervises all scouting activities in the Newtons. Among the leaders in the drive for the $3,000 quota in West Newton are Maynard Hutchinson, president of the Norumbega Council, M. P. Gaddis, deputy scout commissioner and Davis B. DeBard, chairman of the scout committee of the West Newton Men's Club.

WARNING

It has been brought to the attention of the Executive Officers of Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, that solicitors have been in the city endeavoring to secure funds for veterans' welfare. Newton Post has not looked with kindly eyes on practices of this character, as it has always depended entirely upon its annual Welfare Concert to raise funds for its welfare work. Although business conditions throughout the world have been very bad, and the Welfare Fund has been called upon frequently to render assistance to unemployed veterans and their families, the Post has been able to carry on its work without making requests for funds from the public at the present time.

Newton Post of The American Legion wishes to bring this to the attention of the citizens of the city, and to advise that such solicitations are being carried on by those who are not connected with The American Legion.

Unemployment And Use Of Leisure Time Discussed At Conference

Speakers Present Different Angles Of Subject At Central Council Meeting

On Wednesday evening, February 4, the Newton Central Council held a Conference on the problems involved in the increased leisure of men and women due to unemployment, at the Y. M. C. A. in Newton.

A very pleasing opening of the meeting was the brief program of music by the All-Newton Music School. The quartette which played Anitra's Dance by Grieg and Minuet in G. by Beethoven, consisted of Miss Anna Kovitz and Miss Olivia Vuilleumier, violins, Miss Mary Puciarelli, viola, and Miss Ruth Mach, cello. Miss Kovitz then played a solo, Siciliano and Rigaudon Francoeur by Kreisler.

Mrs. Spear, President of the Council, introduced Mr. Young, Executive Secretary of the Mayor's Relief Committee. Mr. Young felt that the needs of the day laborer were being well taken care of, but that men of the salaried class were having the hardest time. It is a problem to keep a man's mind in the right attitude when he has to spend his time walking the streets of Boston in a useless search for work. Often such men are offered a job which turns out to be making up a list of customers for a bootlegger, which of course he cannot take. Mr. Young felt that the young man needed most of all a further training along his own line or direction toward some new type of work. If he learned even a little about carpentry, for instance, or the care of an automobile, it might be an asset at home, and would save, if not make, money.

Mr. Bascom of the Y. M. C. A. told of the meeting he had called at the Y. to find out how the men out of employment themselves felt about working and playing together in the mornings at the Y. About twenty men came to the meeting and expressed themselves on a questionnaire as being interested in lectures on the following subjects: economic problems, especially the business outlook, keeping mentally and physically fit, gardening, and one or two other lines, and as desiring organized classes in salesmanship, business English, civil service, and some other subjects.

Men were also interested in industrial and educational movies. The Y. is planning to offer some of these things, probably two mornings a week, followed by a recreational period with swimming, bowling, and other activities. Men coming to the first meeting of this group were anywhere from 16 to 69 years of age, and any age, Mr. Bascom said, could be included.

Miss Calista Roy spoke of the Americanization work going on under the school department. She had found out, that this year, there were a larger number of unemployed in the classes than ever before, and attendance had been remarkable, including a good many older men. Usually the attendance at the elementary evening school falls off after Christmas, but this year the classes were as full as ever at that time. It is hard, Miss Roy said, to make these men realize that citizenship cannot be bought, and that it takes more than 50 nights to become educated. The Federal Department is now very strict, and it is necessary that men should have the full training and all the help which the schools can give in order to pass their examinations.

Mr. Lucht of the Newton Library stated that the number of books being read in Newton averages three apiece for all who can read. This is a very high average. The circulation of the Library has risen not only the expected amount during the fall, but by leaps and bounds. New Bedford and Newton have for some time been running a race as to their circulation. During the strike in New Bedford they forged 60,000 ahead of Newton and were fourth in the state, while we were fifth. Now we are far ahead of New Bedford aiming toward Worcester. Mr. Lucht said that the Newton Library was ready to co-operate in every possible way to provide opportunities for the unemployed. The Library can provide reading material for special courses, and will open their halls in the main building, or in the branches at West Newton and Newton Centre for meetings or lectures. Travel talks or other lectures could be arranged by the Library, or an evening story hour, similar to that conducted by Mr. Cronin in Boston in Newton Upper Falls which has been such a great success.

Mr. Elicker of the Newton High School described the work of the schools in helping the unemployment situation. There are approximately 150 now in the High School who would not be there but for unemployment. Post graduate enrollment is twice as large as two years ago, by far the greater proportion being boys. Many of those who expected to work are back in school for full time, 50% in vocational courses. College intentions have been given up by many, and the tendency is toward typing and commercial subjects. There are more pupils than usual from needy homes unable to meet school expenses. More physical correction is needed, and there are more underweight pupils.

Mr. Murray of the Vocational Division of the High School spoke of the unprecedented number of pupils this year, as many as could possibly be taken care of with the present teaching force. The State Division of Vocational Education was called upon by the local communities to promote trade and technical training for which Federal funds can be used, Mr. Murray said. There is a special need to help men thrown out of work by technological changes. As an illustration Mr. Murray spoke of the fact that the old trade of blacksmith had given place to an entirely new process which requires a new type of training. When the Saco-Lowell factory decreased its force from 1200 to 250 it meant that 1-60th of the city's population had to find other jobs. Re-training and re-

HOW WE GET RID OF SPOTS AND STAINS

Few people realize that the dry-cleaning process merely removes the general soil and grease stains from fabric. All other stains must be individually treated.

What might remove a paint stain will not remove a stain caused by coffee, perspiration or blood. The spots caused by water, fruit, sugar, chili sauce require a different treatment from those due to ink or medicine.

It takes an expert eye to detect the character of each stain, experienced hands to work on the fabric, careful testing to be sure that what removes the stain will not also remove the color.

"Spotting" usually costs us more than the dry-cleaning does—and is one of the points at which "cheap" cleaners must obviously sacrifice quality craftsmanship.

A poor job of cleaning is remembered long after the price is forgotten.

For that reason our policy is to do the best and most thorough job we can to live up to the high standards that have built our reputation—and to charge a price that is reasonable to you and fair to us.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

THRILLING RACES AS NEWTON WINS

Newton high concluded its third consecutive undefeated dual meet indoor track season last week, Saturday, outscoring Brookline high on the Newton track, 51 to 26, and almost duplicated its trouncing of the Wealthy Towners on the latter's track two weeks previous to set a record total for the meets with Brookline, 103 2/3 to 59 1/3. It marks the first time that either Newton or Brookline has passed the century mark since the system of meeting each other in two meets, once on each home track, was established seven years ago. In the past six years each team has wound up with three victories and the 1931 romp puts the orange and black one up.

Despite the one-sidedness of last Saturday's score, the events furnished the spectators many thrills by the close finishes. Captain Milton Greene suffered his first defeat over the hurdles when he got away to a poor start and missed catching Littman, Brookline star, at the tape by inches only. Fred Varney of Brookline defeated Greene for the second time in three meetings in the high jump. However, Greene was the individual high scorer of the meet with 11 points, a first in the broad jump and seconds in the hurdles and high jump. Littman was the only double first place winner, leading his opponents in both the hurdles and 300.

The four finalists in the hurdles were Greene and Bradley of Newton and Littman and Paisner of Brookline. As mentioned, Greene got off poorly and at the tape Littman had a scant margin as Greene was gaining with each stride. Bradley of Newton took third.

The second upset took place in the dash when Sam Cohen, Brookline's best sprint man, was shut out in his trial heat. Johnson of Brookline clinched a place in his trial to qualify for the finals along with the three Newton runners, Holmes, Sloane and Irwin. The final was swept by the orange and black runners in that order with Irwin having a slight lead over Johnson, shutting Brookline out without a point in this event.

The 300-yard run was held in trials against time, three runners in each heat. Jim Cahill and Bob Bell of Newton were in the first heat with a Brookline entry. The Newton pair had things all their own way with Cahill breaking the tape a yard ahead of Bell. Cahill's time was 36 4/5 and Bell's 37 1/5. In the second heat Littman was the outstanding runner. He romped away to a big lead and broke the tape in 36 3/5 seconds to win the event. Cahill took second and Bell third. Had either of the Newton runners been the heat with Littman it is possible the record of 36 2/5 seconds for the track might have been shattered.

The 600-yard run was the best of the day. Captain Lindsay Brigham of Brookline, the favorite, was expected to win about as he pleased. Coach Enoch of Newton had three runners entered with the hope that one of them might come through. Al Guzzi, Dick Jarrell and Douglas Chalmers were the local trio. Coach Holmes of Brookline entered Tilton, his best 1000-yarder who failed to place in that event which Newton swept at Brookline, in order to pick up a possible point or more in the 600. The field soon strung out with Jarrell setting the pace and the boys' four runners mentioned close behind him.

Two laps from home Guzzi decided to go out in front just about the same time that Brigham decided to do the same. Passing Jarrell on the back stretch Guzzi took the pole and Brigham drew up at his side. Shoulder to shoulder they raced around on the gun lap with Guzzi fighting off every attempt made by Brigham to take the lead. As they came to the tape Brigham gave all he had to break the tape inches ahead of Guzzi in the fast time of 1m 21 3/5. Chalmers came up fast to take third place ahead of Tilton while Jarrell faded on the final lap.

The 1000-yard run wound up with an unusual finish. With the Signore brothers out with heavy colds, Coach Enoch pinned his faith on Arthur Quincy and Riley to aid George Lamb against the Brookline runners. Lamb set the pace all the way until the last thirty yards of the race. Here he slowed down to a jog to let Quincy and Riley score points towards their letters. Encouraging them as they came off the last bank he looked back to see Ted Carey of Brookline coming in fast and passing Riley. Like a scared rabbit he dived for the tape ahead of Carey and nearly catching Quincy. Quincy was awarded first, Lamb second and Carey third.

In the shot put Jim Colligan, who also has been under the weather recently, tossed the weight 46 ft. 1/2 in. to win. Schwartz of Brookline came through to take second ahead of his teammate Lourie, third. Holmes of Newton, who took third in this event at Brookline, failed to place.

Newton swept the broad jump with Greene making 9 ft. 9 3/4 in. to win and Johnson and Marriner, both of Newton, second and third. Plotkin of Brookline was a scant half inch behind Marriner.

The high jump was another dual between Varney and Greene with the former clearing 5 ft. 8 1/2 in. and Greene failing. Hall and Schwartz of Brookline tied for third.

Coach Enoch sent a fast relay team to oppose the Brookline quartet. Douglas Sloane led off and handed over a lead of a few yards to Bell. Bell increased it slightly and Cahill who followed, added more, so that Bradley, the Newton anchor, had a comfortable lead which he held against Paisner, Brookline anchor.

TRIPLE TIE IN CATHOLIC LEAGUE

The Catholic High School basketball league began its second round this week with Our Lady High of Newton, St. Charles of Waltham and Cathedral High of South Boston deadlocked in a triple tie for first place. As all three of these teams defeated their opponents on Tuesday the tie exists today. This afternoon another set of games is on the schedule with the three pace-setters meeting teams lower down the ladder and each is expected to come through with flying colors. At the start of the season these teams, with Mission High of Roxbury, were seeded when the schedule was drawn up so that the final outcome of the race would be undecided until the final games.

Two weeks ago Our Lady High nosed St. Charles on the Newton floor by a solitary point, 26 to 25 but in turn was defeated by Cathedral high on the latter's floor. Last week Friday St. Charles took its crucial game from Cathedral high at Waltham and climbed back into the running. The Watch City outfit not only turned back the visitors but sent them smarting under the 53 to 24 trouncing. Faced with the necessity of winning in order to stay in the race Everett Gallant, St. Charles leading scorer, showed his teammates the way and at the end of the first quarter St. Charles led by a score of 11 to 2. All of St. Charles' points up to that time were scored by Gallant. Gallant was the high scorer of the game with 22 points and was closely followed by his own forward mate, Dennis with 16. George Dexter, centre, was next with 12 while H. Morris of Cathedral led his team with 11.

Tuesday afternoon at the St. Mary's School court in Brookline the Our Lady High five scored a 56 to 27 win to stay in the triple tie. Edward Gallagher, Our Lady High and league leader, scored 23 points for the team with 13 field goals and 6 successful tries on fouls to total 32 of his team's points. Rea of St. Mary's with 14 and Moran, Our Lady centre, with ten were the only others to score in double figures. Cathedral also stayed on top by trouncing St. Clement's high of Medford, 35 to 11, while St. Charles, led by an easy victor over Immaculate Conception high of Revere. In the other game Mission high defeated St. John's of Cambridge.

The league standing to date:

WESTBORO AND SOMERVILLE WIN

The basketball teams of Westboro and Somerville High Schools chalked up victories over the Newton high quintet in games during the past week. Westboro took the locals into camp at Westboro last Friday afternoon, 25 to 20 and Somerville topped the orange and black in a Suburban league set-to on Tuesday afternoon, 28 to 15. In both games the Newton quintet saw their opponents take a commanding lead in the first half and then endeavored vainly to make it up in the second half. Although in both games the Newton team came with a rush the handicap was too great.

At Westboro the first half ended with the home team out in front, 17 to 8, with Bliss, star forward, caging fourteen of his team's points. In the second half the Newton team outscored the Westboro players 12 to 8, and covered Bliss completely. Seaver and Huston led for Newton with Jones and Wetherbee close behind.

Taking it on the chin Somerville pushed the local five still further into the cellar of the Suburban league standing while the victory enabled the Dickerson coached outfit to draw into a tie for the lead. Newton had considerable hard luck on many of their shots throughout the game. Frequently the ball would rim the basket only to fall outside. On the other hand, Somerville's shots swished through the net without touching the rim. At half time Somerville led, 16 to 4. In the second half Newton played the way. He was high point scorer of the game with 13 points. In the second half Newton showed some excellent handling of the ball and caged several baskets to close the gap up considerably but not enough to threaten the visitors. Seaver, Huston and Wetherbee led to score 14 of Newton's points.

Rindge Shades Newton

In a sea-saw basketball game at Rindge yesterday afternoon the Rindge team eked out a 28 to 26 victory over the Newton high team with a last-second basket. The victory put Rindge in the lead in the Suburban league race. Newton had a decided edge during the first half, leading 19 to 12 when the whistle blew, but the home team put on a flashy spurt to close the margin to 19 to 18. A basket by Paglierani put Rindge one up but Bob Seaver tossed one in to transpose the margin. Warren Huston caged another and Burbul of Rindge kept his team in the lead with a pretty shot. Huston caged a free try to make the lead two points shortly before Paglierani arched one in to knot the count at 24 all. Burbul took a shot from scrimmage under the net to give Rindge the lead again. With less than a minute to play Wetherbee missed a tough one for Newton on a pass from Huston under the basket. Rindge began to stall. Seaver intercepted a Rindge pass at mid-court and looped the ball in with a long shot. As the timekeeper lifted the

NEARING END OF HOCKEY SEASON

Tomorrow afternoon at the Boston Garden the Newton high school hockey team will end the 1931 season in a Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League game. Although a number of games have been postponed because of lack of an available ice surface it is expected that no attempt will be made to play off these games which would have no effect upon the championship ship which has been virtually clinched by Melrose High.

In the games at the Garden last Saturday Melrose High shut out Newton, 4 to 0. After the game a number of rabid Melrose hockey fans, not schoolboys, followed the players on the Newton squad to the dressing room in an attempt to mix things up with a couple of them whom they thought had treated the Melrose players too roughly. Officers broke up the attempt, however, and escorted the Newton squad out the rear entrance to waiting automobiles.

Melrose played its customary fast and furious game that brought scores in every session, two coming in the first period to set the total at four. In the opening period Keough, the Melrose star, took a bad toss against the post when the Newton defence stopped him but came back a few minutes later to take another shot which Rex Kidd of Melrose took on the rebound to start the scoring. Just before the end of the period Skillings made a pretty save of another shot by Keough but Donovan slapped it in from the side. In the second period while two Newton players were in the penalty box Keough got his tally on a pass from Kidd who carried the puck around in back of the Newton net to pass out into the open to his teammates.

Although Melrose was shy three men at the opening of the third period Newton failed to get going, largely through the efforts of the same Keough. Midway through the session Keough let loose a sizzling shot from the blue line which the Newton goalie never saw.

Newton and the Harvard seconds staged a game at the Boston Garden Wednesday afternoon, one of a doubleheader in which the other game saw the Harvard freshman shutting out Andover, 4 to 0. The Crimson seconds scored in each of the first two periods and Newton tallied in the final session to place the final score at 2 to 2 for the collegians. It was a fast game throughout. With Harvard leading 1 to 0, Walter Blackler drove a shot at the Crimson goalie at the start of the second period that nearly took the latter off his skates but he managed to keep the disc out of the cage. Midway through the session McKinnon of Harvard nabbed a loose disc from scrimmage in front of the Newton net and tucked it away for what proved to be the winning counter. In the third session Charlie Butler got through the Crimson defence but lost the rubber after getting clear. A moment later Al Mason, sub-defence for Sostillo, came down the centre lane and caged the puck with a screaming shot from inside the defence to save a shut out.

Arlington Wins

Newton High dropped to fifth place in the league standing yesterday as the result of a 1 to 0 defeat by Arlington High in the play-off of a postponed game at Bullough's pond. Arlington moved into second place. The game was a close battle throughout and it was not until three minutes of an overtime session had been played that John Lax, Arlington forward, drove home the puck to win. Skillings staved off earlier defeat many times by brilliant saves while Warren Colby and Walter Blackler, aggressive Newton forwards, were thwarted in valiant attempts to put Newton ahead.

The league standing today:

Final plans are being completed for the exhibition game on the afternoon of the 23rd at the Arena between teams representing the Boston and Greater Boston schools. Announcement was made this week of the selection of fifteen players to represent Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League. Two Newton players have been named on the squad which will be coached in practice sessions to be held at the game by Coach Harold Poole of Melrose. Charles Butler, six-foot, five inch, Newton defence player, will be in the right defence position on the second team, and Warren Colby, Newton first string wing, will be on the third forward line. The players named are: Team A—Ford, Belmont, lw; Keough, Melrose, c; Roche, Stonham, rw; Sarasky, Rindge, ld; Kidd, Melrose (Capt.), rd; Nickerson, Arlington, gm; Team B—McCarthy, Arlington, gm; Bourneuf, Melrose, c; Donovan, Melrose, rw; Reardon, Cambridge, Latin, ld; Butler, Newton, rd; Pounder, Belmont, goal. Spare forwards—Colby, Newton; Lax, Arlington; Murphy, Belmont. The members of the three forward lines have been among the high scorers in the league for the season and there is little to choose between them. Reardon and Butler, the second team defence play-whistle to his lips Captain Deluse of Rindge took a long shot from near the centre of the floor that swished through the net for the winning points.

Although Dr. Martin, coach of the Newton high team, will lose a number of his best players through graduation next June there will remain a nucleus for a team that should be well up in the 1932 league race. Warren Colby, Francis Chase, and Dick Kelley, Newton's first forward line, will graduate as will Captain George Hildreth, second line forward. This will leave the Newton coach a forward line of Carvelli, Blackler and Campagne. On the defence Butler will be lost and Sostillo will be on hand again. Paul Andres, brother of Harold and Phil, both well known in high school athletics in recent years, will make a bid for Butler's berth. Both Skillings and Robinson will stage another battle to hold down the berth in the net.

SPORT NOTES

Town Team Loses

The Newton Town Team lost a 4 to 0 game to the North Cambridge T. T. on the Bullough's pond rink last Friday night.

Harvard in First Defeat

The Harvard varsity hockey team suffered its first defeat in ten games Wednesday night when the University Club scored a 2 to 1 victory over the collegians. The Crimson, with John Garrison and Wilson Crosby, both West Newton youths, in its lineup, was playing its first game in more than three weeks due to the mid-year layoff and failed to show its early season smoothness.

Yale Wins Another

Yale defeated the St. Nicholas Club of New York in a hockey game at New Haven Wednesday, 5 to 1. Alie Fletcher, Newton lad on the Eli squad, was in his usual place at right wing. The return of Captain Frank Luce to the Eli line-up after a layoff due to an injury, has reduced Fletcher and the other players on the forward line with him to a reserve rating as the Eli coach is keeping his forward lines intact. Luce with two others now make up the starting forward line.

In Olympic Competition

Of the twenty-four teams entered in the elimination series for the selection of the hockey team to represent the eastern district in the Olympic competition next winter to determine the U. S. representative against the rest of the world local athletes are competing on four, the Nonantum A. A. Newton Town Team, Brae-Burn Country Club and the University Club of Boston. The latter is made up of ex-collegians, several of whom once wore the colors of Newton high school. The Nonantum A. A. and Newton Town Team are made up largely of former high school players. The Nonantum A. A. will be the first of the quartet to get into action as it drew Feb. 17 for its opening game and Lexington Hockey Club for its opponent. The remaining first-round matches will be played on Feb. 20th. University Club will meet the Haverhill H. C. Brae Burn will meet the Quincy H. C. and the Newton Town Team will meet St. Thomas C. L. and A. A. The games will be played at the Arena.

B. U. Gains Second Round

Boston University gained the second round in the Olympic New England area last Friday by defeating Northeastern University at the Arena, 4 to 3. Holmes Whotmore of Newton Highlands scored one of the Terrier goals.

On Terrier Yearling Team

Two Newton youths are on the Boston University freshman track squad which met the Dean Academy runners yesterday afternoon. Ken Slade is a 1000-yard runner and John Grist is a high jumper. Grist graduated from Newton high last June but was ineligible to compete on the orange and black teams due to the transfer rule. He came to Newton from New Jersey.

NEWTON HIGH IN B.A.A. SCHOOL MEET

The Newton high track team will be entered in the annual B. A. A. schoolboy meet at the Boston Arena tomorrow afternoon. The local team, through its triumph at the Northeastern University Interscholastics two weeks ago and by reason of its feat in winding up its third straight undefeated dual meet season last Saturday, is expected to cut quite a figure in the outcome of the meet. While it would not be an altogether surprising feat to have the orange and black come through on top such an outcome would be considered a big upset. The presence of the strongest prep school teams in this section of the country is sufficient reason to feel assured that the title will be won by one of this group. Worcester Academy is the defending champion of the 1930 meet but Huntington school of Boston has an exceptionally strong outfit that should press them all to the limit. If the Newton boys are at their best the orange and black will score points in more than one event.

Captain Milton Greene is expected to be one of the leading contenders in the high hurdles although lack of experience may handicap him to some extent in this event. The high barriers are not run in the various high school meets but are a part of most prep school programs. Greene has been practicing over the high barriers the past few weeks and has been turning in some fine performances.

Walter Holmes, Newton's star negro dash man, may not be an entry when the final call is issued. He suffered a slight muscle strain a few days ago which may cause him to hold him out in order that he may be in shape for the Andover meet the following Saturday. He only practiced once last week and then won the dash against Brookline. He was on deck again for one practice session this week and will be looked over carefully tomorrow before being given permission to run.

George Lamb looks good for a place in the 1000-yard run and should he finish well it will mean a lot to the Newton cause, especially if Greene should also come through in the hurdles. Greene may also divide a fraction of a point with others in the usual split in the high jump. Colligan has been under the weather with an attack of the gripe but shook it off long enough to win the shot put against Brookline last Saturday. If he returns to form he may edge in with a point or two in the shot put. Al Guzzi's running in the 600 last Saturday against Captain Lindsay Brigham of Brookline stamps him as a runner who will have to be counted in near the finish if he duplicates his feat in the future. It took every bit of running that Brigham had to nose the Newton youngster out at the tape.

It is highly probable that Guzzi will be withheld from the 600-yard run and used as one of the quartet in the mile relay. Coach Enoch has held a series of time trials over the 440-yard distance each man will run in the race against Brookline and although undecided as to his final choice will choose from the five following runners. Guzzi, Jim Cahill, Robert Bell, Dick Jarrell and Doug Chalmers. Should Cahill be the runner not selected he will probably run in the 300 and if Guzzi is the odd man he will enter the 600. With a quartet picked from these five runners the orange and black is expected to place well up in the division of the relay points and if the individual Newton stars come through the orange and black is going to come pretty close, dying above the colors of the other schools entered when the day is over.

Frank Spain has been elected to the capacity of the Dartmouth freshman hockey team which has been undefeated to date.

POLICE NEWS

John A. O'Halloran, 27, of Florida street, Dorchester was in the Newton court on Monday charged with falsely assuming to be a constable of Newton and also falsely assuming to be a deputy-sheriff of Middlesex County. O'Halloran is connected with a Boston bill collecting firm and it is alleged that he has been posing as a constable and deputy-sheriff in this city to add him in his work. On February 5th, a complaint came to police headquarters that he was at a garage in Auburndale. Inspector King, Special Officers Feeley and Mullen and Deputy Sheriff Ricker went to the place and arrested O'Halloran. He was wearing a badge signifying that he was a Boston constable. According to the police, he had no right to wear this badge as he is not now a constable of Boston. His case was continued to February 14.

Burglars entered the home of John Fuller, 43 Evergreen avenue, Auburndale on Sunday evening and looted the house, taking jewelry and money. Entrance was effected by forcing a rear door. The theft was performed while members of the family were absent from the house.

A squad of police headed by Serge. Crowley and Sheridan raided the home of Mrs. Maria Cieskinski at 97 Linden street, Newton Upper Falls on Saturday night and seized 33 quarts of beer, 2½ gallons of alcohol, empty bottles and jugs. The woman was arrested charged with having made an illegal sale of liquor and with keeping and exposing liquor for sale. She appeared in the Newton court on Monday and her trial was continued to February 14.

Nelson Collier, 18, of Massolt street, Waltham, was arrested by the police of that city last Friday after the youth's father had brought to the police headquarters there two revolvers which he found in the cellar of his home. A policeman accompanied Mr. Collier to his residence and arrested young Collier who attempted to flee when he saw the officer approaching. In the Waltham court on Saturday young Collier was charged with breaking and entering the store of James King at 12 Warren street, that city. The youth stated that he had stolen the revolvers from the Pulsifer house on Islington road, Auburndale. This burglary occurred several weeks ago. Collier was held for the Grand Jury.

Philip Souly, 24, of Temple street, Boston, arrested by the Belmont police has admitted burglarizing two houses in this city. The places entered were the homes of Charles Hutchins, 330 Waverley avenue, Newton and James Connors, 127 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill. Entrance was effected by climbing back porches. Occupants of the Hutchins home entered while Souly was there and he fled. From the Connors home he took a platinum bracelet and a gold pin.

John Maloney of 1071 Beacon street, Newton Centre complained to the Newton police on Friday last that he had been bitten by a dog owned by Jeremiah Sullivan of Garland road. The dog was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle notified to examine it.

On Sunday evening, Feb. 8th, five pocketbooks were stolen from coats of women choir members at the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. The coats were in the choir room while their owners were participating in services. On Monday, the five pocketbooks, minus the money they had contained, were found at the rear of Weed's Garage on Washington street, Newtonville.

Richard Conroy, former special officer in the Newton Police Department, who was serving as an assistant in the office of the Clerk of the Newton District Court.

Tuesday night Special Officer Feeley went to the home of Wilfred Fougere, 81 Dalby street, Nonantum, with a warrant for Fougere's arrest on the charge of concealing stolen goods. A radio concern in Boston had complained that he had purchased a set, and had refused to give up the radio when payments were not met. In addition to the radio, Feeley found plenty of liquor in the house so he obtained a search warrant and returned with Serg. Mahoney and a squad of police to seize the wet goods. The contraband included 63 quarts of beer, 16 pint bottles of the same beverage, 10 gallons of the alleged malt liquor, four pints of supposed whiskey, 2½ ounces of anisee, one ounce of oil of juniper, 130 empty bottles, and other articles used in dispensing liquor. Fougere was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with keeping and exposing liquor for sale. His case was continued to February 26th on the charge of concealing stolen goods. On the same charge he was placed on probation until August 8.

Mrs. Julia Coleman of 171 Orchard street, Belmont, was fined $10 in the Newton court on Wednesday for speeding. Patrolman O'Donnell testified that she turned out near the traffic signal at Washington street and Commonwealth avenue and passed him at a high rate of speed. O'Donnell pursued her until the Wellesley line had been crossed and estimated the speed she was driving at 42 miles an hour.

Inspector Goode went to Providence on Tuesday and returned with Mrs. Annie DeVecchio of Tiber street, Providence. The woman formerly resided at Nonantum and a complaint was made to the police that she had left her husband, James DeVecchio, gone to Providence to live with a sister and had taken jewelry belonging to her step-daughter. Her case will be tried today.

The Boy Scout organization celebrated its 21st birthday this week. During its youth this movement accomplished a great deal of good and now that it has grown to "manhood" it is accomplishing even more among the many thousands who have been associated with the movement. The scouts upon which the organization based its start are taking their places in national, state and community life and reflecting the teaching of Scouting in many beneficial ways.

One of our readers facetiously remarks that it would be a fine thing to extend Hall street across Centre street to Washington street as recently recommended in a survey of the Newton Corner section as it would make certain the removal of a political poster, relic of the last primary campaign for the Republican nomination for Senator, in which the subject of the poster was the unsuccessful "wet" candidate.

The community suffers a distinct loss in the passing of Dr. Frank R. Stubbs. For many years he has given faithful service in the interests of medical science.

Thirty-six more days and Spring will be here.

Friday, the thirteenth. Watch out!

BRIDGE AND WHIST AT WALNUT PARK SCHOOL

Curley, Mr. Edward O'Shea, Mr. Joseph Monahan, Mr. William Bannan, Mr. Arthur Keefe, Mr. George Cronin, Mr. John Dempsey, Mr. William McCarthy, Mr. M. J. McCartin, Dr. Frederick W. O'Brien, Mr. Edwin Birtwell, Mr. William St. George, Mr. William Bennett, Mr. James R. Everett, Mr. Joseph A. Leary, Dr. Joseph V. Stanton, Judge P. Sarsfield Cummin, Joseph Keefe, Frank H. Stuart, Thomas F. Delaney, Fred O'Sullivan, Mr. C. H. Pollock, Mr. James P. Gallagher, and Edward Malone.

HAMMER HITS UPPER FALLS MAN

Paul Malkasian, 38, of Cheney St., Upper Falls, had a narrow escape several days ago while working with a crew of Newton men on the unemployment relief activity at the Nobscoot Boy Scout reservation in Sudbury. A heavy sledge hammer slipped from the hands of another workman who was driving a wedge in a log, hurled through the air a several feet and struck Malkasian a glancing blow on the right side of the head. He was treated by a Framingham physician and then returned to work. On last Friday he was sent to the Newton Hospital for examination and it was found he had escaped serious injury.

Facts About Newton

The article this week is the second of a series on different institutions and matters of interest to every citizen. It is also the second of the group pertaining to the Newton Hospital.

Thousands Cared for by Newton Hospital in the Year 1930

In the year 1930, there were 4,751 patients treated in the wards and private rooms of the Newton Hospital. The average length of time these 4,751 patients were in the Hospital was 11.35 days. There were also 692 babies born at the Hospital during 1930.

But in addition, the Newton Hospital performed other services during 1930 for persons who did not become patients within the Hospital, as shown by the following:

900 patients were treated in the Accident Wards
2,407 patients were treated in the X-Ray Department
2,049 patients were treated in the Out-Patient Department.

Altogether, therefore, the Newton Hospital in 1930 rendered service to 10,117 persons. Furthermore, 22,000 tests of various kinds were made in the Hospital Laboratory; and 945 calls were made upon people in their homes and elsewhere by the social service worker to take the service of the Hospital to those who needed it.

In the recent campaign for new and better buildings and more up-to-date equipment for the Newton Hospital, 7,000 people contributed $1,452,000. The Trustees of the Hospital hope that each one of these citizens will also give something each year for the care of the thousands who go to the Hospital and who cannot pay for the care they receive.

The real reason why the Newton Hospital does not take in as much money from its patients as it costs to operate the Hospital is the fact that more than half its patients are unable to pay the cost of the service they receive. In fact, many of the patients of necessity pay nothing at all, and many more pay only part of the cost.

During the years 1926-1929, money raising efforts were concentrated in the building fund which has made possible the new and improved and enlarged Newton Hospital. The operating deficit for the years 1926-1927 was included in the Building Fund, but no general effort has been made until now to secure gifts to meet the operating deficits of the years 1928-1929-1930. The amount of the deficit for these three years is approximately $75,000. It represents service rendered during these years to patients who were unable to pay its full cost.

During the past few years the population of Newton has been increasing very rapidly. It is now approximately 65,000. In addition, Wellesley with its population of 10,000 has allied itself with Newton Hospital and now participates in its management and receives its services on the same terms and conditions as do the people of Newton. Altogether, therefore, there are now 75,000 people directly dependent on Newton Hospital and responsible for its support.

It is not possible to appeal intelligently and successfully to 75,000 people through an intensive campaign of two or three weeks and a Hospital Sunday as in the earlier days when the number of people to be considered was scarcely more than half the present number. Other large and progressive hospitals maintain subscription of fees the year around, and through them send out information concerning the work and needs of the hospitals to all who may be looked to for their support. The Trustees have become convinced that this kind of procedure is now necessary for Newton Hospital. Accordingly there has been organized at the Newton Hospital a subscription office. Throughout the year this office will issue bulletins concerning the Hospital, which will tell of its work and its need for financial assistance. Once each year, and only once, it will ask every family in Newton and Wellesley to contribute to its support. The new method of soliciting is now beginning and is proving very successful.

We do not doubt that there are thousands of individuals who wish to support the Hospital and who will do so if its story and its need are intelligently and persistently presented to them. We expect that the rich and well-to-do will be no less generous than they have been in the past. We expect that the people of moderate means will likewise make their contributions in much larger number than heretofore. We ask, therefore, for the co-operation of all in order that the burden may not be excessive for any one.

In no case is service ever denied or curtailed because of the financial inability of the applicant.

CHARLES E. KELSEY,
President.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

This is the busiest time of year for the various committees. The number of bills, as was stated previously, is the second largest grist on record. Notwithstanding that fact both branches have made marked progress. The committees are sitting daily but there are so many matters to be considered that it will be well into March before the end of public hearings is in sight.

The speed with which the Governor's special unemployment message was handled by the two branches showed a genuine spirit of co-operation. Last week Friday the Governor sent in a special message for the immediate appropriation out of current funds of approximately $106,000 to put people to work in various State departments and other employment connected with the State. Included were some 15 or 20 "white collar" jobs, so-called, which meant clerical work in the statistical department. The Governor's special message for this appropriation came at the end of the week so that no action could be taken at once. However, on the following Monday morning the Joint Ways and Means met and without delay replied favorably to a bill covering all the Governor asked. Equally anxious to co-operate, both branches suspended their rules and sent the bill along as rapidly as possible.

A gathering of unemployed marched on the State House last Tuesday. If they expected to be refused admittance they were disappointed for Gov. Ely ordered the committee of the gathering enter his office for a conference. The spectacular demonstration on the Common was abruptly ended by the police. Soon after Governor Ely had a plain, straightforward talk with three of their leaders and expressed clearly his sympathy and also his views as to what could and what could not be done under existing circumstances.

The Legislative Committee on State Administration, of which Representative Luitwieler is House chairman, reported "leave to withdraw" on the petition of Armand C. Bang of Newton and Gilbert H. Haigh of Worcester for the creation of a department of public medicine to take over the duties of the State department of health and mental diseases and the activities of the State departments of public welfare and industrial accidents.

The social side of the General Court was pleasantly revealed last evening when Gov. and Mrs. Ely gave a reception to members of both branches and to justices of the Supreme and Superior courts.

Among the nominations submitted by Governor Ely to the Executive Council Wednesday were the reappointments of Thomas F. Dolan of this city as trustee of the Westboro State Hospital and George W. Gay of this city as a trustee of the Wrentham State school.

The proposed Greater Boston bills have been reported "reference to the next annual session" by the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs. One of these was on petition of Mayor Curley of Boston and the other on petition of Prof. Beale of Harvard. The committee, it is understood, took this early action because the general sentiment of its members was that this was not an appropriate year in which to take up this matter. Furthermore, there was little doubt as to the distinct opposition to the scheme on the part of other cities and towns. The committee has not yet taken up the Boston Elevated public control legislation or the Charles River basin bill in which matter Newton is interested. Several matters affecting the Metropolitan district and involving the expenditure of money were turned down this week by the committee.

NORUMBEGA CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

An Intermediate Rally will be held Saturday afternoon at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, Newton, 2:30 P. M. under the direction of Mrs. Rose Kinney. Rev. Everett Washburn of Cambridge will speak on "The Cost of Many Colors." Conferences on various phases of young peoples' work will be followed by a Valentine Social led by Miss Charlotte Goddard, recreation chairman of the Middlesex County C. E. Union. If your church has no Intermediate Society, why not invite some of the young people of Intermediate age (12-15) to this meeting.

Ten pastors of the Norumbega Union brought greetings to 135 Endeavorers assembled Tuesday night at the Waltham First Baptist Church. Among the speakers were Rev. E. E. Bachelder of the North Congregational Church, Rev. John S. Franklin of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton and Rev. Arthur Wild of the Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church. Mr. Bachelder told of his work as pastoral counselor of the Utah C. E. Union and of the task the young people have among the Mormons of that district. Mr. Franklin praised the work of Christian Endeavor and Mr. Wild gave one of two summing up talks. Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church was awarded the gavel for having second best attendance during the month, the Fellowship Cup and shield going to Waverley Baptist church for the best attendance.

BUS AND AUTO COLLIDE

A New York to Boston bus, owned by the Eastern Stages Company and operated by Harry Doherty of Boston, and an automobile operated by Eugene Dolsneau of Washington avenue, Auburndale, collided at 6:50 yesterday morning at Beacon and Hammond streets, Chestnut Hill. Dolsneau was cut by broken glass and was taken to the Newton Hospital by Albert Bartol of Washington street, West Newton. The big bus was disabled and eight passengers in it shaken up. Dolsneau had a severe cut over his right eye, necessitating seven stitches to close it. He received injuries to his back also.

AMERICAN WAR MOTHERS TO MEET

The February meeting of Greater Boston Chapter, which includes members from Newton and Dedham, will be held Tuesday, February 24th at 2 o'clock at Faneuil Hall, Boston. No more fitting place could possibly be conceived of than this, "the Nation's Cradle of Liberty," for the meetings of this chapter of American War Mothers, who will in the future hold their monthly meetings there on the fourth Tuesday of each month at 2 o'clock. As marking this momentous occasion of the first meeting in Faneuil Hall, His Excellency, Governor Joseph B. Ely of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and His Honor James M. Curley Mayor of Boston, are among the guests who have been invited to be present to greet the Gold Star Mothers of the men or women who gave their all; the Silver Star Mothers whose sons or daughters were wounded in service; and the Blue Star Mothers whose sons or daughters came back to them unharmed; all of those mothers being eligible for membership in this wonderful organization are invited to come to this meeting and enroll if they so desire. It is especially hoped that all Massachusetts Gold Star Mothers who are eligible for the Pilgrimage to France this year or next, will attend to be helped in perfecting their plans with Mrs. Mabel E. Luke, State Chairman of Gold Star Mothers' Pilgrimage and State Corresponding Secretary.

Mrs. Virgil McClure of Lexington, Kentucky, National President of American War Mothers, was one of the two Vice Presidents who presided at the Defense Conference in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Archibald Jordan of Winchester, State Chairman of D. A. R. Committee on National Defense, who has returned from assisting in the Great Washington Conference will bring a message of much interest to the meeting of this patriotic group. The President, Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis of Newton, was a delegate to the National Defense Conference where she served on the National Resolutions Committee, representing Massachusetts American War Mothers.

The Biennial Convention of National Chapter of American War Mothers, will be held at Long Beach, California, in late September 1931. For this, Railroads will probably make special rates, and it is hoped many mothers, their families and friends will be able to attend and visit beautiful California, and the many marvelous sights along the way.

Medford, representing the Federation of State, City and Town Employees; James Moriarty of Boston and James O'Connell, F. W. Smith and Eugene Sweeney of Brockton, representing the American Federation of Labor. Dr. Kling of the Department of Mental Diseases opposed the bill. Most public employees favor the measure. The practice of a number of public employees throughout the State, men with permanent jobs, whose annual income from their regular job is much more than the average working man, doing other work for pay and thus preventing men out of work from obtaining much needed relief, has aroused widespread indignation among working men in general.

In the Waltham court yesterday Inspector Torpey of the Registry of Motor Vehicles asked for a complaint against Charles J. Paine of Old road, Weston on the charge that Paine flew his airplane at heights lower than the law allows over portions of Weston and Newton. Complaints have been coming in from people in this city and Weston about an airplane which was being operated at dangerously low altitudes. It was difficult to identify the plane, but after investigation it is charged that Paine operated his plane on February 7th at heights lower than permitted by law. Recent Deaths

DR. FRANK R. STUBBS

Dr. Frank Raymond Stubbs, one of Newton's best known physicians, died on Monday, February 9, at the Newton Hospital. He was born in Cambridge, February 6, 1872, and had been a resident of Newton for 31 years. Dr. Stubbs graduated from Harvard in 1893, from Harvard Medical School in 1897, and served as an interne in the Boston City Hospital the following year. For three years he was an instructor in Histology at the Harvard Medical School and was asked to take charge of the histology laboratory at Wellesley College. He decided to become a general practitioner in Newton and for 20 years rendered valuable service to people in all walks of life in this city. His motto was to minister to "the sickest persons first," regardless of their financial standing.

In 1898, following the Spanish-American War, Dr. Stubbs was one of the physicians who served on the hospital ship "Bay State" which went to Cuba and brought 300 typhoid patients to this country. While on its way to Massachusetts this ship went ashore off Point Judith. For 30 years Dr. Stubbs was a visiting physician on the Newton Hospital staff, serving devotedly during this long period in two of the most trying months of the year, January and February.

He was a member of the Duxbury Yacht Club, the Tuesday Club of Newton, and a number of medical societies.

In his earlier years the extensive practice built up by Dr. Stubbs necessitated him using several horses. To obtain better transportation facilities, Dr. Stubbs was one of the first three residents of Newton to purchase an automobile, using one of the first type Oldsmobile. This car was succeeded by a powerful single-cylinder Knox car, in which for several years Dr. Stubbs was a familiar figure. His funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Elliot Church, of which the deceased was a member. The services were conducted by Rev. Ray Eusden and Rev. Laurens MacLure. Cremation was at Mount Auburn and the ashes will be interred later at Wellfleet, Cape Cod. Both parents of Dr. Stubbs were born in the old town on the Cape and he held it in strong affection.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ethel D. Stubbs, two sons, Joseph Stubbs, well known former Harvard athlete and coach of the Harvard Hockey team, and Frank R. Stubbs, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. William F. Hessler of Needham.

During the war he served as Federal Food Commissioner for Vermont and was a member of the executive committee of the Fuel Administration for New England.

He moved to Newton Highlands about nine years ago. Possessed of a rich baritone voice, Mr. Brooks joined the Highlands Glee Club and was a member of the Grace Church at Newton. He was affiliated with Masonic bodies in St. Johnsbury, being a member of the lodge there and of the Knights Templar and the Shrine.

He is survived by his widow, who was Ellen Fairbanks of St. Johnsbury, two daughters, Mrs. John A. Branderburg of St. Louis and Miss Frances C. Brooks who resides at home, two brothers, Lyman Brooks of Sheridan, Wyoming and Jonas Brooks of St. Johnsbury, and a sister, Mrs. John Jencks of Sherbrooke, Quebec.

CONFERENCE ON UNEMPLOYMENT AND THE USE OF LEISURE

education are the problems before us, and the schools are in a position to help take care of them. The High School plant is not available in the day time, but shop space could be hired somewhere and with older men it would be better so, since they would then be working with a group of their own age. Mr. Murray also felt that a practical type of vocational guidance should be offered to the men of the community in co-operation with the schools. Courses in painting and decorating might be established and mechanics re-trained to take care of road work machines, for instance. The first thing to do, Mr. Murray said was to find out how many men would go into training classes.

Mr. Hermann of the Playground Department encouraged the meeting by saying that every cloud had a silver lining, and that from increased leisure and the machine age the playground movement had been born. An interesting avocation is needed by everyone. For Newton Mr. Hermann recommended neighborhood centers since Newton communities are geographically so separated. Club rooms in 4 or 5 different villages should be opened for which school buildings might be utilized. Those who have never had out-of-door employment are now profiting by having to leave offices for out-of-door work.

Mr. Murray was asked how large a group would be necessary for the forming of a class, and said that 15 or more would be sufficient. Mr. Henderson, past commander of the American Legion, said that the Legion had considered sponsoring classes in Americanization, and could provide lecturers for the Y. M. C. A. or any other groups needing it in keeping physically fit, law, civil service and along commercial lines.

Mrs. Dunlop, Secretary of the Red Cross, offered their instructor in Home Hygiene and First Aid to any groups of unemployed women who would like to take the courses.

Miss Talamid, the Newton worker of the International Institute, a department of the Y. W. C. A., said that they had so far three clubs organized in Thompsonville, two for girls and one for mothers. She saw the greatest danger in the groups of boys from 18 years and without anything to do. These boys had outgrown the ideas of the older generation and were beyond their control. She thought there were about 50 boys in this dangerous area in Thompsonville.

Rev. Mr. Shedd of the Methodist church in Newton Upper Falls, saw a call to Americanization and more community resources in the present situation. About 40% of the foreign-born in the Upper Falls, were not citizens, he said. We should get next to this non-citizen, non-English-speaking group. Mr. Shedd said the church would be glad to offer the use of their rooms on Friday evenings or afternoons and that they had a lantern which could be used for entertainments. A recreational center in Newton Upper Falls is sorely needed, Mr. Shedd felt, for the American born as well as for the non-English speaking group. Mrs. Louis H. Marshall made a motion which was unanimously carried that the Chair appoint a small committee to see that the suggestions made at this meeting were put into practical effect as far as possible.

Mr. Timothy Regan spoke of the work in Americanization being carried on by the Nonantum Civic Association of which he is president, and said that their greatest need was blackboards and other equipment. The unemployment situation was hardest he thought for the older man whom manufacturers do not want. He said that games, magazines and slides were needed for the men who congregated in the rooms of the Nonantum Athletic Association.

The Stearns School Center and the West Newton Community Center both offered their resources to be used in any practical way that seemed advisable. The Music School sent word that they would be glad to provide music at entertainments whenever requested.

The readiness of everyone to cooperate in the matter of new opportunities for the unemployed was most encouraging, the most difficult problem being to find out exactly what groups wanted further opportunities and to plan practical means of giving them.

Mrs. Spear said that the committee which she had been asked to appoint would lose no time in making every effort possible toward this end.

MORE CITY EMPLOYEES RETIRED

Patrick Curley, 68, of 119 River street, West Newton was retired on a pension this week. He had worked 36 years for the Street Department of this city and will receive an annual pension of $788.86. Street Commissioner Stuart has announced that seven more employees of the Street Department will be retired in the near future. The men to be retired will be over 65 years of age and will have worked at least 25 years for the city, thus making them eligible for a pension equalling 50% of their last year's wages.

$20,000 MORE FOR SNOW

Snow costs plenty of money to taxpayers of Newton. Mayor Weeks has asked the Aldermen to appropriate $20,000 more next Monday night for the removal of snow and sanding sidewalks and streets. Residents of Newton are fussy about having snow quickly removed from streets after each storm.

The Boy Scouts of the troops in Norumbega Council are planning another Exposition to be held this year on Friday and Saturday, February 27th and 28th at the West Newton Armory. The boys are planning an even greater show than last year's, and the name has been changed to the "Boy Scout Exposition" so that all phases of Scouting can be shown, rather than just the Merit Badges which were demonstrated last year. The committee supervising the Exposition consists of Grosvener D. Marcy, Chairman; L. A. Bruce, Jr., Scout Executive, Edward W. Bartram, Ralph B. Emery, Max P. Gaddis, Bruce E. Stewart, George W. Young, and Eagle Scout Owen Collins.

STONE INSTITUTE

On January 31st the Misses Freeman and Leatherbee of West Newton furnished an entertainment. The program was of songs in costume by a young Italian artist. Refreshments were served.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE BY ALBERT F. GILMORE, C.S.B.

Albert F. Gilmore,
C.S.B.

of Boston.

A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, delivered a lecture entitled:

Christian Science: Mankind's Great Need
Friday Evening, this week in the Christian Science Church, Newtonville

A large attendance filled the church and overflowed into the Sunday School Room, where amplifiers gave a perfect reproduction of the lecturer's voice.

The lecturer was introduced by William S. Whitman, First Reader of the Newton Church, who said:

"Friends, First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, cordially welcomes you.

We are gathered here tonight to learn something more of the Truth concerning the relation of God and man and of what practical use an understanding of that relation can be in our daily lives in helping us to meet and master the difficulties or problems of our daily experience.

With her usual discernment of the needs of mankind, our inspired Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, has provided an avenue through which the necessary guidance can come.

One of the activities of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, is the Board of Lectureship. Its members are well qualified to speak on the subject of Christian Science.

We have with us tonight a member of this Board of Lectureship, and I take great pleasure in introducing Mr.
Albert F. Gilmore of Boston who will address us on the subject: 'Christian Science: Mankind's Great Need.'

If you were asked to name mankind's greatest need you might reply,
"To be healed of sickness, and be relieved of the burden of disease which from the very beginnings of the race has weighed humanity down; to be made whole, in order to enjoy the pleasures, comforts, and activities of a normal life." None can gainsay that ill health has been the cause of the most grievous burdens mortals have had to bear, and from the earliest history, to find relief from this encumbrance has occupied the earnest attention of untold thousands.

Sickness both entails great suffering upon the afflicted, and also deprives him of the fullness and joys of life to which man is entitled. Often it plunges him into poverty and squalor. It does even more than this;
it imposes upon society a burden, the extent of which is quite incalculable.
The Department of Commerce of the United States Government recently stated, as reported in the press, that thirty-six million wage-earners in America lose two hundred and fifty million days from work each year as a result of illness; and that for the same reason, the four million school children lose each year seventy million days from school. But these statements relate only to the comparatively healthy, the adults who work and the children who attend school. What of the incapacitated, those who from various forms of infirmity are dependent upon others for support and care?

A prominent health insurance company has stated that the loss of productive energy from disease is at least forty per cent of the producing power of the race. Now, this loss of time and productive energy, grievous as it is, is but one phase of the calamity. The vast economic problem imposed upon society, the necessity of supporting and caring for the sick and suffering, must for the greater part be borne by those entirely innocent of any responsibility for its occasion.
From one standpoint, this burden is wholly self-imposed. It is the result of the sufferer's wrong mental attitude, his belief in man as a material personality, to which error can attach itself, to his own mental misdeeds, as it were, to an act of will and consent which perhaps ignorantly, but none the less surely, imposes upon himself a condition of disability and upon society the resultant burden which it has to bear. From an economic standpoint alone, how great is the need effectually to lay this monster, ill health!

Of such magnitude is the problem that we may well ask, Is there no remedy for this appalling condition?
Must mankind, perforce, stumble along under this mighty incubus of disease and its penalty of suffering and poverty? If, judging by the history of the past, we were to look wholly to material means for amelioration of these conditions, we might well despair. Obviously, if we base our judgment upon the situation as revealed by the facts stated, the use of material means of healing has proved far, very far, from satisfactory. After four thousand years' investigation of and experimentation with medical methods of healing disease, the burden still remains.

Manifestly, if relief is to be brought to suffering humanity, other means must be sought. In spite of all the progress which the exponents of material remedies for disease claim to have made, the fact remains that society is still weighed down with a burden comparable only to that which abled Atlas was supposed to carry upon his shoulders. This is still, for many, a world of sickness and sorrow, of misery and poverty, under which poor humanity stumbles on, with shoulders bowed from the mighty weight of its voluntary burden.

But the situation is not hopeless. A way has been revealed whereby sickness may be healed. An effectual remedy has been discovered whereby mankind may be set free from suffering and society relieved of the tremendous burden which it has so long and so patiently borne. There again shines in the world the light of spiritual truth which heals, regenerates, and comforts mankind, dissolving every form of error, whatever its name or nature, to which mortals believe themselves to be subject. Mankind is awakening to the monstrous imposition to which it has been subjected,
and through this new understanding,
is throwing off the burden of disease, is abandoning its sinful ways, and in consequence is being freed from fear and, happier than ever before, is being ushered into a better and more useful life.

JESUS' MINISTRY OF HEALING

How is this change brought about?
Through adoption of, adherence to,
and practice of the teachings of Christ Jesus as set forth in Christian Science. The careful student of the four Gospels can scarcely fail to be openly amazed, impressed, by the power which healing the sick played in the ministry of Jesus. While he demonstrated the power and availability of Spirit to destroy material sense testimony in many directions, yet standing out above all others are his healing works. Time and again, not individual alone, but the multitude was healed of disease in all the varied forms which so commonly harassed mankind in those distant centuries. Jesus' mission was to prove the presence of God, the loving Father-Mother, who, again and again, was made available through His Christ to heal mankind of all its diseases. He revealed the regenerating truth which brings to mortals a state of health and happiness. He showed the way into heaven, the ever present heaven of health and harmony, the state of which all may enter, here and now.

How this golden thread of healing runs through those three marvelous years of the Master's ministry! What wondrous news he brought to suffering humanity! Beautiful, indeed, on the mountains were the feet of him who brought to man joyous tidings, who had less than joyous tidings this glad news? That was He, Spirit, the divine All-Father. That evil is not real! That suffering is not necessary! That there is present-day salvation from every phase of sin and sorrow, from all misery and pain, from all less than joyous tidings suffering! Do you wonder that the multitudes flocked about this bearer of glad tidings, thronging his pathway wherever he went? Do you marvel that the sick were brought to him, were even let down from the roof
to be healed of their infirmities?
What a priceless boon did the Nazarene bring to suffering humanity! How their hearts must have leaped with the joy of expectancy as the great truth dawned upon benighted consciousness, that was the Fatherman's good pleasure to give them the kingdom, the kingdom wherein sin and suffering never enter!

It is little wonder that they awakened from their illusion, their ancient dream, with hearts aglow with love for the Master, their Saviour and Messiah! No event in all history is so fraught with glorious consequences as the advent of the man of Nazareth with his blessed message of God's perfect love for all His children.

It is sad commentary upon the instability of mortals, that Jesus' message so soon lost its significance; that in so short a time the Christ healing was buried in its graveclothes of formalism and dogma. In less than three centuries the wondrous light waned, flickered, and went out, to be rediscovered and made available again to meet poor humanity's needs only when sixteen centuries had passed. How appropriately have the centuries between been termed the dark ages—dark, indeed, when the glorious light of Love, reflected through the words and works of Christ Jesus, ceased to illumine human consciousness!

But the prophecies and expectations of the Founder of Christianity have been fulfilled in the revelation of Mary Baker Eddy! Did not Jesus declare in unequivocal terms: "And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover." Did he not command his followers, not for their time alone, but for all time, to "heal the sick," to "cleanse the leper," and to "raise the dead"? Did he not also utter the precious prophecy: "Greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father"? In Christian Science these prophecies, these promises of the Master, are to-day being fulfilled, wonderfully fulfilled, in the demonstration of spiritual power over the claims of evil. Again, throughout the civilized portions of earth, the sick are being healed without material medicine; the sorrowing are comforted with the balm of perfect Love;
the blind made to see, the lame to walk, the deaf to hear, and to the poor the gospel of God's abundance is being effectually preached. Again the Christ, Truth, the most potent and the most practical of all healing agencies, is being demonstrated as the one sure remedy for all human ills.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THE PER- FECT REMEDY

With the discovery of Christian Science, sixty-five years ago, the method of spiritual healing practiced so successfully by Christ Jesus was restored, later was elucidated by Mrs.
Eddy and is to-day demonstrating the presence of God and the power of His Christ to destroy every type of disease, and invariably the answer is,
"Because of your belief, your terribly mistaken belief, that man is a mortal."

Is healing, then, so difficult? Hear Mrs. Eddy's words, "Become conscious for a single moment that Life and intelligence are purely spiritual, —neither in nor of matter,—and the body will then utter no complaints." And she adds, "If suffering from a belief in sickness, you will find yourself suddenly well" (Science and Health,
p. 14). Become conscious for an instant, a single moment, that God, Life, is spiritual and ever present, omnipresent, and there will of a necessity be excluded from your thought all suggestions that the likeness of God, Spirit's reflection, man, could be sick! Error, called disease, can never attach itself to God's likeness.
Your reflection in a mirror could not be another universe, another man, than yourself. No more can your true selfhood as the son of God, His perfect reflection. Could a sick mortal be the likeness of God, infinite perfection? Never!

This sounds simple, seems easy.
What sometimes makes it so difficult of accomplishment? The testimony of the material senses, nothing more!
Is this testimony reliable? Can we depend upon a false witness to disclose the truth about man? Let us remember that the so-called physical senses have no existence apart from the lie of life and intelligence in matter which lies at the bottom, at the heart, have no foundation in fact.

It was this false sense of man with all its accumulated wickedness that Jesus denounced so vehemently. When healed by the Pharisees, he told them: "Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own; for he is a liar, and the father of it." Strong language! But not stronger than was necessary to deny and denounce the false sense of man, the material sense, the sense of the body, the sense of the material world, the sense of the material universe, the sense of the material existence, the sense of the material life, the sense of the material death,

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Shakespeare Club

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club is looking forward with enthusiasm to the next meeting on February 14, when Mrs. A. L. Pratt, a charter member of the Club and a Shakespearean student, will conduct the Review of King Henry VIII, and Mrs. E. R. Gilbert of 41 Woodward street, an honorary member of the Club, will be the hostess.

Waban Woman's Club

On Monday, February 16, Dr. Harry Overstreet will talk to the Waban Woman's Club on "The Psychology of Remaining Young." Dr. Overstreet, who is at present head of the Department of Philosophy at the College of the City of New York, taught formerly at the University of California, and has given courses in the Universities of Chicago and of Columbia. He is a graduate of the University of California and of Oxford University. His publications have been mainly in the field of social philosophy and psychology and they have appeared in various American and English journals.

Miss Mae Taylor, graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music, and one of the younger soprano soloists, will sing two groups of songs, one preceding the speaker and one at the end of the meeting.

Mrs. Roger Hovey is the social hostess for the afternoon, assisted by Mrs. F. Roscoe Webber and Mrs. Harold W. O'Leary at the tea table.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will meet on February 17, in the home of Mrs. Amos Wells, of 40 Williston road. The business meeting begins at 10 a. m. with the program session at 10:30 o'clock.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

On Tuesday, February 17, at 2 and at 8 p. m., in the Parish House of the Congregational Church, the Dramatic committee of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club will present "Love in a Mist," by Amelie Rives and Gilbert Emery, a comedy full of amusing lines and of clever situations. Mrs. James S. Gove is coaching the cast, composed of members of the Club, and Mr. J. Hasler Capron has charge of the lighting and scenery. As this is the first play to be given by the Club in three years, much interest has been manifested in its production, and the tickets are being rapidly distributed. These may be obtained from Mrs. C. A. Thompson, of 1141 Walnut street. Each member is entitled to one ticket upon presentation of her membership card, and guest tickets for either performance are seventy-five cents. As the seating capacity is limited, it is urged that tickets be secured as early as possible in order to avoid disappointment. Music will be furnished by the Forte Trio.

The Drama Class will meet on Monday, February 16, at 9:30, in the Workshop. Under the direction of Mrs. Walter B. Goddard, Maxwell Anderson's "Elizabeth the Queen" will be read. Single admission is twenty-five cents.

The second in a series of four lectures on Child Psychology, sponsored by the Education committee and by the American Home committee, will be given on Friday, February 20, at 2:30 p. m., in the Workshop. Professor A. A. Capone of the Harvard School of Education will speak on "Principles of Character Education." These lectures are very helpful to mothers, and it is earnestly hoped that all who are interested in the subject will attend, whether a member of the Club or not. On Wednesday, March 4, Miss Marion Vaughn, of the staff of the New England Home for Little Wanderers, will speak on "The Task of Growing Up." On Friday, March 20, Miss Mary S. Bullard, a graduate of the Wheelock and Montessori Schools, will discuss "The Psychology of Story Telling." Tickets for the course are one dollar. Single admission tickets are thirty-five cents. These may be obtained from members of the American Home committee and from the Education committee, or at the door.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Annual Musicale of the Newtonville Woman's Club promises to be an exceptionally fine one this year. It is to be held on Tuesday, February 17, at 2:30 p. m., in the Central Congregational Church. The program for the afternoon offers rare opportunity to hear a trio of distinguished artists.

Mr. Roland Tapley, who has made concert tours of the United States and Canada, is considered one of the most talented young violinists of today. For several years he has been a first violinist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Walter Kilder, baritone, is very well known to Boston audiences for his concert and oratorio work. Mr. Howard Slayman, a pianist of unusual ability, has for the past few seasons given most successful recitals throughout New England.

On Thursday, February 19, at 10:15 a. m., Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will give the third lecture in the series on current events. She is a most interesting speaker, giving fluently and briefly her resume of world affairs.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will not meet on February 18, Ash Wednesday. The next regular meeting of the Club will be on February 25, at 10 o'clock, at the Hunnewell Club, when Miss Florence L. Heard, a Club member, will read a paper on "The St. Lawrence." The hostesses are to be Mrs. Curtis Nye Smith and Miss Edith Hull.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton will welcome as its speaker on Wednesday, February 18, in the Parish House of the Second Church, Mr. Walter Pritchard Eaton, who needs no introduction to a near-to-Boston audience. Aside from his fame as an author and essayist, Mr. Eaton is perhaps best known through his connection with the drama. He has held the post of dramatic critic on several of the New York papers and for the American Magazine; has been a lecturer at the Cambridge School of Drama, and has published several volumes on the stage, actors, and drama. The Club is looking forward with pleasure to hearing Mr. Eaton, who will take as his subject, "The American Stage Today—Current Plays." Tea will be served with Mrs. William Wise in charge.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. W. W. Waldheim, guest speaker for Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, chairman of the Mothercraft and Child Welfare Division, will broadcast "Winter Protection of Children at Home and Play," from station WJZZ next Thursday afternoon, February 19, at 1:30 o'clock. A twenty-minute musicale is to be on the air at 1:40, given by the Hopedale Choral Society, conducted by Mrs. Amy Young Burns, chairman of Music in the State Federation. Incidental solos will be broadcast by Marjorie Leadbetter, Soprano, and Marion Auburns Wise, Contralto, and by Mr. John Herman Lund, Organist.

CIVIL SERVICE COURSE. Miss Marion Nichols opens her home for the next in the series of Experiments in Citizenship Training on Monday morning, the 16th, at 10:30 o'clock, at 55 Mount Vernon street, Beacon Hill, Boston. "A Practical Illustration of Voting on a Town's Annual Budget," is the topic for presentation and discussion. All interested Clubwomen, and especially chairmen and members of Civil Service, Community Service, and Legislative committees, are cordially invited to these lectures.

GRACE MORRISON POOLE FOR PRESIDENT. Alice F. Titus, well-known to all Bay State Clubwomen for her excellent work on Monday Topics, recently appointed chairman of campaign publicity for Mrs. Poole, has this to say: "Massachusetts' die is cast. Grace Morrison Poole has been unanimously endorsed by an enthusiastic State for the candidacy of president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs for 1932-1934. Mrs. L. L. Schrader, State president, has been chosen as manager of her campaign—an ideal arrangement, since the State president—and only a State president—is in a position to feel the pulse of the country. Moreover, Mrs. Schrader is a keen admirer of Mrs. Poole. Her enthusiasm is bound to be contagious, and her level business acumen will go far towards reaching the goal upon which the Bay State has set her heart. 1932 is not so very far away, and it is none too soon for the Clubwomen of Massachusetts to think Grace Morrison Poole, to talk Grace Morrison Poole, and to spread the good word of Grace Morrison Poole. It is none too soon, either, to begin to save the pennies to send a full representation from every single club to the delegate body of the 1932 Biennial that shall elect Grace Morrison Poole president of the General Federation."

Massachusetts Clubwomen will aid in every possible way the election of a Massachusetts woman to the highest office in the United States. It is an honor that every State is coveting to see one of their prominent Clubwomen gain the presidency of the General Federation, and it means no small activity on the part of Club members to place their leader in this position, since every State has her favorite Clubwoman a leader of marked ability, that each is striving to place in the first office of the United States. State pride and State loyalty should stand back of Mrs. Poole.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A "Home Talent Cabaret" will be the feature of the next Auburndale Woman's Club meeting on Thursday afternoon, February 19, at 2:30 o'clock in the Auburndale Club House. Owing to the great need in Newton on account of unemployment, it was decided to give up the program planned for this day, and donate the allotted sum to Mrs. James McCarron and her Community Service committee for their work. In its place a Cabaret has been planned, all of the artists giving their services, and the refreshments will be given also. Mrs. Charles Floyd will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. J. Warren Buckman. The opening number will be given by former members of the Chorus, who will sing the "Gipsy Love Song," in costume, winding about from one table to another. Following will be two dances each by Jean Budding and Miss Polly Godfrey; vocal solos by Mrs. Charles C. Hector and Mrs. Dana Kendall; a Buck and Wing dance by Mrs. James Dunlop; a dance by Virginia Wilson; a short skit by Mrs. James Gray and Mrs. Clifford Parcher; and readings by Mrs. Lorraine Holmes. These artists will be accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Raymond Perkins and Miss Ruth Ufford. Coffee, ice-cream and cake will be served.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Miss M. Louise Walworth, chairman of the International committee, announces that for the last morning Round Table Discussion which comes on Friday, February 20, at 10:15 o'clock, Mr. Raymond T. Rich, director of the World Peace Foundation, is to be the speaker. His subject will be "How the World Community is Like the City of Newton." For those who do not hold course tickets, the admission is 50 cents.

The Public Health committee, of which Mrs. George Willard Smith is chairman, has planned a series of three lectures on Child Study, by Dr. Helen D. McGillicuddy, an authority on social hygiene. She is secretary of the Massachusetts Society for Social Hygiene, and chairman of Social Hygiene of the Parent-Teacher Association. These lectures, which will occur on Thursdays at 10:30 a. m., February 19 and 26, and March 5, are free to members, and guests will be admitted for a small fee. Mrs. Smith is assisted on her committee by Mrs. Leonard Rowley, vice-chairman; Mrs. Robert D. Curtis, Mrs. Irving E. Dierdorf, Mrs. Denton G. Nutter, and Mrs. W. Ratcliffe Waldo.

Plans are well under way for President's Day, which will fall on Friday, February 27. There will be several guests of honor, and following a specially planned program, tea will be served.

at hand, to heal humanity of all its woes, but a revelator was necessary to make it again available to meet the needs of mankind. And God prepared Mary Baker Eddy for this blessed ministry. Why was she thus blessed? Because through much travail and tribulation she had been mentally and spiritually fitted for this holy purpose. How properly could she have uttered the words which Kipling puts into the mouth of the explorer, who, after much hardship had discovered a virgin empire?

"Anybody might have heard it, But God's message came to me." And so the heart of every true Christian Scientist goes out to Mrs. Eddy in love and gratitude, in joy and thanksgiving, for her revelation of the Christ, which is pointing the way, the only way, to complete salvation. The ultimate of this transforming experience is the goal of all mortals, heavenly harmony, and eternal Life.

If there are those in this audience who are holding to the thought of man as sick and sinful, as in sorrow or in want, or who are unhappy through indulging the luxury of self-pity, let them know that healing is at hand, full and complete. Christ, Truth, Love's perfect remedy, is available here and now to destroy every discordant belief. As we rise in the strength of Spirit to deny evil's every claim, we are set free. God's man was never in bondage. As we cease to entertain sick thoughts, as we cease to hate, to envy, to resent, to covet, the light of Love shines in consciousness and we find ourselves healed, harmonious and happy.

Let us never doubt that God has already endowed His beloved with all blessings, that the real man, God's likeness, is eternally perfect. This conviction held to will bring man's perfection and blessedness into our present experience. Let us cease to limit God's beneficence. Rather let us accustom ourselves to the expectation that all good will enter our experience immediately. In these ways our concept of man is both purified and glorified; and we abide in the certain sense of God's loving presence.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

This being a free country, there are things that many do to gently razz those elected to govern us. One man wrote a sassy letter to the Board of Aldermen and sent somebody else to read it. Another man petitioned for the change of name of a certain street and failed to appear to present his case. These examples of long-distance communication with the city fathers have set me thinking.

I am wondering. Suppose you have a load of criticism you wish delivered at City Hall. Is not the best way to have it conveyed there by somebody else? And yet there must be people who enjoy an opportunity to free their minds before the board. In fact, I am sure of it, for I have not only heard such arguments, but have read of extended addresses made at public hearings. There certainly can be no objection to that on the part of the board. The Aldermen cannot expect to usurp the privilege of oratorical liberty. Since no one has said they do object, let's call that a fifty-fifty break.

My chief concern, in view of this letter-writing to the board, is whether the board is going to adopt a plan of replying in kind. I merely and modestly make the suggestion. After somebody has sent a stinging rebuke and it has been read in open meeting, the presiding officer might dictate a reply of this nature:

"Dear Citizen—Your letter of the 21st inst. received and contents duly noted. Would say in reply that you may be right about our ignorance, lack of foresight and general inability to run the city. We would respectfully suggest that if you think you could do a better job we would be glad to have you take the work off our hands. We sit up nights, week in and week out, for the sake of saving the taxpayers' money. We do not get paid a nickel. If we joined the union we would have the right to charge double pay for overtime. The principal reason there is so much work to do is because a lot of guys like you, who don't know what they are talking about, try to tell us where we get off. We don't need any advice and if you have anything further to say we wish you would keep it to yourself. Yours truly—Newton Board of Aldermen."

The slang habit, to which reference has been made in this column, should be set down, and as far down as possible, with another human failing—chewing one's words. Slovenly speech is quite as offensive as a mixture of modern catchphrases and argot. For some reason or other people seem to be satisfied if they have made themselves understood. They never think of the difficulty somebody else may have experienced in trying to grasp their meaning. When you encounter a man who talks in mumbling tones and uses not the clearest phraseology you pay the full penalty of friendship. Of course, if you are not a friend you may curtly inform him that he is not understandable. Or it may be that it is a matter of business and you are compelled to endure it. In any event it is not pleasant.

I recall the command of an instructor in English. "Write," said he, "so that the reader not only may understand but, by Jupiter, shall understand." If you think that isn't good advice I refer you to articles and books you yourself have read and which seemed involved, round-about and dreary. I know of a self-made man who was fond of dictating long letters. He never took the pains to try and express himself in a brief communication. One day his secretary made bold to suggest that a more comprehensive form of letter-writing might well be adopted by this great person. "Well, they know what I mean, don't they?" he demanded. "If it's good enough for me it's good enough for them." That is a satisfactory view to take of one's ignorance but you've got to have plenty of capital to support it. A man who is without funds would accomplish little in advancing his fortunes if he wasted words or failed to make himself understood.

One thing about the "talkies" is that the players must know how to talk. You remember what a great hubbub was raised when it stated that a lot of silent screen favorites were obliged to receive instruction in English before they faced the microphone. At least you can hear the actors and actresses, and that is something. They are obliged to make themselves understood and those of us in the front of the theatre are given that which we have a right to expect for the price of admission. I do not urge all people in the world to give up gainful occupations for the sake of entering the "talkies." I do think they might well follow the example of professional performers and speak up, enunciate clearly and use the best of English.

There is a man who wants Massachusetts to enact a law that will authorize parents to administer corporal punishment to an offspring convicted in court of stealing a bicycle. His bill provides that "in any case where a minor is convicted of the larceny of a bicycle the judge, with the consent of the parents or guardian, may order corporal punishment administered by such parents or guardian and if so ordered no other penalty shall be imposed." Apparently the man who seeks this legislation believes that instead of imposing a fine, the boy (girls don't steal bicycles) would be plenty spanked. The parents would thus be saved the expenditure of money entailed by the payment of a fine. All that it would cost them would be the pain of inflicting punishment. "This hurts me more than it does you, son," is the conventional phrase, as I recall, but the proposed law does not stipulate that these very words be repeated.

I wonder if it is really necessary to give parents or guardians the power of the court in the matter of trouncing an ill-behaved child. Last week a woman in Memphis, Tenn., had occasion to rebuke her daughter about something. The child, 13 years old, locked herself in the bathroom and swallowed a quantity of poison. Doctors gave her treatment at a hospital and made certain she would recover. Before the girl could be taken from the operating room her mother administered a sound spanking. Here was a woman who did not wait for judicial authority whether it was necessary or not under the laws of her state.

I think this proves that there should be more spanking and fewer laws affecting domestic relations. Certainly a parent should not have to act on direction of a judge before straightening-out some misdeed on the part of son or daughter. And as far as limiting the proposed Massachusetts law to the stealing of bicycles, that seems a narrow view. There are many other things for which corporal punishment might well be used.

It strikes me that some of these youthful gunmen would be better placed on the list of those eligible to a parental spanking rather than haled into court and treated as adult prisoners. It would be better to have corporal punishment used as a preventive measure. It works better that way. After all these youthful gunmen are nothing but boys. Apparently they are bold, desperate men. That is the impression you get from reading of their escapades. But let them once get cornered and they reveal themselves as whimpering, unhappy children.

I suppose there has been a sort of romantic glamour placed about the life of gunmen. This is due to a combination of modern conditions and the imagination of story and scenario writers. Nearly 20 years ago the first of these crime plays, with a crook for a hero, was put before the public. "Alias Jimmy Valentine" was made into a gripping play by Paul Armstrong from a story of O. Henry. Nearly everybody remembers H. B. Warner as "Jimmy". From that time forward we found that the lives and doings of crooks were providing material for authors. The World War interrupted the flood of crime shows but it began again soon after the armistice and—well, you know the rest as well as I. These boys to whom I have already referred, seem to think it manly to imitate criminals by carrying guns, engaging in trifling robberies and then step by step, getting into the gunmen class. Until captured they swagger, talk defiantly of "cops" and the law, flourish automatic revolvers and threaten vengeance upon any who seek to interfere. After having committed some grave crime, for which they are arrested, their attitude changes. They whine to be released. They want their mothers and fathers sent for to plead for them, to raise enough money, if such a thing is possible, to get them bailed. No longer are they filled with conceit and bravado. They have wilted and beg for mercy.

This does not present a pretty picture. It is a reflection on modern standards of bringing-up children. The boys are let go wild when they should have been properly punished at home. Their career could have been checked by spanking. No need to wait for court authority.

The etiquette of the revolving storm door puzzles me. I assume, of course, there is such a thing, although I find no reference to it in any books on etiquette that are available. If somebody has attempted to make clear what one should do upon reaching a revolving door at the same moment a lady does then I would like to study his advice. At present I don't know exactly how I should conduct myself under such circumstances.

Naturally, one steps aside and permits a lady to precede him through any portal. It is, however, against all rules of chivalry to force upon the fair one all the burden of shoving a revolving when a man can do it so much more easily. You dislike, if you are a gentleman, to watch a lady struggle to get the door started when you know that by giving it a gentle shove you can save her all that trouble. Now do the ladies prefer to accept the usual order of things and precede the gentleman—this sounds like a dancing school lesson—or would she prefer to have the door operated for her.

If you permit the lady to go ahead you find yourself involuntarily giving the door a push as you follow. That would seem to be quite all right except that it is apt to give a momentum that sends the bottom of the door banging against the lady's heels. She then is certain to turn and give you a nasty look.

But then, if you march ahead of her into the one-fourth, or whatever "cut" the door has, it looks as if you didn't know any better. "That man has no manners," the lady will say to herself, "he should have given me the right of way." If the lady is in a hurry you will find that she not only resents your dashing ahead of her, but she may move so rapidly that the door will hit you in the heels.

Until I invented a system I used to get into various kinds of tangles. The worst, I think, was rushing for the same section of the door as the lady herself. This brought us together in the one compartment, which not only made it crowded for both of us but also appeared as if I were trying to get more closely acquainted.

It may strike you as a bit weak-kneed on my part but now when I am headed for a revolving door and there is a lady bound the same way, either from my side or the other, I stop completely, take out my handkerchief and cough into it. This covers my deliberate pause while she makes the struggle all by herself. I let her do her own struggling and shoving. At the same time I retain my amateur standing as a gentleman.

AUBURNDALE CLUB PLAYERS

On the evenings of February 6 and 7 the Auburndale Club Players presented "Milestones" by Arnold Bennett and Edward Knoblock, playing each evening to a crowded and appreciative house. The unusual character of the play, spanning a period of time from 1860 to 1912, gave variety to the action, and afforded scope for the ability of the players, some of whom came on the stage in their vivacious youth and appeared in later acts with the changed bearing of maturity and age. The play was rendered by an understanding and well-chosen cast, and reflected great credit on the direction of Ernest Law Johnson. Costumes of 1860, 1885 and 1912 had been borrowed from historic attics, bringing color and charm as well as authenticity to the production. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, aided by Miss Anne Bunker and Mrs. Leslie Ford, was responsible for the costumes, and Leonard B. Berry for the clever stage setting, which represented the drawing-room of a house in Kensington Gore. Mr. Berry's assistants were E. Arthur Hancock, John R. Fletcher, Frederic B. Stearns and J. Arthur Furbish. Music by the Colonial Trio added to the enjoyment of the evening. The cast included:

LASELL SEMINARY

The Winter Carnival sports contests on Gardner Hill on Saturday last, resulted in a tie between the contesting teams—the Blues and Whites. In the evening, a "Black and White" Carnival Ball was held in Bragdon Hall, Dorothy Peabody of Fort Washington, Pennsylvania, was crowned Carnival Queen and received her loyal subjects after the grand march. Prizes for the most appropriate costumes were presented to Dorothy Hall of Lawrence, Betty Bunker of Summit, New Jersey, and Sarah Fletcher of Northampton. Miss Cora Mackenzie, Regional Director will be a guest.

Edwin O. Childs, Ex-Mayor of Newton, gave the Lincoln's birthday address at Chapel yesterday.

About seventy students left today for Intervale, New Hampshire, to spend the week-end at the White Mountains for winter sports.

The students of Lasell will be guests of the Church of New Jerusalem at Newtonville, on Sunday afternoon, at their Vesper Service.

WILL INVESTIGATE CHARLES RIVER

A bill has been given a hearing before the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs of the Legislature asking that the condition of the Charles River, especially that part between Newton Lower Falls and the Moody street dam in Waltham be carefully studied in order to prevent a recurrence of the nuisance prevailing last year due to the low level of water in the stream. The hearing was held at the State House on Monday and Newton was represented by City Solicitor Bartlett.

ZONTA CLUB

At the last meeting of the Newton Zonta Club, held in the assembly room of the Newton Centre Library, Monday evening, February 1st, Miss Ethel Gammons gave a very interesting talk on banking. Miss Gammons stressed the point that a bank has nothing to sell but service, and that, therefore, that service must be such as to attract and hold the patronage of its customers.

Service charges, checking and savings accounts, loans and investments, were discussed. Many questions followed the talk and so great was the interest that Miss Gammons was requested to give a second talk in the near future.

The next meeting of Zonta will be a dinner meeting at 6:30 Monday evening, February 16th, at the Pled Piper Tea Room, 437 Centre street, Newton. Miss Cora Mackenzie, Regional Director will be a guest.

The annual meeting of the Newton Cemetery Corporation was held at the Administration Building on February 4th at 4 p. m.

The following trustees were re-elected: William F. Bacon, James E. Clark, Henry B. Day, George M. Fiske, Frank J. Hale, Fred R. Hayward, Seward J. Jones, William H. Rice and H. Wilson Ross. The following officers were elected: William F. Bacon, President; William H. Rice, Vice-president; H. Wilson Ross, Treasurer, Clerk and Supt.; Nils H. Mattson, Asst. Supt., and George W. Auryansen, auditor.

The report of the superintendent showed that the development work was progressing very satisfactorily. Over four acres of new ground was laid out, requiring over 100,000 cubic yards of filling and over 10,000 cubic yards of loam. Lot sales were more than the preceding year and much new landscape planting has been done. Over 1,000 feet of water pipe was laid. The treasurer's report showed the total funds in excess of $450,000.

DRAMATIC CONTEST

The annual Dramatic Contest of the evening groups of the Stearns School Centre will be held on Monday and Tuesday evenings, February 16 and 17.

Four one-act plays will be presented. Mr. E. Irving Locke is coaching the members of the Supper Club in "Mankin and Minkin." The girls of the Aurora group are being directed by Mr. Dan L. Smith in a play entitled "Station YYY." The Mothers' Club is in charge of Miss Marion D. Bassett. Their choice of play is "Joint Owners in Spain." The Seniors' Girls Club are preparing to present "Sardines." Mrs. Bonney L. Dunbar, Miss Helen Nute and Mr. William Fawcett are to be the judges of the contest.

fast making friends among clubs. His education has been received from five Universities in three different countries, and at present he is studying at the Harvard Theological School in Cambridge. It has been said of him, that he is the most eloquent representative that India has at present. He discussed India's problems from their own standpoint, and from that of Great Britain. He paid high tribute to Ramsay MacDonald, calling him "India's Best Friend." A most interesting question period followed his lecture.

On Thursday afternoon a Tea was given to the New Members of the Club from 3 to 5, in the Lounge of the Auburndale Club. The guests were those who had joined the Club since the last Tea a year ago, and included also their sponsors. The hostesses included Executive Board members and the Door-Keepers and Hospitality committee. About seventy enjoyed the afternoon.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton held the second of its "Community Service Days," on Wednesday, February 4, at the Second Church Parish House, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

In addition to the satisfactory results of a large amount of sewing accomplished for the Red Cross and for the Newton Hospital, under the direction of Mrs. Gardner I. Jones, the friendliness and neighborliness of these meetings is a delightful feature.

After luncheon Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson of the School Committee, gave an interesting talk on the public schools of Newton, speaking of modern teaching methods, and of hopes and plans for still further expansion and improvements, to meet increasing needs and demands. Mrs. J. N. Lovell told of the work of the Welfare Bureau in the distribution of clothing for children between the ages of five and twelve years.

Shakespeare Club

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club at its last meeting had a very enjoyable afternoon with Mrs. Alan McIntosh as hostess, and Miss Ethel Hall having charge of the work. Miss Hall had a very carefully prepared and comprehensive "Quiz" on Acts IV and V of King Henry VIII.

bringing out a magnificent portrayal of Queen Catherine's uprightness and charity, her quiet dignity and calm resignation, and her tender and pathetic ending, also that the fall of Wolsey was the punishment of unscrupulous self-interest. She then dealt briefly with the coronation of Anne Bullen, the christening of Elizabeth, and Crammer's appearance before the Council four years after Cromwell was beheaded.

A delightful evening was enjoyed at the University Club Monday evening, under the auspices of the Dartmouth Matrons' Club, when Mr. Frederick N. Blodgett, Dartmouth Class 1925 gave an informal talk about his airplane trip to Alaska, with Mr. Laurence M. Lombard.

Moving pictures taken enroute were shown, impressing those in the audience of the wonderful adventure those young men had and the paradise that country must be for sportsmen.

At the meeting of the Club on Thursday, February 19th, at 2:00 o'clock, Judge Emma Fall Schofield who is to be guest of honor, will present a historic gavel to the club.

Hon. Lewis Parkhurst, Class 1878, will speak on the early history and tradition of the college.

ROTARY CLUB

Edgar Lee Masters discounts himself when he begins to discount the greatness of Lincoln, said the Rev. Dwight Bradley of the First Church in Newton in his address on Abraham Lincoln at the Monday luncheon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club. Discounting Lincoln is like discounting a Gothic cathedral or a painting of Rembrandt. More elemental in character than Washington, the latter is now a bit overshadowed. In Jefferson we find great rationality; Lincoln has that and a great mysticism besides. The great tragedy of Lincoln's life never came to Jefferson. Lincoln is a cosmic man and, as Stanton said, now belongs to the ages. Born on the same day as Charles Darwin, here were a pair of twins who have changed the destiny of nations. The speaker told of his meeting an educated Mohammedan guide in the Church of the Sepulchre at Jerusalem who confided to him that Abraham Lincoln was his greatest hero. It was an interesting, thoughtful, and most inspiring address, much appreciated by the club members and their guests.

Ray Hammell and Warren K. Brimblecom were welcomed as new members. The next meeting will take place at the Newton Theological Institution, and for Tuesday, February 24, the Club has accepted an invitation from the Natick Rotary Club to meet at their guests in Natick.

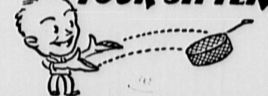

GREAT ACHIEVEMENTS

Authorities on war-time aviation who have seen "Hell's Angels" which comes to the Paramount Theatre, Newton on Sunday for four days agree that it is not only the most authentic air film to date but that it is also one of the greatest achievements in the history of aeronautics. "The scene in which 50 planes go into combat simultaneously is little less than miraculous," declared Colonel P. J. Brady of the U. S. Air Corps. The Overseas Aviators Club, a national organization of World War pilots and observers, passed resolutions after witnessing the picture commending Howard Hughes and his flyers for the "superb realism" of "Hell's Angels" and stating without reservation that this was the most remarkable and authentic reproduction to date of the World War in the Air.

On the same program will be Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Anita Page in "Little Accident" taken from the stage play of the same name which had such a long successful run in Boston last fall.

The last half of the week Ruth Chatterton will be seen in "The Right To Love." This is one of this popular star's best pictures. John Gilbert in "Way For A Sailor" will be the co-feature. The usual Saturday matinee for children at 1:30 p. m. when a serial, toys, etc., added to the regular program, will be offered.

Aldermen Hold Shortest Meeting In Years—Routine Matters On Docket

Re-appoint John R. Prescott, Assessor; C. W. Randlett, Forest Warden, and Geo. E. Stuart, Supt. Gypsy Moth Work

The meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was the shortest in duration of any in the past couple of years. It lasted shortly over 30 minutes.

No persons were present to favor or oppose when hearings were announced on the following petitions—Edison and Telephone companies, joint pole locations on Allerton road, 1 pole; Rowena road, 1 pole; Frank Toscano, permits to conduct garage repair shops at 10 Border street, West Newton, and corner of Lexington street and Rumford avenue, West Newton.

The Board accepted the favorable reports of the License Committee granting permits to Thomas Mathews to move a dwelling from Crafts street next to the F. A. Day School to 742 Watertown street; New England Concrete Pipe Co., to install a 1000-gallon gasoline tank and a pump at 109 Needham street, Newton Upper Falls, for private use; Thomas Watters, 3-car garage at 478 Waltham street; John Grant, 3 express truck licenses at 327 Washington street.

The Board voted to grant a hearing on March 2nd on the petition of John Connelly to conduct a garage and repair shop at 1646-1650 Centre street, Newton Highlands. The petition of C. H. Whitmore to have the name of Angier circle changed was given leave to withdraw.

The Aldermen confirmed the following appointments made by Mayor Weeks—John R. Prescott, member Board of Assessors for period of three years from February 1, 1931. Clarence W. Randlett, Forest Warden for year 1931. George E. Stuart, Superintendent for Suppression of Gypsy and Brown-tail Moths for year 1931, under Provisions, Chapter 132, Sec. 139, Ch. Laws. Assistant Assessor for term year from February 2, 1931; Ralph T. Laffie, Frederick L. Smith, James A. Cox, William E. Flynt, C. Andrian Sawyer, Jr., member Board of Appeal, Building Laws, for term of one year from January 17, 1931, to January 16, 1932. Edward Ray Spence, member of Playground Commission, for term of three years, to expire in March 1934. Florence S. Fitzgerald, Director Public Welfare, one year. Dr. C. Arthur Boutelle, Inspector of Animals, term one year, from April 1, 1931, to March 31, 1932.

Appropriations made by the Board included—Water mains, Byrd avenue and Princess road, $2000; Hawthorne avenue, $625; relief work for unemployed on water reservation at Needham, $7500; water mains in Lindbergh avenue, Arapahoe, and Ellsworth roads, $2325; construction of drain from B. & A. bridge on Washington street to Aspen avenue, $5294; snow and ice removal, additional, $20,000; sewer construction, $43,000.

Orders were passed authorizing Mayor Weeks to transfer to Middlesex County title to the land on Washington street where the new district courthouse will be erected. In exchange the city will receive title to the parcel of land on Elm street, West Newton, which the county bought last year as the site for the new court house. A hearing was ordered on the matter of discontinuing a portion of the Edmonds Valley sewer and drain easement south of Cotton street and west of West Boulevard road.

Claims were received from George Weierich for damages to his automobile caused by a collision with a city truck on Beacon street, Newton Centre, and from S. A. Wilkinson for damage to his automobile caused by a snow plow colliding with it on Beacon street.

The Shell Petroleum Company submitted a petition asking for a permit to relocate its pumps at the station on the corner of Beacon and Walnut streets, and to widen the driveways there from 25 to 35 feet. A petition was received from Louis Volpe and Joseph Allison asking that they be given a permit to erect and maintain a gasoline filling station on their properties at the corner of Willow and Centre streets, Newton Centre; this station to have 4 pumps and store 4000 gallons of gasoline. This location is now zoned for business. Several months ago a petition was received from Chief Randlett of the Fire Department asking that these two parcels of property be changed to a residence zone. That petition was refused. A hearing was set on this petition for Monday, March 2nd.

Alderman Grebenstein asked that the rules be suspended so that a traffic ordinance might be passed prohibiting trucks over 2 tons in capacity from traveling on Chestnut street between 12 midnight and 7 mornings. Mr. Grebenstein stated that because of the steep grade on this street, heavy trucks going over it have prevented residents on the street from sleeping nights. Alderman Silvanus Smith asked that the matter be referred back to the Claims and Rules Committee so that it could be made more strict. Mr. Smith advocated stopping heavy trucks from using Chestnut street at all times. His real reason, however, was because he wanted heavy trucking prohibited on Grove street, Auburndale. Mr. Smith expressed the opinion that heavy trucks should be kept off all residential streets, and confined to main streets. Alderman Powers said that while he agreed with the Ward 4 member that something should be done to relieve the nuisance caused by heavy trucks travelling on residential streets, he doubted if the Public Works Department of the State would approve of drastic ordinances which will prohibit heavy trucking at all hours on such streets as Chestnut and Grove streets.

Alderman Bail suggested that Walnut street be added to the list, as well as Chestnut and Grove streets. He told of the heavy trucks rumbling over Walnut street at all hours of the night, jarring houses so violently that persons were almost shaken out of their beds. Alderman Powers suggested that while the Aldermen are taking measures to eliminate noise from heavy trucks, they might endeavor to persuade the trustees of the Boston Elevated (two of whom reside in this city) to co-operate in relieving residents of Newton from the terrific noise made at all hours of the day and night by the rattling-trap cars imported last year from East Boston for use on the Newton-Brighton-Boston line. One of these cars, operated in poor condition, makes as much noise as a dozen trucks, according to the ward 1 Alderman.

BENEFIT SHOP

The Hospital Aid Benefit Shop has opened a new "Annex" at 883 Washington street, Newtonville. Many interesting articles find their way into the Benefit Shop and its Annex. It pays to get the habit of dropping in Wednesday or Friday mornings. Bits of interesting glass, china, or old silver—good books and sometimes good pieces of furniture appear among the more prosaic clothes and necessities which the shop offers at such reasonable prices. Drop in any time and browse around.

POLICE NEWS

Fred Gallagher of Washington St., Lynn, was fined $100 in the Newton court yesterday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested two weeks ago at Newton Centre by policemen who observed him driving zigzag along Langley rd. A car owned by J. W. Guentert of 1101 Beacon street, Brookline, was stolen Wednesday while parked opposite 929 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre.

Boy Scouts To Hold Exposition

Varied Activities To Be Shown At Demonstration

Next week the West Newton Armory will be the scene of energetic labor, for Boy Scouts from every troop in Newton will be making ready for their "Boy Scout Exposition," which will be held this year on next Friday and Saturday, February 27 and 28. The subjects which the boys are planning to demonstrate will show the broad scope of Scouting. They illustrate the fact that the Scout program realizes that boys are individuals, and as such have widely different tastes and ideas. The subjects to which Scouting serves to introduce the boys are many and varied, and this Exposition will show just what scouts can do by themselves, with leadership from within their own ranks. Those who saw last year's "Merit Badge Exposition" will never forget such exhibits as photography, poultry raising, first aid, printing, conservation, firearms, aviation, seamanship and others too numerous to mention. Music will be provided at intervals during the Exposition, and this year a light supper will be available to all those who wish to stay through the afternoon and evening. The exhibition will be open to the public on Friday evening, and on Saturday afternoon and evening.

PLANNING BOARD PUBLISHES RULES

The Planning Board of the City of Newton has issued a pamphlet giving its rules and regulations. In General, the Planning Board will not approve layouts where house lots are less than 50 feet wide and 100 feet deep. Names of proposed streets must not duplicate street names now existing in this city; plans must show proposed drainage of surface water, rights of way, easements, all buildings and physical features on abutting property within 60 feet, in addition to many other details. Streets must be 40 feet or more in width; cross streets must not be more than 800 feet apart, nor less than 400, unless conditions justify variation from this rule; grades on streets must not be more than 7%, nor less than 0.50%, without special permission.

According to State laws no deeds can be recorded on lots in any development which does not receive the approval of a Planning Board or Board of Survey in any city or town where such a body exists. Where deeds cannot be recorded, banks cannot loan mortgages. So, persons who attempt to develop property without obtaining the approval of the Planning Board are inviting trouble for themselves.

MANY CITY EMPLOYEES ON PART TIME

A score of employees of the Water Department who had been out of work for five weeks, went back to work this week following the appropriation of several thousands of dollars by the Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night. In the Street Department, 125 men were put to work on a half-time basis. These men are the newer men in the department, seniority counting in accordance with Civil Service rules. It was either a case of about 70 men being laid off, or the larger number being placed on the half-time basis until weather conditions permit a resumption of work on a larger scale when the ground is free from frost. The frequent snow storms which have occurred in recent weeks have been responsible for these men not having been idle much of the time before this week.

BANKING ROOMS REMODELLED

On Monday, February 23, between the hours of 3 and 7 the Newton Trust Company will open for public inspection its completely remodelled banking rooms at 282 Washington street, Newton. These rooms which now embrace the most recent development in every banking facility are on the same site which the Newton Trust Company has always occupied.

Red Cross Quota Nearly Doubled

Newton Chapter Reports $21,050—Quota $11,400

"I am willing to trust the Red Cross in any emergency, anywhere at any time," said General Pershing. These words have been backed up by the millions of citizens of the United States that for the past month have been contributing to the $10,000,000 Red Cross Drought Relief Fund called for by President Hoover.

The appeal of the Drought Relief cause has touched every heart and has even swept over the borders, north and south. Subscriptions have come to National Headquarters from Canadian and Mexican communities. Despite the fact that quotas were not assigned to the 21 Drought States, Chapters in all of them raised funds and sent them promptly to National Headquarters.

Word has come from Washington that there is no longer any danger that this tremendous Drought Relief program will fail for any reason or in any way. The people of the nation have given freely and gladly and the entire $10,000,000 will without doubt be collected. It is now predictable that by the first of March the battle against Drought will be won along every line in the Drought area, won to the gratification of the Red Cross family which embraces all of our people. When we say won we do not mean that the work of relief will end on the first of March, but we mean that the crisis will have been passed. Suffering and hardship will continue for many months and the relief work will continue on through to the end.

The Newton Chapter of the Red Cross announces that $21,050 for Drought Relief has been contributed to date by the people of Newton. Contributions are being gladly received at the chapter office, 12 Austin street, Newtonville. The quota of $11,400 has been exceeded and the City can feel proud of the generous support of its people to the American Red Cross and of their unselfish assistance given to our stricken fellow-countrymen.

This Drought Relief program has been of tremendous magnitude and once more the Red Cross has proved itself to be the country's reliable agency in times of disaster. Its tradition of humanitarian relief that has grown for the past fifty years continues to go forward.

DENTIST AND DOCTOR HAVE DEFERRED OLD AGE

Modern science may have somewhat lengthened the span of life, but the dentist and oculist have really accomplished most in lengthening the active years of life, said Dr. E. Howard Griggs during the second lecture of the Read course last Friday evening in the Underwood School Auditorium. Good glasses and skillful dentistry are comparatively modern developments said he. In Shakespeare's time and the times represented by his historical plays most people could no longer see well and had lost their teeth by middle life. They were old, could see poorly, lived on pap, sat in the chimney corner and waited for death, because there was nothing else for them to do. Shakespeare accomplished his long anticipated retirement to his estate at Stratford on the Avon at forty-eight and died at fifty-two, while we today regard men and women as merely fully mature at fifty.

A full house has greeted Doctor Griggs on each of his first two lectures and has sat in wrapt attention to his highly appreciative poetical and historical interpretation of "Romeo and Juliet" and "Richard II."

ALBEMARLE GOLF CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At its yearly meeting held Feb. 14, W. S. Osborne and Kenneth P. Kempton were elected treasurer and secretary and J. M. Everett and J. A. Bryant were re-elected to the board of directors. John Keller and Arnold Hayes were newly elected to the board. The treasurer's report showed a substantial increase in receipts over 1929.

Bus Problem Before School Committee

Seek to Relieve Traffic Congestion On Walnut Street

The matter of relieving traffic congestion on Walnut street, Newtonville, by providing some other place on which the busses can stop mornings when they are unloading school pupils at the High School, was discussed at the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night. So many complaints have been received from persons who have been delayed while attempting to proceed along Walnut street, that Mayor Weeks has asked the School Committee to co-operate in solving this problem. The suggestion has been made that the busses be permitted to enter the driveway at the Classical High School. This suggestion was referred to the sub-committee on transportation.

The resignation of Miss Mary Danks, secretary of the Vocational Department, was accepted. It will take effect April 1. The leave of absence granted to Marguerite Greene, teacher at the Hyde School, was extended for the school year of 1931-1932. Miss Roxanna Holden was granted a leave of absence for this same school year. She desires to continue her studies. It was voted to allow the use of school halls on designated afternoons and evenings to certain organizations.

CELEBRATES NINETY-FIRST BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Rebecca W. Noble of Newton Centre celebrated her ninety-first birthday on Saturday, Feb. 7th. Four generations were represented, among them her two sons, Reverend Edwin L. Noble of Quincy and William M. Noble of Newton Centre and a grand-son, W. Mark Noble, Jr., also of Newton Centre. She was a Burlingame by birth and a second cousin of Anson Burlingame, former U. S. Minister to China.

Mrs. Noble possesses an unusual memory. She quotes poetry learned over eighty years ago, she remembers the days when the postmaster wrote a receipt on the corner of the envelope before the postage stamp was put in use. Her early life was spent in Stillwater, Maine, as one of a large family. During the Civil War a brother was imprisoned by the Confederates at Libby Prison. A few years after her marriage she and her husband took their two small children to live on the western frontier where their third child was born. Times were still wild and dangerous in these log-cabin days. Her recollection of the assassination of Lincoln is especially vivid and she also recalls the trial of John Brown as well as other historical events.

HARD TIMES PARTY

A Hard Times Party was given on Tuesday evening by the Woman's Bible Class of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. A great variety of costumes gave color to the occasion and "The Court," held to levy fines for infringement of laws—such as the wearing of "joolry, stylish close, purty neckties or silk wastes," meted out severe penalties. The judge although stern, showed partiality to certain feminine culprits and otherwise gave evidence of admiration, so that irate husbands stormed "The Court." The fines netted a "tidy some," as those who had not been "run in" by "The Selectmen" were also fined on general principles.

After the singing of old songs, fitting prizes were awarded to the best looking, the most dignified, the best behaved, the worst dressed, and the most stylish woman, while the worst dressed man did not lack recognition. Suitable refreshments were served at "The Penny Counter" and everyone agreed that Hard Times is no reason for not having Good Times.

NEW PASTOR AT WEST NEWTON

Rev. Herbert Hitchen who has served as pastor of the Adams Memorial Church at Dunkirk, New York since 1923 has accepted a call to the First Unitarian Church at West Newton, succeeding Rev. Paul Phelan who resigned on September 1st, 1930. He will assume his duties at West Newton on Easter Sunday. He was born in England, attended the University of Chicago, is married and has two daughters. He has lectured extensively throughout Western New York and Pennsylvania on modern literature, has been on the staff of the Summer School at Fredonia State Normal School and served as extension lecturer at New York University.

WABAN STREET FLOODED

Thawing snow and ice flooded Wilde road, Waban, on Wednesday until the street in places was covered with several feet of water. A call for aid was sent to the Fire Department and a pump was sent to the "flooded area." The pump worked from 5 o'clock until midnight before the water had been drained off onto White Oak road where it ran into surface drains.

Mayor's Relief Committee Report Reveals Interesting Facts

Chairman Rogers Reports Few Loans Of Small Amounts To Registered Unemployed

The Mayor's Relief Committee, through its Chairman, Leon B. Rogers, has issued the following report:—

February 11, 1931.
Hon. Mayor Sinclair Weeks,
City Hall,
West Newton, Mass.
Dear Mr. Mayor:

So that we can more intelligently handle the question of unemployment, it seemed best to your Committee to obtain some facts as they exist in the City of Newton today in comparison with other years. The question has naturally been asked, are there more unemployed this year than previous years, and if so, how many. To secure this information we wrote to every industry in the City; to the heads of the city departments which employ laborers of any kind and to the Chairmen of the various labor unions. We felt that by writing to the unions, we might get a real picture of the number of men that were unemployed in their trades this year in comparison with previous years.

The city departments co-operated with us 100%. Eleven industries answered our questionnaire, and we received two replies from the chairmen of the various labor unions, with the result that while this report is not entirely complete, it is the best we can obtain at the present time.

The enclosed report shows a marked increase in relief distributed for November, December and January of 1930 and 1931 over the same period of 1928 and 1929. Investigation through Miss Fitzgerald and Miss Chapin shows, that while the increase in relief is much greater than the apparent decrease in employment, it is due to the fact that during 1930 the gross earnings of the laboring class, carpenters, plumbers, etc., were substantially less than preceding years, which naturally resulted in their using up their savings at an earlier date this year than at former times.

The increase in the number of families cared for, both through the Public Welfare Department and the Newton Welfare Bureau, substantiates the above statement.

You will be interested in the first three months report of income and expenses of the Mayor's Relief Committee. I believe the greatest service rendered by the committee is the feeling of security on the part of those who, because a group of citizens are ready to help when necessary, we see so many cases, particularly of the so-called "white collar" class, where their savings are dwindling and they are in danger of losing their homes, which they bought probably at the highest peak, who have gone out of this office with the feeling that as a last resort someone is interested in them and it has given them courage to fight for a position. That feeling of security that they have has probably given them back-bone to fight their own battles, because our loans have been comparatively few in number and very small in amount in comparison to the number who registered.

The next two months will probably be the most difficult because the employment will be more or less intermittent and many who had savings accounts are reaching the end of their resources. The additional work that you have recommended will probably take care of the emergency cases of the laboring class. The Mayor's Relief Committee have sufficient funds to tide over the "white collar" class until business conditions improve.

Very truly yours,
MAYOR'S RELIEF COMMITTEE,
Leon B. Rogers, Chairman.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON WINS NIP AND TUCK GAME

The Newton high school basketball team won a nip and tuck battle from Wakefield high Tuesday afternoon in the Newton high school gym, 25 to 22. In a preliminary game the Newton seconds defeated the Wakefield seconds, 20 to 18 in an overtime period. In the main game the lead saw-sawed back and forth during the second half after Wakefield had cut down Newton's slight lead at the end of the first half. Frank Wetherbee kept the orange and black in the fight with several timely baskets as Wakefield threatened to stage a spurt to the fore. Wetherbee tossed in four goals from the floor to lead his team with eight points. Seaver followed with six, Huston and Weldig four each, and Bailey three to complete the total of 25.

Newton winds up its basketball season this evening, with a Suburban league encounter with Everett at the latter's court. The orange and black has been showing vast improvement in its recent games and hopes to avenge an earlier defeat by Everett on the Newton floor. Although Coach Simmons team has won but four of twelve starts but few of the defeats were overwhelming. The 1931 team is the third to be placed in the front rank since the sport was resumed after a lapse of a dozen or more years. The players are showing the results of fundamental training and continued improvement such as has been shown this year over a year ago will put the orange and black right up in the front rank.

SEXTET WINDS UP WITH TIE GAME

The Newton high school hockey team wound up its 1931 season last Saturday with a scoreless tie in a league game with Stoneham at the Boston Garden. Melrose, already assured of the title had little trouble in shutting out a weakened Belmont team, 8 to 0. The fight was for second place and when Newton and Stoneham tied Arlington staged a 3 to 2 victory over Cambridge Latin to step into the coveted position just above Stoneham. Rindge defeated Woburn, 3 to 0, to tie Newton for fifth place in the league standings.

The Newton-Stoneham affair was one of the best of the afternoon. Goals were few but the play was fast and the skills of Newton put up a wonderful game, making marvelous stops in rapid order to turn aside the Stoneham attack. Stoneham displayed a lot of speed and Newton tried hard but had less opportunities to count than the Stoneham lads.

The final league standing:

	W.	L.	T.	Pts.
Melrose	12	1	25
Arlington	7	2	16
Stoneham	6	5	15
Belmont	5	5	13
NEWTON	5	5	11
Rindge	5	7	11
Cambridge Latin	1	9	2
Woburn	0	8	2

All Scholastic Teams
Newton failed to place any players on the all-scholastic teams this year although a few of the members of the squad received scattered votes and honorable mention. In the composite vote choice of the eight coaches in the league published in the Boston Transcript, Charlie Butler received three votes for a defense berth from those coaches who failed to select Tony Saurausky of Rindge. Saurausky became ineligible under the three-year rule midway of the season. Warren Colby, along with Butler, was placed in the all-scholastic second teams by several papers and this pair are expected to play in the All-Suburban vs. All-Boston game at the Arena on Monday.

SPORT NOTES

Osborne Wins Quarter
Lloyd Osborne, former Newton high athlete now on the Yale varsity swimming team, won first place in the quarter mile swim in Yale's dual meet with Syracuse on Wednesday night. The Blue had little difficulty in winning the meet 60 to 11.

Nonantum Eliminated
Nonantum A. A. was eliminated from the New England district amateur Olympic hockey tryouts Tuesday night at the Arena by the Lexington Hockey Club in a 4 to 3 contest. The local team lined up as follows: Corbett, rw; Champagne, c; Garvey, rd; Marchand, rw; Proctor, rd; McDonald, rd; Farrell, g. Garvey, Marchand and Champagne scored for Nonantum.

Triple Tie in Newton League
By losing one of four points to the Newton Club on Wednesday evening, the Hunnewell Club team of the Newton league lost its lead of one point to drop back into a triple tie with University Club and the Middlesex Sportsmen's Association of Arlington, whose teams took all four points from their respective opponents, Weston and Maugus. Middlesex set three new records and Hunnewell one to feature the evening's performances. Middlesex hit 616 for a season high team single, 1697 for a season high team three string total and Gelsey of Middlesex with 116,113, and 146 totalled 375 for a new three string high for the season. Blandy of Hunnewell hit 148 on his second string for a new high single mark for the season. Other high spots of the night were University's team total of 1662 on which Gage hit 35 and Stephenson 257. Briggs of Commercial totalled 356 for his three strings. The present standing:

	W.	L.
Hunnewell	15	5
Middlesex	15	5
University	15	5
Commercial	11	9
Newton	7	13
Maugus	6	14
Waban	4	16

HOPES ARE HIGH TO WIN AT ANDOVER

Newton High school has high hopes of winning its second interscholastic meet of the season tomorrow afternoon at the annual Andover gathering although the orange and black will be closely pressed by Boston English, Lynn English, Medford, Brookline and Brockton. All of these schools have one or more almost sure first place winners. Scanlon of Boston English should take the 300-yard run with another good man in Herbert Woods in the dash. Tony Geniewicz will have no difficulty in winning the shot put for Lynn English with Jannell, winner of the Northeastern dash, a hard man to beat in this event. Medford has a fairly well-balanced assemblage with sufficient strength to pick up enough second and third places to make them dangerous. Brookline has Fred Varney, winner of the high jump at Northeastern, to count upon although both Green of Newton and Hilliard of Brockton beat him at the B. A. A. meet. Litman of Brookline may score well up in the mile while Green of Cambridge is one of the best 600-yarders in the state. Brockton has John McCarthy in the 600, Arthur LaFranchise in the 1000, and Hilliard in the high jump as its outstanding performers. With such athletes as opponents and strong relay teams from these same schools the Newton lads will have to be at their best to win.

The return to eligibility of Al Mouser, a leading 300-yard runner, and the excellent form shown by Al Guzzi in his last two races against Brigham of Brookline as well as Irwin's dash in the B. A. A. dash, have strengthened the orange and black considerably. Newton will go after everything in sight and will have strong entries in every event.

Holmes, Sloane and Irwin should give Newton its share of points in the dash. Green of Cambridge is one of the low hurdles although Donovan of Lawrence, along with Litman of Brookline will furnish him plenty of competition. Newton's entries in the 300 will be Bell, Cahill and Mouser with the possibility that at least two of them should get into the final. Guzzi will give his opponents a hard battle in the 600 and if the drawings give Newton a front row place in the same heat with Brookline the spectators should see another hair raising battle between this pair. George Lamb will carry the burden in the 1000 and it is to be hoped that he will be in the heat with LaFranchise of Brockton as this should be the fastest heat of the day. Greene will stage another contest for supremacy in the high jump with both Hilliard of Brockton and Varney of Brookline with this trio slated to divide the points. The Newton captain should place in the broad jump which is conceded to Howard Niblock of Lynn Classical, a better than ten feet jumper. Jim Colligan should place in the shotput to ease the burden on the Newton relay team which will be chosen from the boys who have not had too much competition during the earlier events. In this group will be Jarrell, Bradley, and Chalmers.

THREE TEAMS STILL TIED AT TOP

The triple deadlock for first place in the Greater Boston Catholic High School basketball league still continues with Our Lady High of Newton, St. Charles of Waltham, and Cathedral High of South Boston setting a merry pace. Each of these teams on their eighth and ninth victories in the ten games played to date last week Friday and this week Tuesday. In Friday's games Our Lady topped St. John's of Cambridge, 58 to 4. St. Charles took St. Clement's of Medford into camp, 54 to 5, and Cathedral outscored Immaculate Conception High of Revere, 36 to 20, Tuesday afternoon. St. Charles defeated St. Mary's 47 to 7, Our Lady won from Immaculate Conception, 36 to 20, and Cathedral had a 48 to 15 margin over St. John's.

Charlie Gallagher of Our Lady and Everett Gallant of St. Charles are staging a great battle for the individual high scoring honors. The Newton lad was leading his Watch City rival by a narrow margin prior to Tuesday's games but when these games were concluded Gallant had reversed the score, leading by 19 points. The Newton lad was leading his Watch City rival by a narrow margin prior to Tuesday's games but when these games were concluded Gallant had reversed the score, leading by 19 points.

Coach Don Enoch of Newton, and Coach Win Marling of Huntington have sent letters to Mr. Garcelon taking the "unfortunate incident in the best grace."

Newton started off with a bang by taking six points in the dash finals with Holmes a foot ahead of the rest of the field and Irwin placing third. In the trials Holmes had won the fifth heat in 4 4-5 seconds, a fifth of a second better than the other six heats. Irwin also won his trial heat, the seventh, in 5 seconds. Douglas Sloane, Newton's other dash entry, placed second to Rothwell of Noble & Greenwood. Holmes broke the tape with Roberts second, shutting out Satchebell who has been ill most of the winter and was clearly not up to his last year's form. Sloane was in the second semi-final with Rothwell, Whitman of Medford, Lavallee of Worcester Academy and Lawson of Huntington. Rothwell won with Lavallee second. The third semi-final brought Irwin against Woods, Herschoff of Bridgton and Souther of Medford. Woods and Irwin qualified for the finals.

ERROR SNATCHES VICTORY AWAY

Just as Newton high school track athletes and fans were about to gather their wraps about them and come home with a well-earned victory in the annual B. A. A. games last Saturday afternoon at the Arena, an error by one of the officials of the meet snatched the victory away. The resulting mix-up has not been settled as yet, and William F. Garcelon, chairman of the B. A. A. committee, stated yesterday that he "may have a statement or solution to offer on the matter next week, but every time I confer with someone about the affair a new and more puzzling angle arises. Briefly the situation is as follows.

Up to the final three relays on the program Newton high was leading the field with 9 1/2 points. Huntington schools had 8 1/2, and Worcester Academy and Boston English had 8 each. Newton's relay against Brookline was to win in 3 min. 42 1/2 seconds which would give them at least two more points in the relay. Medford, Brockton and Portsmouth staged a triangular relay with Medford winning in 3 min. 41 2/5 seconds and the other two schools tied so that the time of either could not affect Newton. The final relay of the day was that between Huntington and Worcester. The former defeated the latter in the absurd time of 3m. 20 1/5 seconds, faster than the time made by the Harvard varsity relay last year in New York that set a record. Then it was brought to light that the second runners on each team had raced but two laps each instead of three because the official in charge of the race had sent them out onto the track to receive the batons a lap too early. Following much discussion an official statement from the referee, Wm. P. Kenney, N. E. A. U. president, gave Huntington the best relay time and Worcester the second best time which gave them sufficient points to pass Newton with Huntington on top with 13 1/2, Worcester second with 12 1/2 and Newton third with 11 1/2. A wave of protest naturally arose and it has not yet been cleared. Various methods of settling the matter have been suggested but none have seemed to be satisfactory. It was first announced that the two teams might get together again and the relay over. This would be impracticable because similar conditions could never have been attained and these same conditions had a great bearing on the race. The second Huntington runner, Donald Lawson, the one who ran but two laps through no fault of his own, had previously completed two laps in the dash and also the trials and finals of the 300-yard run. Having already taken the edge off his performance for the day it is certain that his third lap would have been considerably slower than his first two. In this event Huntington could never have beaten the time set by Everett of Bridgton academy, the two fastest up to that time. The Hub school would have had to be faster than the latter team in order to pick up the needed points to pass Newton. Another suggestion was that the meet be called a tie between Newton and Huntington. If this were followed there would arise the question that had the two runners completed the required distance the Worcester team might have beaten the Huntington team which would have put Worcester above Huntington. A third suggestion was that the Huntington-Worcester relay be tossed out altogether as it did not complete the requirements. This, some believe, would not be fair to these schools as it was through no fault of their actions that the race was not run right. But their is precedent behind such action. Several years ago at the B. A. A. track the Brookline high relay team was disqualified which resulted in the loss of the meet. Brookline had the meet well in hand and its relay team needed only to finish to win sufficient points to capture the meet. There were only a few relays and even the slowest time would score points. The third Brookline runner dropped the baton in passing it to his anchor man and the baton rolled off the track onto the floor below. The Brookline runner, realizing the situation waited until an attempt was made to throw the baton up again. The attempt failed and an official told the runner to run without his baton. He did so and finished the race. The ruling was made that Brookline did not finish legally (with the baton) and the team was disqualified, scored no points in the relay, and lost the meet by a fraction of a point.

Coach Don Enoch of Newton, and Coach Win Marling of Huntington have sent letters to Mr. Garcelon taking the "unfortunate incident in the best grace."

Newton started off with a bang by taking six points in the dash finals with Holmes a foot ahead of the rest of the field and Irwin placing third. In the trials Holmes had won the fifth heat in 4 4-5 seconds, a fifth of a second better than the other six heats. Irwin also won his trial heat, the seventh, in 5 seconds. Douglas Sloane, Newton's other dash entry, placed second to Rothwell of Noble & Greenwood. Holmes broke the tape with Roberts second, shutting out Satchebell who has been ill most of the winter and was clearly not up to his last year's form. Sloane was in the second semi-final with Rothwell, Whitman of Medford, Lavallee of Worcester Academy and Lawson of Huntington. Rothwell won with Lavallee second. The third semi-final brought Irwin against Woods, Herschoff of Bridgton and Souther of Medford. Woods and Irwin qualified for the finals.

Holmes drew a place in the first semi-final side of Satchebell, with Keller of Medford, Egan of Winthrop, and Roberts in the remaining lanes. Holmes broke the tape with Roberts second, shutting out Satchebell who has been ill most of the winter and was clearly not up to his last year's form. Sloane was in the second semi-final with Rothwell, Whitman of Medford, Lavallee of Worcester Academy and Lawson of Huntington. Rothwell won with Lavallee second. The third semi-final brought Irwin against Woods, Herschoff of Bridgton and Souther of Medford. Woods and Irwin qualified for the finals.

Meanwhile the high jumpers were settling their battle with Sandler of St. John's prep and Costello of Worcester academy deadlocking at 5 feet 10 inches for first place. A quartet of jumpers, Green of Newton, Hilliard of Brockton, Dermody of Huntington and Pope of Milton academy split the third place point into quarters.

Thus the meet came down to the final three relays between Newton and Brookline, Medford, Brockton and Lawrence, and the much discussed Worcester-Huntington relay. The Newton-Brookline affair was the tightest affair of the afternoon with not more than three or four yards separating the runners at any time. Doug

In the finals it was a case of Holmes against the field. He was off in front and going away at the tape to win with daylight showing between him and the others. Woods of English and Irwin placed second and third. The six points for the orange and black was a good start.

The high hurdles followed with Captain Milton Green of Newton looming as one of the favorites. Seven trials narrowed the field down to fourteen, necessitating four semi-finals with the winners qualifying for the final race. Donovan of Lawrence showed exceptionally well, winning his trial heat and the first semi-final with plenty to spare. McGrath of Worcester Academy, Rowan of Huntington, and Green won their semi-final heats. The four got set and were off together with Green lifting over the first barrier slightly in the lead. Donovan caught the Newton athlete at the last hurdle and broke the tape six inches to the goal. McGrath trailed Green for third place and Rowan was shut out. Green's three points brought Newton's total to nine as the athletes turned their attention to the track.

A series of team races was held with Everett being clocked in 3 minutes 37 1/5 seconds in its race with Lowell, Lynn Classical and Portsmouth Priory. This time was that announced officially although several unofficial times placed the figure as more than seven seconds slower.

The 200-yard trials saw Jim Cahill of Newton in the first heat with Captain John Kelley of Huntington, 1930 winner, Geo. Lavallee of Worcester Academy, Captain Jimmie Good of Medford, Dooley of LaSalle Academy and Paul McMahon of St. John's Prep. Lavallee won the heat with Good of Medford second, the pair qualifying for the finals. Kelley was third and Cahill fourth. Lawson of Huntington won the second heat with plenty to spare over Duff of St. John's and Larry Scanlon of Boston English the third heat in impressive style with Reed Morse of Dean Academy second. When the final was held later in the afternoon Scanlon drew the pole with Lawson on the outside. Morse juggled Scanlon off the pole at the first bank with Lawson at his heels. The Boston English lad had the start of the final lap that carried him off in front to win. Morse was second and Lawson third.

Vincent Signore was Newton's hope in the first heat of the 600 as Coach Enoch held Guzzi and Jarrell for the relay against Brookline. Gerstein of Huntington took the heat with Enoch of St. John's Prep second. Unlacked of Huntington won the second heat with Nowlin of Worcester Academy second to also qualify for the finals. Huntington took a big boost when the third heat was won by Charlie Gow of Huntington lad, with Goodhue of Milton Academy second. It began to look as though Huntington would sweep the finals although Nowlin had looked good in his heat. Had Huntington swept the event there would have been no dispute as to who would win the relay. On the second lap the Huntington lads, with Unlacked in the lead, were 1-2-3, but Nowlin cut loose to break the field wide open. His surge with a lap to go carried him past Gow and Gerstein but Unlacked held him off with a final sprint to the tape. Gerstein took third to give Huntington six points and bring them up within two points of Newton.

The 1000-yard run was another thrilling race with Tom Russell of LaSalle academy, 1930 winner, successfully defending his laurels against the field. George Lamb, Newton's best, was in the third row at the start and had to fight his way through most of the field. Beasley of Huntington and LaFranchise of Brockton high ran a ding-dong battle right up to the last lap with the high school lad having a slight lead. On the final lap Russell caught Beasley and set out for LaFranchise. He passed the latter to win by a yard. Beasley's one point for third place brought Huntington right up on Newton's heels.

Meanwhile the high jumpers were settling their battle with Sandler of St. John's prep and Costello of Worcester academy deadlocking at 5 feet 10 inches for first place. A quartet of jumpers, Green of Newton, Hilliard of Brockton, Dermody of Huntington and Pope of Milton academy split the third place point into quarters.

Thus the meet came down to the final three relays between Newton and Brookline, Medford, Brockton and Lawrence, and the much discussed Worcester-Huntington relay. The Newton-Brookline affair was the tightest affair of the afternoon with not more than three or four yards separating the runners at any time. Doug Chalmers led off for the orange and black against Litman of Brookline. The Newton lad handed over a slight lead to Bell which was lost in passing the baton and Keary, Brookline second runner, was off in front. Bell came back to hand over about three yards to Dick Jarrell, running against Gleason. Guzzi of Newton and Brigham of Brookline started out almost on even terms. On the stretches Brigham would make his effort to wrest the lead from the Newton flyer but Guzzi held him off each time to take the bank first where he slowed his pace slightly. Time after time Brigham would make an effort but Guzzi continually held him off. Coming off the last bank the pair were running almost shoulder to shoulder with the crowd on its feet, tense with excitement. Down the stretch they came, both putting all they had into the finish. The Newton lad had the stuff and broke the tape by almost a yard, giving Newton the third time with two more relays to go. Medford had little difficulty in winning from Brockton and Lawrence and making 45 seconds faster time than Newton. When Huntington and Worcester began their race the former needed to beat Medford's time to tie Newton and beat the time of 3 minutes 39 4-5 seconds made by Bridgton to win. Worcester had to beat Huntington and also beat the time made by Bridgton to total more points than Newton. Such was the situation when the team relay mix-up in the relay occurred which had a great deal to do with "robbing" the orange and black of a well-deserved probable victory. Before the error occurred unofficial timings caused several of those who were holding watches on the event to agree that neither team could make fast enough time to meet Newton out of the event. When the timing was revealed as a new record consternation reigned for a moment until it was discovered that the second pair of runners had run but two laps each instead of three.

SPORT NOTES

To Compete Against Brown
The Boston University varsity and freshman track teams will meet the Brown varsity and yearling outfits at Providence tomorrow. John Grist, high jumper, and Ken Slade, 1000-yard runner, both Newton youths, will be in these events for the Terrier freshmen.

Floring at U. of Maine
Bill Floring, former Huntington star, is a freshman at the University of Maine this year and competing in the freshman track team. The Newton Centre youth should be among the leading college track stars in the hurdles before graduating.

Jones to Manage Harwich
Jeff Jones, Newton high school teacher and assistant baseball coach, will again manage the Harwich team of the Cape Cod league this coming summer. Jones is beginning to gather a team of players that will make a bid for the title.

Big Triangular Meet
The annual triangular college track meet between Harvard, Dartmouth and Cornell will be held tomorrow evening on the Boston Garden track. This is the big indoor track card of the college season in which several former Newton athletes usually compete. Hamilton Kollmyer, former Newton high and Exeter academy star, may compete. He is working out with the squad but has been somewhat troubled with a bad leg which may keep him out until the big intercollegiate meet in New York next Saturday. Edward Ebelhare, all scholastic high jumper when at Newton a few years ago, will represent Cornell in his favorite event. Ebelhare took third place last year and will be in the running for first place along with Moody and Milans of Dartmouth at six feet or over. Carl Pescosolido whose feats at Newton are still well-remembered will be in the freshman dash with an excellent chance of winning.

Yale Baseball Candidates
Candidates for the Yale varsity baseball team have been ordered to report for the first practice next Monday. With ten letter men available the Blue should be represented by a strong team this season. Edgar Warren, former Newton high third baseman, will without doubt hold down third base again this year as in 1930 when he was a sophomore. Allie Fletcher, former Newton high infielder and heavy hitter, is a sophomore this year and will make a strong bid to take the second base berth from any veteran on hand.

WHEN the two finest cars in America pay Studebaker a magnificent compliment, Studebaker knows how to acknowledge it!

Never, in all its 79 years of pioneering, has any former Studebaker achievement received such swift and distinguished recognition!

Pierce-Arrow and Lincoln had no competitive scruples about following Studebaker... each paid Free Wheeling the tribute of adoption, intact and unmodified.

If you can afford the luxury of a Pierce-Arrow, or a Lincoln, buy one; but if you can't afford either, remember that the most momentous thing in both of them is within your reach in the three great Studebaker Eights or the brilliant new Studebaker Six.

Simply keep in mind that a Free Wheeling Studebaker, however low in price, is the Free Wheeling equal of the two finest American automobiles that money will buy!

Free Wheeling with positive gear control rests your engine one mile in every five... cuts down the cost of gasoline, oil and tires... and minimizes strain and wear on engine and chassis.

With Free Wheeling, there's no need to touch the clutch in shifting from high to second or second to high... and the full braking power of your engine is always instantly available at any speed.

Highway commissioners and safety directors throughout the country have driven Free Wheeling Studebakers and then voiced approval of Free Wheeling with positive gear control as a new measure of safety both to driver and public.

Studebaker, Pierce-Arrow, and Lincoln... all Free Wheeling... all recommended... which shall it be?

ROTARY CLUB

Prof. Henry K. Rowe gave an interesting talk on the growth and development of the Newton Theological Institution at the Monday luncheon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club which was held in the recently remodelled student dining room on Institution Hill. The Club for a second time enjoyed the hospitality of President Herrick, who in happy fashion introduced the speakers and also the members of the faculty. Mr. Blanton, a graduate student, spoke briefly of the high repute in which the Newton Institution is held in his home state of North Carolina and of the apparent ignorance of the institution of some folks who live in Newton, as was shown by the failure of a policeman and others to direct him to it on his arrival in Newton Centre. After luncheon a number of the rotarians were shown about the grounds, visiting library, chapel, and gymnasium, and enjoying the wonderful view from the hill.

Raymond Ashley, security broker, a new member, was present for the first time. The next meeting of the club is on Tuesday, Feb. 24, at Natick as guests of the Natick Club.

ZONTA CLUB

At the regular monthly dinner of the Newton Zonta Club, held at the Pied Piper Tea Room on Monday, February 16th, the Club had as its guest the Regional Chairman, Miss Cora E. MacKenzie, Secretary and Assistant Manager of the Johnson-Appleby Company of Cambridge.

Miss MacKenzie gave a report on the National Convention which was held in Seattle, Washington, last summer. She told of the Zonta Special, the only transcontinental train ever to make the trip with no men passengers, which left Chicago and made its way westward through Milwaukee, the Twin Cities, and on to Glacier National Park, and Seattle; of the wonderful receptions along the route; of the inspiration of the convention; and last, but not least, of the side trips to Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. The report was an inspiration in itself.

This year the Convention will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, and the trip which follows it will help link the business women of the two worlds, the old and the new. The Zontians will travel to Vienna, and Zonta International will have an even greater meaning than it now has.

LASELL SEMINARY

Dean Lillie R. Potter was the guest speaker at the Mothers' Club of Wakefield, on Monday evening, February 16. Dean Potter's subject was "A Sermon to Saints."

On Saturday evening, the annual Martha Washington Costume Party will be held at Bragdon Hall. Principal and Mrs. Winslow will lead the Grand March at eight o'clock.

The Reverend Douglas Horton, Pastor of Leyden Congregational Church in Brookline, will be the Vesper Service speaker on Sunday afternoon, February 22.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

The way the autos speed along, Through melting ice and mud, Compels pedestrians take care Of spoiling every dud.

And, furthermore, there is the chance, When motors fast roll by, The wheels will send a stream your way And hit you in the eye.

But, never mind, it can't be helped, Preserve your manner meek, You're celebrating, don't forget, "AUTO SPLASHING WEEK."

As I herewith state that my interest in "Mother Goose" has been revived I can almost hear my readers of this column saying, "We might have known that." Please let me explain. The other day I was busily pounding away at my daily grind, trying to make my fingers travel over the typewriter with a speed approximating that of a professional typist. I suddenly looked up and there stood a kindly old lady. Without delay she began, "Mr. Bentley, I thought you would be just the one to be interested in this book."

That proved, at least in my case, good salesmanship for I thanked her, completely ignorant of the book to which she referred. "May I see it?" I asked, for then I began to wonder whether her words would really or second thought strike me as complimentary. The book would tell. I found an attractive little volume, gotten up like the old-time readers. It was called "The Only True Mother Goose Melodies—An exact reproduction of the text and illustrations of the original edition published and copyrighted in Boston in the year 1833 by Munroe & Francis, with introduction by Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D.D. Published by Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co."

Possession of the book was merely a business transaction and a pleasant one. So much so that now I own it I don't think I could be persuaded to part with it at a wide margin of profit, if such were offered. Especially valuable to me is the message which the old woman on the inside cover—"Love to learn and learn to love, motto of Julia Ward Howe." The old lady wrote her autograph and the date, too.

Ever since, I have been taking short and long glances, as the time permits, at the old drawings of "The old woman who lived under the hill," of "Richard and Robin" who "were two pretty men," of "Baa, baa black sheep" and all the beloved friends of my childhood days. I suppose the greatest kick is the funny cover, with a goose, dressed in the gown of an old lady and a frilled cap. In the cradle is a gosling and two goslings standing beside "Mother Goose."

Maybe you think I haven't found something worth reading. Indeed, I have and I quite agree with the quoted statement of "Mother Goose" herself—"No, no, my melodies will never die, while nurses sing or babies cry."

Women have been heard to say that men like to brag. I wonder if they really understand that men do not mean to appear boastful, although they may enjoy describing and enumerating their personal accomplishments. As far as I know it may be necessary for them to remind the world what they have done; otherwise it might be overlooked. I believe a man not only has a right to tell how good he is, but that if he doesn't the fact may not be generally known. A number of men, I find, share this view and that perhaps accounts for the observation of women that we men are rather stuck on ourselves.

Only the other night at a small gathering in a friend's house the men of the party were telling of how quickly they could get from their business duds into evening clothes, or from gardening raiment into traveling dress or whatever state they might be in to another far different. Now I do not count this as bragging, but rather a case of comparing notes. You know that professional and business men, whether they be medical doctors, teachers, merchants, bankers or whatnot, have regular meetings at which they discuss their ideas. This I do not count as bragging, but rather a case of comparing notes. You know that professional and business men, whether they be medical doctors, teachers, merchants, bankers or whatnot, have regular meetings at which they discuss their ideas. This I do not count as bragging, but rather a case of comparing notes.

"I think I hold the record," said one man. "I'm willing to bet that nobody ever did what I did in less time." "Let us in on your secret," urged another. "Well, I was working in the garden, you know, old clothes and everything and me covered with dirt when I got a telegram to jump to New York. I found I had barely time to pack my bag and jump into my car and drive from Newton to Boston. And yet I had to put on a business suit and before doing that make myself presentable."

He paused to refill all goblets on the table with White Rock and we maintained an eager silence until everybody had been served.

"Well, I have only this to say," he went on. "I bathed, shaved and changed my clothes in exactly seven minutes."

"Seven minutes? Did you say seven?" we chorused. "That's right," came the assurance. Naturally, that started the rest of us and while nobody could match this record each man had something to tell of how fast he could make a quick change.

I write of this to show that men have reason for bragging, no matter what the women say. Incidentally, I doubt if the principal critics of husbands and brothers could do such things in so short a time.

Detective stories, I find, have a wide appeal. Crime mysteries are apparently read by young and old. But of all the tales nothing seems to find such favor as the solution of a homicide or the theft of a string of pearls.

I have often wondered why these two subjects were favorites with authors, great, small and mediocre. Why doesn't somebody turn to such things as setting fires? Possibly because the damage is covered by insurance and can be measured, in any event, by dollars and cents if there doesn't happen to have been a loss of life involved.

I was chatting with a man who has a reputation for ferreting out arson cases. He has had a wide experience in this line, which, by the way, is one of the most difficult for a sleuth. The very clues that might lead to detection of the criminal may have been devoured by the flames. Yet to me there has always appeared a glimmer of mystery over an act of incendiaryism. The person who steals his way into a building for the purpose of destroying by fire must have a queer sort of mind. He cannot possess a vast amount of courage since he counts on covering his tracks. Well, at any rate I told my friend the detective all the things that puzzled me.

"You'd be surprised," said he, "how little knowledge the average firebug has of explosives or even of setting a fire that is certain to spread. Most of them think that by touching a match to something that they will achieve their purpose. They make no calculations as to what the fire, once started, may do. They forget such things as conditions which preclude the spreading of the flames. Sometimes they use explosives in such a way as to defeat their own purposes. Few of them show any originality and most of them are plain stupid. The usual way of setting fires is one that we recognize almost as soon as we start our investigation."

I could not refrain from suggesting that my friend write a book on the subject.

He shook his head. "Nothing doing," said he. "If I told of attempted fires that had failed we would merely be furnishing information for future incendiaries. That would make more work for us. No, sir, let these people go ahead in their own way and we'll catch them or know the reason why."

More people should go away for a winter's rest. Staying at home this kind of weather is bad for the nerves or something. Anyway, it makes folks write letters like the following I have received, signed "L. G. H.":

"This is the age of the society for the promotion of and the society in opposition to this and that. Every organization you hear about is anti this or pro that, and I want to know what it's all about."

"Time was when a society was a group of sociably inclined persons who gathered themselves together every so often to play bridge, make lampshades, eat chowder and run down their absent members. That was in the good old days, of which I am so fond of writing."

"Not so nowadays, however, for every club or association in existence seems to have a purpose and that purpose is the furtherance of some proposition or the opposition of another. What fun!"

"Personally, I should consider it rather dull to belong to a society composed of persons who all agreed with me and each other about even one thing. Yes, sir, even if it was accidental. As for joining such a group for any specified purpose, I can't see that at all."

"The best thing I can do, I guess, is to start a couple of clubs of my own, so here they are:

"The Anti Societies which are Anti Society and the Amalgamated Association To Promote Associations Which Aren't Promoting Anything. "Membership lists are now open. "Now, see what you've got me into!"

It was the first time I have ever heard of bargains in postage stamps. A man had somehow managed to work his way into the presence of the head of a big business. (It was the latter, by the way, from whom I got the story.) Without delay the visitor offered to sell a large quantity of postage stamps at a price considerably less than that at which they could be obtained at the postoffice.

Without allowing his visitor to suspect that he was suspected, the business man asked, "How can you afford to sell them at that price?"

"O," replied the other, just as if he were selling any trade commodity, "our firm buys them in such large quantities."

Of course my friend would have liked to turn the fellow over to the authorities but when he began to try to pin him down to a business address and suggested that he call again, the gentleman smiled and quietly withdrew.

OUR GENERAL

You have been called, dear General. To the final goal of all. To the highest heights of Heaven. By the Leader of us all.

God sent you to us, General. We found you staunch and true. And now He has called you back to Him. Because He is proud of you.

Though it grieves us with your parting And we'll miss you more and more, You can help him guide us, "Daddy," As you did on yonder shore.

With our "Stout Hearts," as you called us, With our good old Yankee trait, We shall carry on, till we meet again Beyond the Golden Gate.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newtonville Woman's Club

Alice Friend Mitchell, a student of Child Psychology, and president of the Providence Homemakers' Club, will speak to the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday afternoon, February 24, at 2:30 P. M., in the Central Congregational Church. The American Home committee, Mrs. Bion M. Weatherhead chairman, has charge of this meeting. On this occasion, the Club gives members an opportunity to entertain a friend. Members are urged to invite friends who have young children and are interested in child problems. Their children are also invited to come and be entertained by Miss Ruth Newell, a pupil of the Perry Kindergarten School.

The Hospital committee will meet at the home of Mrs. Perez B. Howard of 111 Washington park, on Thursday, February 26, at 1:30 p. m. to carry forward their excellent work.

Mrs. J. Walter Allen will hold a meeting of the Garden Club at her home, 488 Watertown street, on the same day, Thursday, February 26, at 10 a. m. Mrs. Wallace Boyden, who has recently made a visit to California, will tell of this trip, discussing especially the flowers of Southern California.

"Her Choice," a comedy in three acts, will be presented by the Drama committee on Tuesday, March 3, at 8 p. m., in the Newton High School Auditorium. This is a regular meeting of the Club and members will be admitted on presentation of their membership tickets. Guest tickets may be obtained at the box office on the night of the performance at fifty cents each.

The cast includes Jack W. Stanley as Stuart Randolph. Mr. Stanley has played with Players and has also appeared on the London stage. William E. Cooper plays the part of Richard Belden. Mr. Cooper will be remembered as appearing in the Central Club play "Out of the Night." Ernest Braithwaite plays the lead as John Belden. Mr. Braithwaite is a well-known favorite of the Audubon Players. He will be especially remembered for his splendid portrayal of Lord Trench in the "High Road." Hazel H. Sholley has the leading feminine role, as Irene Randolph. Mrs. Sholley needs no introduction to Newton audiences as she has appeared in numerous plays given here. Marjorie Trowbridge plays Emily Ladew. Miss Trowbridge has taken part in "Misfit Cinderella" and also with the Dramatic Club. Helen B. Lapham, as Nora, portrays another of her clever character parts.

The members of the Drama committee assisting in the production are: Miss Estelle G. Marsh, chairman, who has had charge of the business management; stage manager, Mrs. Elliot D. Hansen, assisted by Mrs. Harold W. Shedd; properties, Mrs. Frederick A. Tennant; and Mrs. Warren C. Foote; candy, Mrs. Lester B. Hunter; and Mrs. Ellison G. Day, Jr., and costumes, Mrs. Norman Southworth.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

"Presidents' Day" at the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be observed on Friday, February 27. The monthly business meeting will begin at 2 p. m., a half hour earlier than usual. At 2:30 p. m. the Club will be addressed by the guests of honor, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, president of the Massachusetts State Federation; Mrs. Horace B. Gale, director for twelfth District; and Mrs. S. N. Braman, president of the Newton Federation. On the platform will also be past presidents of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Invitations have been extended to the presidents of about one hundred clubs in and around Boston to be guests for the afternoon.

The Music committee, under the direction of Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, has planned a delightful program which will include Mme. Maria Conde, a member of the Club so well known professionally, and selections by the Club Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Apolline Blair. Following this, Mrs. Walter Hartstone, president of the Club, assisted by Mrs. John F. Capron, Mrs. William H. Raye, Mrs. Cyrus T. Schirmer, Mrs. Ralph G. Hudson, Mrs. Joseph T. Bishop, and Mrs.

George E. Squier, will receive the Club members and guests. Mrs. Frank N. Nathan, chairman of the Reception committee, will be in charge of the ushers. Tea will then be served in the banquet room, under the able direction of Mrs. Rufus S. Wilson. The powers will include past presidents of the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

"Mrs. Grundy," by Leo Markan, is the book chosen for discussion by Miriam France Skirball at 10 a. m. Tuesday, February 24. Tickets for single admission to this entertaining series of Book Reviews during February and March may be obtained at the door.

The second talk in the series sponsored by the Public Health committee, given by Dr. Helen D. McGillicuddy, secretary of the Massachusetts Society for Social Hygiene, will occur on Thursday, February 26, at 10 a. m. These lectures are free to members, and may be attended by anyone interested, upon the payment of a small fee.

The Junior Woman's Club, of which Miss Kathleen Fuller is president, will present two one-act plays in March. They are being coached by Miss Martha Wight and Miss Josephine Tyler. Miss Tyler played the part of "Mary" in "The Alarm Clock," presented by the Newton Centre Woman's Club this month. At the last regular business meeting of the Junior Woman's Club, Miss Ruth Chapin, of the Newton Welfare Bureau, was the speaker.

Social Science Club

The next regular meeting of the Social Science Club will be on Wednesday, February 25, at 10 o'clock, at the Hunnewell Club. Miss Florence L. Heard, a Club member, will read a paper on "The St. Lawrence." The hostesses are to be Mrs. Curtis Nye Smith and Miss Edith Hull.

Newton Community Club

A most attractive title, "The Magic Frame," a series of living pictures, announces the program for the Newton Community Club, on Thursday, February 26, in Underwood School Hall. Mrs. Almira Pease, an interesting old lady, portrayed by Mrs. L. C. Kepner, will open the Family Album, and introduce those present, who are all Club members. Mrs. Minnie Stratton Watson will accompany with piano selections. The afternoon is under the direction of Miss Dorothy Kennison, a graduate of the Emerson School of Oratory, and a student at Boston University School of Religious Education.

West Newton Woman's Educational Club

"Neighborhood Day" will be the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday, the 27th, when Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, as chairman, presents the subject "Scholarship." Mrs. Francis Strickland, head of the Massachusetts Society for the University Education of Women, will speak on "Students Who Have Won," and Miss Mary C. Ewing, Dean of Residents of Wellesley, will speak on "How to Choose A Student For A Scholarship."

Of interest in this connection the Education chairman, Mrs. George F. Lacombe, recently presented to the Levi P. Warren Junior High school a set of forty-six books for their library, twenty of which were given by a member of the Club, and twenty-six by the Club as a whole, in memory of Mrs. M. Alice Early, a past president, each book containing a book plate designed by a former student of the Junior High School, and one who also held a scholarship presented by the Club. The meeting on the 27th will be held as usual in the Unitarian Parish House at 2:30 p. m.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, president of the State Federation, will broadcast "from station WBZA, next Thursday afternoon, February 26, at 1:30 o'clock. The Dorstan string quartet is to furnish the incidental musical background. Mrs. Frank C. Stetson, chairman of Social Welfare, may be heard at 1:59 in a talk on "Fitting Misfits."

ART CONFERENCE. Friday, March 6, is the date chosen for a most interesting Art Conference and luncheon, to be held at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, three sessions and special exhibits being announced by Mrs. Roy C. Baker, chairman of the event. The morning opens at 10 o'clock; luncheon and guidance through the galleries follow, from 12 to 2 o'clock; and afternoon addresses from 2 to 4 o'clock. It is expected that one of the afternoon speakers will be the famous sculptor Cyrus Dallin. Reservations for the luncheon, at 75 cents a ticket, are in charge of Mrs. Morris M. Roud, 85 Corey road, Brookline. Clubwomen interested should order tickets at once.

YOUTH CONFERENCE. Mrs. Lauren L. McMasters, chairman of American Home, announces that "notable plans are being laid for the Youth Conference," which is to be held during two days in March, the 11th and 12th, at the Hotel Statler, Boston. The Conference opens at 10 a. m. on each of these days, Wednesday and Thursday. Luncheon served in the Ballroom at 12:45, will be followed by guest speakers—Dr. David D. Vaughan, vivid speaker from Boston University, scheduled for the first day, and Dr. Russell Henry Stafford, Minister of New Old South Church, for the second day. On Wednesday there will be also an afternoon session of speakers from 3 to 4 o'clock. The purposes of the Conference are triple: to provide a feature of special interest to young women; to give recognition to the Home as an institution upon which the well-being of the family and the structure of Society depends; and to focus attention upon Home Making as a profession and continued education.

It is desired that record of members attending from each Club in the State be kept in full. To this end blanks will be sent to each Club president, for registration of names of those who plan to attend. This is for names of all Club women as well as delegates, and members are asked to notify their president of their attendance. There promises to be quite a competition among Clubs to stand at the head of the State list as to greatest number attending.

An important item is the notification of desire for luncheon tickets before March 5. Clubwomen must send self-addressed stamped envelope, with check for $1.50, stating which date the ticket is to be for, to Mrs. Harry M. Lyman, 34 Bradford street, Needham. There is also a registration fee of fifty cents, for attending the conference, which should be made payable to Mrs. Lyman, also, and sent to her before March 5.

Complete information as to speakers and their subjects for the program will be given later.

MASSACHUSETTS WELFARE CHEST. "Give Until It Helps—Buy Until It Helps," the slogan of the Welfare Chest, Mrs. Schrader states is spreading, with effectual service following, throughout the State. She asks that all help to keep the Chest continuing its work of providing for worthy, needy persons and families, who are victims of unemployment, and who are applying daily at the Chest Headquarters, at the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company Building, 90 St. James avenue, Boston.

The State Federation president, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, in her two latest Bulletins, expresses her gratitude for the many friends who have come forward to the aid of this welfare work. These include the three radio stations, WBZ, WBZA and WEEL; speakers over the radio, among whom was Governor Ely; talented musicians and actors who gave their time; and contributors to the Chest, such as John Donnelly and Sons Co., who have donated considerable advertising space on billboards; The Slater, McNeil Shoe Co.; N. E. Telephone and Telegraph Co., who have collected clothing among their offices; Filene's Department Store, who donated shoes; various Women's Clubs, with gifts of clothing and money, of whom the Brookline Woman's Club has donated clothing three times and the sum of $85; and many individuals, not only in this State but in others.

Some idea of the amount of good that is being done by the Massachusetts Welfare Chest is indicated by the fact that more than 28,000 persons have been provided with clothing up to the end of January, during a month and a half. Cards of applicants for aid numbered 12,642, some of these being applicants applying twice; many seeking aid not alone for themselves, but for children, as well, perhaps.

If to this above service is added that of women's organizations throughout the State on local committees (such as is being done in Newton by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs is meant), record of accomplishment of assistance becomes "sensational," as Mrs. Schrader expresses it. Continued assistance from the generous will bring the present crisis to solution. In view of the above record, it can safely be said that confidence on the part of the public should be so established that this assistance will be given gladly.

Newton Federation

The Education committee of the Newton Federation, with Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, chairman, will have charge of the Executive Board Meeting on Tuesday, February 24, at 2:30 p. m. in the library of the Newton Technical High School.

The president, Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, will preside. Mr. U. G. Wheeler, Superintendent of Schools, will talk on "Some Conditions in The Newton Schools Today."

A cordial invitation is extended to all Clubwomen of Newton to attend this meeting.

SPORT NOTES

Several Local Youths Compete

Several former Newton high school athletes competed in the B. A. A. games last Saturday night. Carl Pescosolido won second in the dash after winning his trial heat and placing third in his semi-final. Creighton Gatchell ran the second leg on the Bowdoin relay team in its race with Villanova and Northeastern. Northeastern won with Bowdoin second. Arthur Chamberlain ran the third leg on the Boston University relay against Brown which the latter won. Jimmie McCrudden ran the anchor leg for Northeastern in the intercollegiate two-mile relay which brought seven teams to the pole. New Hampshire, Harvard, Holy Cross, Dartmouth, Bates and Boston College. Bates, with Russell Chapman at anchor, won with Boston College second and Harvard third. Northeastern was out of the running when McCrudden took up his baton to run a pretty half-mile passing two competitors. The walking relay between five two-man teams, each walker alternating every second lap, created considerable amusement among the spectators. The event was won by Edgar Wilson, a Newton resident, and his teammate, "Pep" Clark, Jr., when the apparent winners, Clements and Burroughs were disqualified. A. W. Bell of Newton Highlands with John Jamieson of Dorchester placed third. Arthur Roberts, another Newton athlete and his teammate dropped out of the race halfway through.

Two Against Three

It was two Newton youths against three when Harvard and Dartmouth staged their first hockey game of the season at the Garden Saturday night with the Crimson winning, 4 to 2. John Garrison and Wilson Crosby, both of West Newton were the local pair on the Harvard team. Captain Henry Johnson, and Dick Fisher of Waban with Hal Andres of Newtonville comprised the Green's trio of local youths. Garrison passed to Cunningham for the opening goal of the game in the first period with two more Crimson scores coming in this session to put Harvard well in front. Dick Fisher added in the second period to put Dartmouth back in the game as another green tally quickly followed. Harvard scored the final goal of the game in the third session.

Yale Routs Princeton

Yale, with Allie Fletcher playing an important part, handed Princeton a 7 to 1 trimming on the ice at Princeton last Saturday night.

Green Freshman Win

The Green freshman hockey team with Captain Frank Spain and Lang Powers, both former Newton high athletes, playing brilliant hockey defeated the Harvard freshman at Hanover last Saturday, 4 to 2. Spain passed to a teammate for the opening tally in the first session and Powers chalked up one in the third. Bob Bennett, the third local youth in the line-up, played most of the game at left defence.

Cronin Leaves for South

Scores Eight Points

Carl Pescosolido, Newton youth on the Harvard freshman track team, scored eight points for Smith Hall in the annual freshman intercollegiate track meet at Harvard on Tuesday. "Pesky" won the 50-yard dash and then took second in the sprint over a heave of 15 ft. 10 in. Smith Hall placed third with 14 points.

Bourne Named Manager

Henry Bourne of Chestnut Hill has been appointed assistant manager of the Harvard varsity team for 1932. Bourne is a sophomore this year and will automatically become manager of the varsity in his senior year. He is also second assistant varsity football manager and was a member of the freshman golf team a year ago. At Newton high he was on the golf team.

Green Yearlings Win

The Dartmouth freshman hockey team scored a 7 to 1 victory over the New Hampshire school of New Hampshire Tuesday at Hanover. Frank Spain's brilliant playing featured the Green's attack. Spain, a former Newton high star athlete, is captain of the team which also includes two other former Newton athletes in the regular line-up. They are Langdon Powers at left wing and Bob Bennett at left defence. Spain, playing center ice, scored three of the goals, and Bennett and Powers one each.

Whitmore Returns to School

Holmes Whitmore, Newton Highlands youth and Boston University hockey wing, returned to classes Tuesday. In the B. U.-Princeton game at Princeton ten days ago, Whitmore, who formerly starred for Newton high, received a serious neck injury that kept him in the Princeton infirmary for a couple of days. Whitmore is definitely out of the Brown game tomorrow and probably through for the season.

SPORT NOTES

In Tennis Rankings

Miss Virginia Rice, former Newton Centre young woman, is ranked 16th in women's singles by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association. Malcolm T. Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., Waban cousins, were ranked 8th in Men's Doubles.

Newton Boxer in Tourney

Hugh Manning was the sole local boxer in the State amateur championship boxing bouts at the Arena on Monday evening. Manning won his first trial bout against Tony Celli of Leominster with a decision in three rounds. In his second bout Manning went up against Joe Delmont of Boston, the favorite. Delmont knocked the Newton lad out in the first round and then continued on to win the championship in the 147-lb. class.

Terrier Candidates to Report

Candidates for the Boston University baseball team for the coming spring have been asked to report for practice next week Tuesday in the Terrier Gym. Newton should be well represented again on the Terrier nine with Jack McCullough of Newton Centre holding down an outfield position for the third year and Art Wilson, freshman captain and third baseman, a likely looking candidate for the hot corner berth.

Local Youth Polo Star

Sheldon Fisher, Jr., of 27 Whitney road, Newtonville, is a member of the famous Black Horse Troop and star varsity polo team at Culver Military Academy in Indiana.

Green Turns Brown

The Dartmouth hockey team gave the Brown sextet its first defeat of the season Monday night on the latter's rink at Providence, 5 to 3. In turning back the Brown outfit the Green had to come from behind to win. Midway of the second period Brown was leading 3 to 0 when the Dartmouth outfit began to click. At the end of the regular session the teams were deadlocked at 3 all. Captain Henry Johnson of Waban brought victory to Dartmouth with two goals within ten seconds of each other in the closing minutes of the second overtime session. Johnson also scored one of the earlier Green goals.

POLICE NEWS

Charles J. Paine, 22, of Old road, Weston, was fined $50 by Judge Cuniff in the Waltham court on Saturday for flying his airplane at an unsafe altitude. According to the testimony, Paine took his airplane off from the airport in Marlboro about 1 o'clock on the morning of February 7th and proceeded to Newton Centre where a young lady friend of his resides. He has held a limited commercial pilot's license and twice before has had his license suspended for dangerous flying.

E. D. Forbes of 98 Summer street, Newton Centre, testified that on the morning of February 7th at 1:12 a. m. he was awakened by the terrific noise of an airplane banking and diving near his home. Forbes testified he has served in anti-aircraft artillery and can estimate distance planes are from the ground. He testified that Paine's plane was not over 500 feet up. David Cummings of 34 Elmore street, Newton Centre, and Herbert Coan of Applegarth street, Newton Centre, both substantiated Forbes' testimony and estimated that Paine was not more than 300 feet above the ground when his plane awakened their neighborhood.

Witnesses from the town of Weston also testified against Paine. Harold Willis, former aviator, stated that he was awakened by the plane which appeared to be making a power dive, and was not more than 500 feet up. His three children were also awakened. Manlius Sargent, a former artillery man, testified that the plane was only about 150 feet up when it passed over his house.

Mrs. Maria Cielinski of 97 Linden street, Newton Upper Falls, was given two suspended jail sentences of 30 days each by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Saturday for keeping and exposing liquor for sale, and for making an illegal sale.

John O'Halloran of Florida street, Dorchester, was given two suspended jail sentences, for three months each, in the Newton court on Saturday last. He was found guilty of impersonating a Newton constable and a Middlesex County deputy sheriff. He is employed as a bill collector and used these false offices to scare persons he collected bills from.

Mrs. Annie DeVecchio of Providence, Rhode Island, who was brought back from that city to Newton last week by Inspector Goode after she had been arrested on the complaint that she had taken jewelry belonging to her stepdaughter was found not guilty in the Newton court last Friday. The woman had separated from her husband, James DeVecchio of Nonantum.

Newton police are endeavoring to apprehend the thieves who have been entering Newton churches recently to steal pocketbooks from coat pockets. On Thursday night, February 12th, while the Woman's Association of the Abundant Congregational Church was holding its annual supper, pocketbooks belonging to Mrs. Meyer Belden of Windemere road, and Mrs. Florence Bell of Hancock street, were stolen.

George A. Mahoney of 296 Washington street, Newton, was found guilty in the Waltham court on Monday of passing a worthless check in Watertown. He was sentenced to Concord Reformatory. The Newton police had a warrant for Mahoney's arrest on a similar charge.

Robert Hooper, 18, of 68 Walnut Hill road, Newton Highlands, was sentenced to Concord Reformatory by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Monday. This penalty was imposed when Hooper was found guilty of stealing an automobile. He was also fined $10 for speeding and $50 for driving an automobile after his license had been revoked. Hooper was arrested a few weeks ago in Newton Centre, together with another youth who was sentenced to Concord a couple of weeks ago. Hooper's case was continued at the request of Rev. William Austill of Newton Highlands, who wanted an opportunity to examine the youth's capacity to change his motives. The clergyman was not in court on Monday.

Burglars entered the home of Ernest Wing, 29 Fair Oaks avenue, Newtonville, on Sunday night and stole bank books, deeds and other articles. When the family returned to the house, Mrs. Wing noticed the back door ajar and when she tried to open it, she realized that someone was holding it. By the time she had recovered her composure sufficiently to call her husband, who was in the garage, the burglar had made his escape.

HOUSE BURNED AT NEWTONVILLE

At 11:28 on Monday night Box 282 was pulled for a fire in a new two-family house under construction at 13-15 Woodrow avenue, Newtonville. The building was considerably damaged. It is owned by Allen Wasserman of Norfolk avenue, Dorchester.

Monday night Engine 3 went to 189 Summer street, Newton Centre, on a still alarm to extinguish a blaze in the house occupied by Robert Healey. The fire was in the cellar and was supposed to have been caused by spontaneous ignition in some oily rags used by painters.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

There is much ado in this city about the water bills recently received under the new method whereby residents of Newton receive such bills each three months instead of annually, as in the past. The amounts specified on the bills have caused many persons in this city to assert indignantly that they are being overcharged for the aqua pura supplied by the City of Newton. It is not our purpose to contend that the bills in question are correct and that the persons complaining against these bills are wrong. But, we feel quite confident that nearly all persons in Newton have never made any study to determine just how much water is used in their households.

The minimum charge levied against the ordinary householder in Newton for the use of water is $2.25 for each three months. For this sum 900 cubic feet of water is supplied. Yearly this amounts to $9 for 3600 cubic feet of water. There are 7½ gallons in each cubic foot, so under the minimum charge 27,000 gallons of water can be used each twelve months. Up to the past couple of years the minimum charge was 25c per 100 cubic feet, so the rate now is the same as heretofore, 25c per 100 cubic feet, if not more than the minimum quantity is used. Before the rates were changed, the charge for each 100 cubic feet over the minimum was 25c, or if 25c. If this increase does not account, according to those whose bills appear to be unduly large, for the amounts levied against them.

Among the principal uses of water in households are—drinking and cooking purposes, washing dishes, laundry work, baths, flushing toilet. It is probable that in most households more water is used for the last two purposes than for any others. Comparatively little water is used for cooking and drinking. In many homes doing most of the laundry is sent out, either to laundries or wet wash establishments. In homes where families are of any size, it follows that a considerable amount of water is used daily to wash dishes. But, the flushing of toilets and the taking of baths are the big items in the consumption of water in houses. It is estimated that each time a toilet is flushed, 5 or 6 gallons of water are used. When a person takes a tub bath, probably 35 gallons of water are used. If one fills the tub to half its capacity, or over, more water is used. One of the most common causes of large water bills is waste occasioned by flush tanks in toilets overflowing because of some defect. Such waste may go on for long periods without being noticed.

Another reason for excessive use of water is the high pressure which prevails in the low altitude sections at Newton Corner, Newtonville and West Newton. The pressure in certain sections of the city is from 95 to 130 pounds. Persons turning on a faucet to get a drink, let the water run until it becomes cool and considerable quantities are used under such high pressures. Some frugal folk have had plumbers install "regulators."

These devices reduce the pressure to 60 pounds and prevent waste of water. In many instances householders with lawns or shrubbery use water lavishly on the hot weather. It is admitted of course that people have more frequently now when modern plumbing makes bathing a pleasure, than folks of the past generation did. The old folks didn't have the facilities to take daily baths. They washed once a week, or so, to get clean; not daily. Hence the need for modern plumbing and the revenues from Newton water produce a large increase, there will be a demand to have the rates on Newton water reduced.

One thing is certain. If the cost of water to Newton residents continues to show a general upward trend, the death of leading the American Legion hosts in the big parade at Boston. His solicitude for the young men who served under him in France will perpetuate his memory in this, his adopted State.

P. T. Barnum was right when he said that the American people like to be fooled. Certainly, a large percentage of the American people like to be fooled. Otherwise they would not allow themselves to be duped by business men who place misleading advertisements in papers and by means of deception lure "bargain hunters."

An example of this was an advertisement placed in Boston newspapers recently by a business firm in that city which specializes in radio sets. This firm, which prates about the high character of those who compromise it, advertised a well known make of radio at a price much below that supposed to be charged for the type of set specified. Later, it developed that the set featured was a less expensive product with a similar name. Why not trade with people whose reputations for "square dealing" can be investigated? There are reliable radio merchants right here in Newton who sell honest goods and charge honest prices.

Signs have been placed on the west side of Walnut street, between Highland avenue and Otis street, Newtonville with the information that parking is prohibited in this area. These signs are being disregarded by many drivers of cars who continue to park

For some years this method has caused thousands of complaints to be made by residents of this city. When May arrived each year, and sometimes earlier, just as the first hot days came, the tar used in patching Washington street (and other streets) would "bleed," or melt, ruining the finish on automobiles, not to mention persons' shoes and clothing. About a year ago Mayor Weeks stated that the objectionable "hot patch" method would be discontinued and the holes filled with cold patches. According to the Street Commissioner, the liquid which is being used this year in the "hot patches" is asphalt, not tar, and will not melt as did the tar.

It was in accordance with the fitness of things that General Edwards was given the honor, a few months before his death, of leading the American Legion hosts in the big parade at Boston. His solicitude for the young men who served under him in France will perpetuate his memory in this, his adopted State.

P. T. Barnum was right when he said that the American people like to be fooled. Certainly, a large percentage of the American people like to be fooled. Otherwise they would not allow themselves to be duped by business men who place misleading advertisements in papers and by means of deception lure "bargain hunters."

An example of this was an advertisement placed in Boston newspapers recently by a business firm in that city which specializes in radio sets. This firm, which prates about the high character of those who compromise it, advertised a well known make of radio at a price much below that supposed to be charged for the type of set specified. Later, it developed that the set featured was a less expensive product with a similar name. Why not trade with people whose reputations for "square dealing" can be investigated? There are reliable radio merchants right here in Newton who sell honest goods and charge honest prices.

Signs have been placed on the west side of Walnut street, between Highland avenue and Otis street, Newtonville with the information that parking is prohibited in this area. These signs are being disregarded by many drivers of cars who continue to park their automobiles in this space. Other motorists park their cars in the middle of Walnut street, blocking traffic, and violating a traffic ordinance.

Talking about "No Parking" signs. The parking of automobiles in business districts in certain parts of the Newtons, as well as in business districts in about every city, or town, of any size, is a vexatious problem. Business men need parking facilities for their customers. If unrestricted parking is allowed, selfish persons, or inconsiderate persons, will park automobiles for hours at a time and thus "hog" parking spaces much needed by customers of nearby stores. If parking is unnecessarily prohibited, a hardship is imposed on business men paying high rents and facing keen competition. The law is—that an ordinance must be passed by the Aldermen or Councilmen of a city before parking can be prohibited or restricted on a public street. A police chief may restrict or prohibit parking temporarily to meet emergencies, but to regularly prohibit or restrict parking on a public street, an ordinance must be properly enacted. In the past, in this city, portable "No Parking" signs have been placed in certain places at the request of individuals who wanted special privileges. It is desirable in many cases to have the street in front of one's property free from parked cars. But, if certain persons are accorded this privilege, other persons have the same right. And if the practice of placing "No Parking" signs along our streets became common, where would automobiles be parked? How could storekeepers conduct business? Despite the fact that it is not legal to have unauthorized "No Parking" signs on public streets, and also despite that anyone may park a car in a space where such signs are placed, we still continue to observe such signs. They carry no authority and can be disregarded.

The report of the Mayor's Relief Committee which has been handling the matter of unemployment in the city reveals the effectiveness of such an organization during a trying period. A great amount of good has been accomplished by this committee which deserves the thanks of all, not only of those whose burden has been lightened through the chance to work, but of the entire city.

The new service inaugurated by the Newton Hospital should be a great boon to people of moderate means. For such citizens both the hospital and the doctors have agreed to scale down their fees on a per diem basis to the resultant benefit of the patient.

Now we know the ground hog must have seen his shadow on Candlemas Day.

POLICE NEWS

Thomas Mulhern, a Watertown taxi driver, was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with the larceny of $3 from Ernest W. Ruegg. Ruegg complained that he had hired Mulhern to drive him to the airport, under the agreement that the fare would be $2. According to Ruegg, he handed Mulhern a $5 bill and the latter drove off, failing to give back the $3 change. The case was continued to February 25th.

Maurice Barron of 1162 Beacon street, Brookline, owner of the building at the junction of Watertown and Washington streets, West Newton, was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with failing to keep the premises at the rear of the block clean. He was fined $10. Harold Wright of Summer street, Upper Falls, was in court the same day and fined $10 for parking his automobile on a public street without proper lights.

Mrs. Florence Sennott Gilman of Waltham street, West Newton, was sentenced by Judge Budreau on Tuesday to serve a sentence of one year in the Charles Street Jail at Boston. She was found guilty by a Suffolk County jury of conspiracy to steal from Boston department stores. She is the woman at whose house a number of men were discovered by Newton police officials who went there one Sunday night recently while the Gilman woman's trial was pending. Acting after they had received a tip, the officers from the Back Bay police station went to West Newton and found among Mrs. Gilman's guests a member of the Suffolk County Grand Jury, and a prominent Boston politician.

Facts About Newton

The following article is the third in a series of such on the Newton Hospital and other institutions and matters of interest to Newton citizens.

THE NEWTON HOSPITAL OFFERS A NEW SERVICE ADAPTED TO PATIENTS OF MODERATE INCOME

The Newton Hospital was established in 1881 especially for the care of the poor who could not be properly cared for in their homes. Perhaps fifty years ago the Hospital opened its doors, in no case has its service been denied or curtailed because of the financial inability of the applicant. This service originally consisted of wards to accommodate ten or more patients who paid small sums as they could for their care. Perhaps fifty per cent made no payment at all. The services of the professional staff were entirely gratuitous, the reward being the experience its members gained.

It was not until 1891 that private rooms in Coburn were offered to patients who were able to pay the Hospital something more than their cost and the attending doctor a regular fee for his services. In these two ways, the poor were receiving the best of hospital care, the needs of the well-to-do were also met; but little was being done for the largest group in our community, the people of moderate means.

A New Service

Every one connected with hospital management knows that the most difficult problem of all relates to hospitalization of the family of moderate means. The well-to-do can pay the full rates for private service without undue hardship; those of scant or no financial means are always taken care of for what they can pay, but it

HIGHLAND REBEKAH LODGE ENTERTAINS

Highland Rebekah Lodge No. 82, of Newton Highlands entertained the state assembly officers at Odd Fellows Hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 18. A caterer's supper was served at 6:30 p. m. followed by a reception to the President, Mrs. Jennie Richardson; vice-president, Mrs. Harriet P. Reeves; P. N. G. of Highland Lodge; Warden, Mrs. Sadie Stinson; Marshal, Mrs. Mabel Skinner; chaplain, Mrs. Mabel Campbell; conductor, Mrs. Ida Larrabee; inside guardian, Mrs. Winifred Fay and outside guardian, Miss Esther Westwood of the General Assembly of the State of Massachusetts.

District Deputy President of Highland lodge, Mrs. Alice Wood of Quincy Lodge and her husband Miss Edith Irwin with her suite, were also in the receiving line. A beautiful mixed bouquet of spring flowers with a gift of gold was presented to the President, and a gift of gold and a bouquet of sweet peas to the vice-president. The state marshal also received a bouquet of pink carnations and a gift of gold. A beautiful bouquet of pink roses was presented to the District Deputy President and a bouquet of pink carnations was received by her marshal. Following the initiation by degree of a candidate, a few words of appreciation were extended to the members by the president and members of her suite and the district deputy president and her marshal. The hall was tastefully decorated in honor to St. Valentine.

A large delegation of State officers and officials and members of many neighboring lodges were present.

NEWTON HIGH BOYS MAKE GOOD RECORD

Graduates of Newton High lead in scholastic standing at Bowdoin College among the seven Massachusetts high schools having alumni in the Maine educational institution. Herbert C. Lewis headed the Newton students and Blakeslee Wright was second. Other Newton boys attending Bowdoin are: Edward Appleton, Frederick Burton, Kenneth Cady, Robert Harrington, Jr., John Morris, John Mullen, Richard Robbins and William Trench.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The absence of debates in the two branches of the legislature is a comment. A number of measures of a controversial nature have been acted upon but without much of any discussion. Possibly those who are looked upon as potential orators are withholding their ammunition until something "big" comes along.

The rejection of the bills to make women eligible for jury service caused barely a ripple. The House did not even go as far as a division, accepting the adverse committee reports on a voice vote. The same was true of the Senate.

The bills for a Greater Boston were also turned down by the committee. The House accepted these adverse reports without a word of debate. This week the Senate did exactly the same thing.

The bill which would have repealed practically all the existing laws in Massachusetts relating to the sale of intoxicating liquor was soon "given the air." It was adversely reported by the Committee on Legal Affairs and both House and Senate accepted the adverse report without a word of discussion. It is pretty well known that when the bill was filed that it was recorded as petitioners did not think it would receive much serious consideration. Their belief proved to be well founded. The proposition was too ridiculous.

The Committee on Metropolitan Affairs has reported a resolve providing for an investigation relating to the improvement of the condition of the Charles River in Newton, Waltham, Weston and Watertown. The resolve is based on petitions of Representative Bullock of Waltham that the Metropolitan District Commission be authorized to take dams and other structures and regulate the flow of water in the river and that the commission be authorized to regulate the flow of the river in and above Waltham. The committee's resolve is as follows:

Resolved, That the metropolitan district commission and the state department of public health acting as a joint board are hereby authorized and directed to investigate the conditions affecting the flow of water in Charles River in that portion of its course lying between Charles River village and the head of the Charles in the city of Watertown and the amounts of water withdrawn or diverted therefrom to determine whether and to what extent the public health, comfort and convenience are affected by the diversion of water from said river and its watershed, and to present and adopt practical methods of holding, drawing, using and diverting the water at the various dams within the limits mentioned herein, and to recommend methods for removing any objectionable conditions that may be found to exist, especially in the section of the river within the limits of Weston, Newton, Waltham and Watertown. The said board may employ such engineering and other assistants as it may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this resolve and may, subject to the approval of the Governor, make such contracts and compensation of such assistants, offices and positions created under authority of this resolve shall not be subject to classification under sections forty-five to fifty, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws, nor shall chapter thirty-one of the General Laws and the rules and regulations made thereunder apply to such assistants; but upon the request of said board the division of civil service shall hold special examinations for candidates for such offices and positions.

"Said board may expend for the purposes of this resolve such sum not exceeding in the aggregate seven thousand five hundred dollars as may be appropriated by the general court, the same to be assessed back upon the cities and towns in the metropolitan district in proportion to their respective taxable valuations as defined in section fifty-nine of chapter ninety-two of the General Laws.

"Said board shall report to the general court the results of its several investigations, including plans, recommendations and estimates of the cost of any works or improvements that it may recommend, together with drafts of legislation to carry such recommendations into effect by filing the same with the clerk of the house of representatives on or before the first Wednesday in December of each year nineteen hundred and thirty-one and shall at the same time file a copy of said report with the budget commission."

Gov. Ely has shown the effects of the hard work imposed upon him by his duties, together with speaking engagements in the evening. It has proved a considerable strain and has compelled him to rest on the weekend. His health is excellent, but in spite of that fact he finds he cannot do as many things as he would like.

The death of Civil Service Commissioner Elliot H. Goodwin has proved a loss to the State. Mr. Goodwin was an outstanding figure as a conscientious servant of the people, striving to administer the civil service laws as he interpreted them. No one in such a position is able to please everybody, but the critics of Mr. Goodwin respected his earnestness, honesty and integrity. The Governor is expected to fill the place by the appointment of a well-known Democrat. There are a number who seek the position and their friends are certain to exert a great amount of pressure upon the Governor.

The Committee on Metropolitan Affairs this week reported favorably on Mayor Weeks' petition that the Metropolitan District Commission be authorized to construct a parkway or boulevard from a point near the junction of Newton and Hammond streets, Brookline, to Beacon street, Chestnut Hill. The estimated cost is $400,000.

COUNTY COUNCIL WHIST AND FOOD SALE

The Middlesex County Council of the American Legion Auxiliary holds its annual card party and food sale at Elks' Hall, Cambridge, February 28 at two p. m. The proceeds of this party are used entirely for rehabilitation of the disabled ex-service men at the Bedford Hospital. One hundred and fifty-two new patients are now being admitted to this hospital and the need for aid in rehabilitation work is growing daily.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

"Every leader a learner" will be stressed during 1931-32 in church school work throughout the nation by the denominational leaders. This was one of the emphases evident in the minds of all who met in Chicago last week for the meetings of the International Council of Religious Education. During the last ten years many advances and changes in curriculum and equipment have taken place, but the qualities of consecration, personality, and technical ability in teaching are of more importance than equipment and courses of study.

Rev. Ervin L. Shaver, a resident of our District, and Leadership Training Secretary for one of the denominations, spoke on "What kind of leaders should we develop?" He said we need leaders who can be prophetic, able to lead youth "into unborn tomorrows," rather than rehearse the glories of the past. We need leaders who can teach students how to think and to become "creative co-operators in the making of the world as it is to be."

NEWTONVILLE MINISTERS CONDUCT LENTEN SERIES

Departing from the custom of having outside speakers for the first time in many years, the ministers of the Newtonville Churches have decided to conduct their own preaching services during the Union Lenten season. The first service will be held at the Newtonville Methodist Church, and the last three in the Central Congregational Church. All services will begin at 7:30 p. m.

The first service will be held this Sunday and the speaker will be the Rev. J. W. Spiers, of the Church of the New Jerusalem in Newtonville. The music will be given by the singers of the Methodist Church.

On the following Sunday evening, Dr. Arthur M. Ellis, minister of the Central Congregational Church, will be the preacher. Dr. Ellis is the Dean of the Newtonville ministers. The service for March 8, the third in the series will be unusual in Protestant practice, for it will not be a preaching service, but will be a Service of Spiritual Deepening, devoted to prayer, meditation and worship. This service will be arranged by the Rev. M. A. Kapp of the Newtonville Universalist Church.

On March 15, the services will be held in the Central Congregational Church, and Dr. L. W. Emig pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will be the preacher, and on March 22, the sermon will be given by the Rev. M. A. Kapp of the Universalist Church. Palm Sunday night will be the occasion of a program of religious music to be given at the Central Church. Dr. Arthur M. Ellis has charge of arranging this service.

Lenten services in Newtonville have always received the respect and attention of the church-going people of the community, and it is felt that this year will be one of special interest and value.

The four churches co-operating in this community project are the Central Congregational Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Church of the New Jerusalem, and the Newtonville Universalist. Music will be furnished by the ministries of music of the several churches.

DISAGREES WITH SEN. BACON

Mr. Gaspar G. Bacon at the Abraham Lincoln dinner in Boston, February 12, speaks his mind in a frank, open manner and the Boston Herald editorially asks what will be the reaction.

Admiration must be made to any one who will stand or fall on a clear cut statement and I take this occasion to express my thanks, but in my judgment Mr. Bacon has made the greatest political blunder any man could possibly make and he elected to make it on one of the most revered of days, a day in which every good citizen had in thought the sacred memory of that great and noble character, Abraham Lincoln, the emancipator of a people from the bonds of human slavery.

Mr. Bacon said in part: "The issue of the moment is the repeal of the 18th Amendment." "Dissatisfaction within our ranks brought defeat." "The people registered a vote of protest." "Let us profit by the short comings which brought about this result." "Do not, in order to secure recruits lower the standard of the Republican party." "Abraham Lincoln, when confronted with a great moral issue, did not flinch." "The appeal is for a united party." Then he deliberately proceeds to hand his party and his great and wonderful leader (Herbert Hoover) a knockout.

The mandate of a people when clearly registered is simple enough to follow if said mandate is clear cut and above board, but when over 300,000 blanks (last Mass. Election) are returned on a question of the character in hand, then the issue is not clear cut, and the issue will never be clear cut as long as eight or ten men in the country and a number of cocktail aristocrats subscribe millions to throw smoke screens for selfish purposes around the real merit of the question.

The issue of the day is not repeal, but rather control. To this end, every thoughtful citizen should make his stand.

Select Your Own Prize For Solving This Hand

No. 4

A number of readers, who are interested in playing the hands published in this series, have asked if it would be possible to arrange the questions so that the answers could be given more concisely, and eliminating the necessity of writing the play to all thirteen tricks. Following that suggestion from now on only three or four questions will be asked. In order to make it even more convenient the hands will be arranged so that South will always be the declarer.

This week's hand is played by South with a contract of three No. Trumps, and West leads the seven of Clubs.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

at the Newton Community Club at their meeting on February 12th. The hall was transformed by an exhibition of quilts, some over fifty years old and some new, of the most colorful and attractive designs. The stage was set, and Mrs. Emmons, gowned in a period dress, was at work on a quilting pattern all through the afternoon.

The president, Mrs. Henry P. Curtis, after a short business meeting, introduced Mrs. Robert Parmenter, chairman of Legislation of the State Federation, who spoke briefly on several pending legislative bills. A Club member, Mrs. Wallace Wales, sang a group of delightful selections, in her usual pleasing manner, depicting four periods of American music, starting with the first American song written by an American in 1759. The three following were of later dates.

Mrs. Curtis presented Dr. Lothrop Stoddard, whose subject "Beforging America" was both appropriate for the day's program, interesting and inspiring. He gave much to think of, and the keynote for the future seemed to be for America to grow more like-minded, to work with one interest, and a whole-hearted oneness, in order to overcome present problems.

The tea tables were beautifully decorated with center pieces of log cabin and picnics. Red, white, and blue as the color scheme prevailed. Six members of the Social committees, of which committee Mrs. Benjamin Hickley is chairman, wore old-fashioned costumes and added much to the colorful effect. Those serving were Mrs. H. D. Brackett, Mrs. Arthur Kendrick, Mrs. A. C. Johnson, and Mrs. G. R. Lehrer.

West Newton Junior Educational Club

The sixth meeting of the Juniors of the West Newton Educational Club was held at Jeanne Wolley's home.

After the usual reports of secretary and treasurer, the latter being by the new treasurer, Eleanor Rhodes, Kate Black, chairman of the Dance committee, gave her report. Because of a mistake in dates the Juniors were not able to secure the Workshop for February 21. It could, however, be secured for February 23, so it was decided to change the date of the dance from the 21st to the 23rd of February. As the girls thought it over they came to the conclusion that it would be best to make it a formal affair. Outsiders are still cordially invited, and tickets may be secured from any member of the Club.

A nominating committee was elected to present the names of officers for the coming year. The committee consists of Jeanne Wolley, chairman, Alice Batson, and Constance Dort. They will give their report at the annual meeting in April.

Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard told the Club to be sure and keep in mind the Conference which will be held in March at Quincy. More will be said about it at the next meeting, which by the way will be "Mothers' and Daughters' Night."

The Club had a new form of entertainment at this meeting. All worked, or at least were supposed to work, making stuffed, oil cloth animals for the children in hospitals. Some of the girls cut them out, others punched holes in them, others stuffed them, and two more laced them. As there was only one artist, she had to paint them all their faces.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Wolley, and the Valentine decorations on the table made them look as good as they tasted.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The February 16th meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club was held in the Club Room at the Emerson School with about forty members present.

Miss Margaret Jones, a medical missionary in India for a number of years, gave a very interesting talk on "India and Its People." Miss Jones wore a native woman's dress, and some of the Club members were also dressed in the different costumes of India. The president was attired in the costume of a man of India and greatly amused the audience. The room was decorated with India prints.

Mason: Councilors, Mrs. Jesse Rogers and Mrs. M. E. Gleason. This ticket was unanimously elected, and the gavel was passed to the incoming regent.

Delegates to the National Convention at Asbury Park from April 27-May 1, were nominated as follows: Miss Ruth Richmond, Mrs. Walter Whitney, Mrs. Clair Higgins, Mrs. Sydney Porter, Mrs. Charles Duvant, and Mrs. Franklin Smith, with the alternates, Mrs. Ellen Harris, Mrs. George N. Putnam, Mrs. Francis Murdoch, Miss Gertrude Ensign, Mrs. William Ratcliffe, and Mrs. John Godding.

Mrs. Adelbert Fernald presented Mrs. David Goodridge with the national D. R. pin as a token of the love and esteem of the chapter.

At the close of the business meeting the members enjoyed a box luncheon and spent the afternoon playing bridge.

and shawls, with India druggets on the floor, all tending to give the necessary atmosphere.

Miss Jones showed stereopticon views and explained them in a very interesting manner. Refreshments were served which were also peculiar to India. A dish of rice with onions, raisins and nuts was prepared by Miss Jones and was greatly enjoyed by all, as well as stuffed dates, potato chips, and crackers and coffee.

Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh was chairman of the evening.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club met on February 17, at the home of Mrs. Amos Wells, 40 Williston road. The first paper of the morning was presented by Mrs. Ernest Braithwaite, on "The Three Virgins of Howarth," a recent book in French, written about the Bronte sisters, Charlotte, Emily, and Anne; a book giving valuable additions to the growing list of biographies. Mrs. Braithwaite brought out that the virgin gives credit to the astounding genius of the three sisters, while not minimizing their weaknesses and shortcomings, due, perhaps, to heredity, loneliness, and to the comparative poverty of their lives. Her paper presented, also, a pleasing description of the town of Howarth, with its surrounding windswept moors, which in August are bright in color, when the heather is in bloom.

Mrs. Braithwaite reviewed vividly the experiences of the three sisters; the limited library of the best books; the how they were inveterate readers, with dissipation of the brother Bramwell, by which the family became impoverished; how Emily's and Anne's novels were accepted, but Charlotte's rejected six times, until at last "Jane Eyre" brought fame to herself and family. An interesting fact is that the old parsonage, where they lived, is now the Bronte Museum, and contains much of value.

The second paper was written by Mrs. Joseph Otis, on Shakespeare's "The Tempest." A brief outline giving the story of the play, the refined memory, and Prospero, Miranda, Ferdinand, Sebastian, Antonio, Caliban, Gonzalo, and the other characters of the play lived again before Mrs. Otis' hearers, as she made the charm of the story felt by the choice of her selection from the drama.

The last paper of the program was given by Mrs. Percival Wood, on the old controversy "Bacon versus Shakespeare." Mrs. Wood quoted opinions of famous men, propounding such convincing arguments pro and con, this question that after two hundred years it is still a challenging Shakespeare's right to authorship, that she left her audience wondering "Did he? Or did he not?" She called attention to even so recent a book on this controversy as one reviewed in the Boston Herald of February 14th, written by Eva Turner.

Newtonville Woman's Club

A rare opportunity to hear three distinguished artists was afforded the members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday, February 17th, when the Club met in the Central Congregational Church.

This year the Musicales was given by Mr. Roland Tapley, Violinist; Mr. Walter Kidder, Baritone; and Mr. Howard Slayman, Pianist. Mr. Tapley has played first violin for the past few years with the Boston Symphony Orchestra. He is a young man of unusual ability and plays the violin with a masterful technique. Mr. Kidder delighted the assembly with his songs. The volume of his voice and the feeling with which he interpreted his music met with an appreciative response from the audience. Mr. Slayman, a pianist of note, who has made concert tours throughout New England, accompanied Mr. Kidder and Mr. Tapley. Mr. Slayman's sympathetic interpretation of the music, and the mellowness and beauty of the piano. Under his masterful touch the piano is not merely being played but music is really being created.

The audience greatly enjoyed hearing these artists and evidenced the fact by their appreciative applause.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The two performances on Tuesday, February 17, of "Love-in-a-Mist," by Amelia Rives and Gilbert Emery, presented by the Dramatic committee of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, were enthusiastically received by appreciative audiences. Mrs. James S. Gove, who coached the play with her usual unflagging zeal and finesse, is deserving of much credit for the admirable performance of the three-act comedy. The cast, composed of a group of Club members, who have had wide experience in amateur theatricals, handled the situations and climaxes with a truly professional touch. A charming room in the home of Diana Wynne in the Blue Ridge Mountains, was the scene of the secret play, with the suggestion of an old-fashioned garden in the background. The skillful lighting effects managed by Mr. C. Hassler Capron added to the realism of the setting, the moonlight on the garden being particularly pleasing as the curtain rose on the first act.

The story concerns the love affairs of one Diana Wynne, charmingly portrayed by Lillian T. Collins, who gave a vivid characterization of the high-spirited Southern girl who became involved in many complicated situations because of her belief in little white lies. Ethel C. Odell, as the handsome Gregory Farnham, was a convincing lover who finally won the hand of Diana, after many misunderstandings and explanations on the part of Diana. Miriam H. Berni won many laughs by her witty remarks as Sydney Rose Wynne, Diana's cousin, her portrayal of the young Southern girl being most realistic. Margaret C. Rutherton as the Count Scipione Varello, who believed himself engaged to marry Diana, and whose appearance on the scene shortly after Diana and Gregory have become affianced causes complications both comic and tragic, gave a sympathetic portrayal of a difficult character. Ethel H. Drowne, as Anna Moore Wynne, maiden aunt of Diana and Sydney, who loves romance and moonlight, also interpreted a difficult role with careful attention to detail. Fannie D. Wallace, as Kizzie the maid, and Mary R. Prouse, as Colin the man, gave splendid character sketches of negro servants. Each member of the cast performed with exceptional ability, demonstrating the serious work and untiring effort each had put into her part, making the whole performance one long to be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to see it.

Delightful music in keeping with the romance of the afternoon was rendered by the Forte Trio between the acts.

Much credit for the success of the play is due Mrs. Arthur F. Brown, chairman, and the members of her committee, which includes Mrs. Joseph C. Allen, Mrs. Claude O. Bassett, Mrs. Raymond R. Collins, Mrs. Fred W. Downer, Mrs. James S. Gove, Mrs. Herbert N. Odell, Mrs. Herbert O. Steeves, Mrs. E. Valentine Wetmore, Mrs. Oscar G. Wheeler, Miss Marion O. Whitcomb, and Mrs. Lloyd Yeager.

Saturday the boys took part among other troops at the Alice Phillips School Hall in the little skit of putting up the pup tent, lighting the fire, cooking, and then dimming the lights and sounding taps, finally crawling into the beds made a most picturesque scene. NOTED DANCER HERE

The outstanding dance novelty of the season is the American debut of Mary Wigman, the most celebrated European dancer of today. No dancer in late years has been hailed so supreme in her art as this German star. Her repertory varies from classic compositions and popular character dances to the most daring symbolic displays without music. For Mary Wigman, dance is not acrobatics or spectacular pinpoints, but an allegoric inner life, a tremolo of emotional images in an artistic soul. She is a genius of art.

What Sarah Bernhardt was in the drama, that is Mary Wigman in the dance—a poetess of beauty. She is in her art archaic, classic, French, German, Moorish, Oriental, and modern. In her dance lies, what one finds so seldom nowadays, the idea of the art of improvisation.

Her several appearances at Carnegie Hall in New York drew an immense and enthusiastic crowd, and her audience at Symphony Hall three weeks ago was equally large, and composed of many distinguished people.

The unusual opportunity of seeing her in a smaller hall is to be available at Alumnæ Hall in Wellesley on Tuesday evening, March the third. She will give her dance program there under the auspices of the Boston Branch of the American Association of University Women, for the benefit of their International Fellowship Fund. Newton people who are very much interested in the success of this performance include: Newton, Miss Beatrice Woodman; Newton Centre, Mrs. George Olmstead, Jr.; Newtonville, Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, Mrs. Marshall B. Dalton; West Newton, Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, Mrs. Frederick J. Fossenden; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson; Waban, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher. Tickets are on sale at the Wellesley Thrift Shop or by mail from Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, 188 Collins road, Waban.

AUTO BURNED

INTERESTING PROGRAM

The Woman's Association of Eliot Church is fortunate in having a program of unusual interest for its Social Relations meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 24, at 3 o'clock.

The address "Foreign Travel Within the Shadow of Beacon Hill" will be given by Mrs. Herbert A. Jump, who has many fascinating experiences to describe.

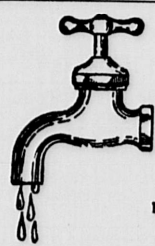

Mrs. Ona Kubilius will sing two groups of songs, one being of her own native Lithuanian folk songs. Mrs. Kubilius, wife of the Lithuanian Methodist minister in South Boston, came to this country in her early teens, has obtained an American education, has studied nursing and is a registered nurse, and will graduate from the New England Conservatory of Music this spring. Her dream is to be able to finish her musical education in Italy. Last spring when Madam Cyrena Van Gordon of the Chicago Opera Co. gave an addition to advanced music pupils, Mrs. Kubilius and one other were the only two in all New England whom the great artist deemed ready for opera training.

Members and friends are cordially invited to the meeting and to tea.

PARAMOUNT—NEWTON

What is said to be the funniest comedy of their brilliant career is "Reducing" with Marie Dressler and Polly Moran which is the feature picture for the first half of the week at the Paramount Theatre, Newton. There's a sweet love story in this tale of two sisters who run a beauty parlor for the idle rich. On the same program will be "Passion Flower" with Charles Farrell and Maureen O'Sullivan.

For the last half of the week the feature is "Men On Call" with Edmund Lowe and Mae Clarke. As a hard boiled petty officer Edmund Lowe is a characteristic Coast Guardsman in this picture, which is a drama of the sea. On the same program is "Princess and the Plumber" with Charles Farrell and Maureen O'Sullivan. A few coming attractions for the month of March are "Man Who Came Back," "Hook Line and Sinker," "War Nurse," "Cohens and Kellys in Africa," "Inspiration," "Gang Busters," "Royal Family," "Danger Lights," "Scandal Sheet," "Royal Bed," "Fighting Caravans," "Follow the Leader." Wait and see your photo plays in Newton.

Eight First Class Badges Awarded

To Girl Scouts Of Three Local Troops At West Newton

The outstanding part of a program which was held in West Newton at a get-together of the three troops on Thursday evening of last week was the awarding of eight first class badges—a most unusual thing to happen in one village. A very fitting entertainment was planned for this event. All three troops met at the Unitarian Church for supper to which were invited the parents of the girls. 152 Girl Scouts, parents, and guests sat down for a most delicious supper prepared by the Troop Committee. The special guests were Mrs. Edward Stevens, member of the National Board; Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Commissioner for Newton; Mrs. Grosvenor Marcy, chairman of the Court of Awards; and Mrs. Charles Benson, chairman of the West Newton Troop Committee. Mrs. Philip Carter broadcast a welcome to the guests over station B. U. S. Caroline Hayden of Troop 5 gave a toast to the parents and guests. Marjorie Tylee of Troop 25 toasted the Troop Committee. Julia Harvey of Troop 15 toasted the Girl Scout officers. Dorothy Brackett of Troop 25 told why she is a Girl Scout. After supper the meeting adjourned to the assembly hall. Mrs. Marvey gave out the Merit Badges which had been earned since the last get-together, after which first class badges were awarded by Mrs. Redfield to the following girls: Dorothy Brackett and Jean Harvey of Troop 25; Dorothy Leitch, Helen Shepard, Julia Harvey, Betty Cotter, Barbara Dales, and Charlotte Stevens of Troop 15. This meeting was decided to be a fitting occasion for the girls who are in the first year of high school and who are in Troop 25 to join the senior troop. To become a member of Troop 15 a Girl Scout must be a second class scout, have earned the health winner badge, one nature merit badge, either the cook or the housekeeper merit badge, and one other badge of her own choice. Captain Freeman presented the following girls to Captain Bigelow as having fulfilled these requirements and they were taken into the senior troop with a very dignified and impressive ceremony: Dorothy Brackett, Doris Carey, Lois Dales, Barbara Wolley, Marjorie Tylee, Jane Hayden, and Jean Harvey. After this Mrs. Stevens gave a most interesting talk in Girl Scout national and international programs which was followed by the singing of "Loyalty" which the Newton Girl Scouts gave in Malden at the Girls Conference.

Girl Scout headquarters has been a busy place this week. A group of girls, under the direction of Mrs. George Rachel, have spent many hours there making preparations for the booth which they are to have at the Boy Scout exhibit at the armory. Mrs. Rachel will have charge of the exhibit and Mr. Carl Somers has built the trail over which the Girl Scouts pass from Brownie to Golden Eaglet. Mrs. William Hunt, chairman of the Mass. Girl Scouts State Camp Committee, talked to the Council on camping at its regular meeting last week. She stressed the importance of licensed captains living up to the minimum standards and hoped that more Girl Scouts than ever would have the opportunity of over-night hiking and summer camping this year.

He received a bad gash in the head and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

City Hall Group Has Annual Party

Go To Marlboro For Annual Mid-Winter Gathering

The annual mid-winter party of the City Hall Associates took place on February 25, at the Williams Tavern, Marlboro. Cars left City Hall at about 5:30 P. M., and reached the Tavern in time for dinner at 6:45.

Prayer was first said by the Rev. Mr. Serian, after which the paper hats and noise-makers did their bit in starting the crowd off on a merry evening. The dinner was an unusually good one. During dinner Mr. Joseph Antonelli and Mr. Louis Taboldi entertained with vocal and piano selections, with the entire gathering joining in the choruses. Music was furnished by the Tavern orchestra for dancing during dinner.

After dinner, Leon Mayer, the president of the association, introduced Street Commissioner Stuart as toastmaster, who in turn called upon Mayor Weeks for a few remarks. Mayor Weeks expressed his pleasure at being able to join the Associates at their party, remarked that he now felt he was truly a member of the association, and hoped that he would be included in all the parties conducted by it. President Mayer, who then proceeded to make a little speech, was rudely interrupted by a porter, who proved to be no other than Harry Bonland, comedy sketch artist and general entertainer for the evening. His acts were greatly enjoyed, especially his depicting of Kipling's "Gunga Din." Mayor Martel of Marlboro, with a group of brother officials, dropped in to extend a welcome and to have a word with Mayor Weeks. They were introduced to the gathering by Mr. Stuart and wished the party success. After their departure dancing continued for the remainder of the evening, and the committee in charge were congratulated upon conducting such an enjoyable affair. The committee were: President of the Association, Leon Mayer; Secretary, Theresa A. Goddard; John Feeney and Alice Kennerly.

Among those present were: Mayor Weeks, his secretary, James Dempsey, City Engineer William P. Morse, Building Commissioner Chadwick, City Treasurer Newhall, Street Commissioner Stuart, Water Commissioner Ellis, Captain Seaver of the Police Department, City Clerk Frank Grant, Hugh Fogwell, John Janse and William Pike. An electric sandwich-toaster donated by the latter as a prize was won by City Treasurer Newhall.

IN THE SHADOW OF BEACON HILL

An occasion of unusual interest was enjoyed last Tuesday afternoon at Eliot Church when Mrs. Herbert A. Jump, under the auspices of the Social Welfare Department of the Woman's Association gave a fascinating account of the "World Friendship Tours," or "Foreign Travel Under the Shadow of Beacon Hill." Excursions of the friendliest nature to the groups of foreign nations living among us, give breadth of culture and warmth of understanding, and stories of the interesting visits to those peoples living near us, made many of her hearers desire a closer acquaintance with the easy way of traveling abroad.

Mrs. Ona Kubilius, wife of the Lithuanian Methodist minister in South Boston, and a student in her senior year at the New England Conservatory of Music, charmed her audience with her rich contralto voice in her singing of her own native songs, and also English songs.

She was delightfully accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Eusden herself a graduate of the New England Conservatory. Mrs. Franklin Smith, a vice president of the association, had charge of the meeting after which tea was served.

Stresses Loyalty To The Governor

Sec. DeWolf Speaks at Men's Club Combined Meeting

The men's clubs of the congregational churches of Newton were addressed on Wednesday evening at the First Church, Newton, by DeWitt Clinton DeWolf, secretary to the Governor. His subject was "Duties of Citizens," and during his address he stressed the duty of every citizen to support the Governor regardless of political affiliations.

Mr. DeWolf was introduced by Strabo V. Claggett of Auburndale, who told many interesting stories of his own political career. E. Hoyt Weston, Vice President of the Men's Club of the First Church, president of the association, introduced Mr. DeWolf.

Mr. DeWolf said, "I think it is one of the important duties of every man and woman in the Commonwealth, regardless of political affiliation, to support the Governor." He cited the co-operation being given by the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate as examples for all good citizens.

The Governor, he said, had no thought of political ties in appointing the Fall River Commission. Mr. DeWolf added that his own happy memories were of warm friendships of all beliefs and that the duties of citizenship would be best expressed in fellowship, loyalty and sacrifice.

About 150 attended the meeting. Alfred H. Whitney of Newton Centre was chairman of the banquet committee.

SNOW SCULPTURE ON WALNUT STREET A MYSTERY

Travellers on Walnut street over the weekend were attracted by a remarkably artistic snow statue of George Washington on the front lawn of Dr. Leroy M. S. Miner at the corner of Mill street. The sculpture seemed to be a faithful representation of the Father of His Country as painted in the Stuart portrait in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. The detail was remarkably well done, the wig, posture and even the folds of the clothing being perfectly modeled.

The question is, who is the artist? Dr. and Mrs. Miner were away from home, and none of the children of the neighborhood will own up to the work. The snow about was scarcely trampled a bit, and the feet were placed behind a bush, showing extremely good artistic judgment. Those who still believe in fairies have good reason to think that they did it.

NEWTON CENTRE MAN ROBBED

Norman Walker of 166 Greenwood street, Newton Centre, complained to the police at North Cambridge early Monday morning that he had been attacked by three men and robbed of his wrist watch near Rindge Field in Cambridge. Police accompanied Walker about the district and on Massachusetts avenue arrested three young men who were identified by Walker as his assailants. They gave their names as Richard Keene, Rice street; Joseph Bernard, Reed street; and Bernard Cannocann, Cedar street, all of Cambridge. The wrist watch which Walker claimed was stolen from him, was not found on any of the trio.

HAND INJURED IN WASHING MACHINE

Henry Laird of 67 Halcyn road, Newton Centre, had his left hand injured when it was caught in the gears of a washing machine at that address yesterday morning. Laird was attempting to adjust the gears under the machine when his hand became caught. Mrs. Elizabeth Kirby of 67 Halcyn road stopped the machine and telephoned to the police for aid. Patrolmen Cody and Hammill responded and Laird was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Residents of Newton who have lived in other cities and towns, not so far removed, have favorable comments to make on the way in which the Street Department of this city clears the streets of snow after storms. They assert that Newton is far superior to most places in this phase of public activities.

If members of the Newton City Government desire to see the Boston to Worcester traffic artery completed in the near future, they must take a definite stand either with or against Mr. Harmon, the Worcester "altruist," who has so concerned himself with the route this highway should follow miles away from his city. The plans of the State Department of the First Church, president of the highway to follow the route of the old Boston and Worcester turnpike, the straightest, most direct, and least hilly route between the two big cities. It would be advisable for Newton to support the plans of the State engineers rather than encourage the obstacles created by those citizens of Wellesley who have been agitated in the state of mind of not wanting any part of the proposed new highway in their town. Otherwise, this city is apt to find itself the "goat," with the big traffic artery coming through some of the most congested parts of the Newtons.

This country is flooded with appeals for the farmers in the States which suffered from drought. There is no question but the farmers throughout this country have had "tough sledding." But, what about the working people in New England textile centres. Many thousands of men and women whose livelihood was dependent on employment in cotton and worsted mills in the New England States have been impoverished not for months, but for years. Why have some national agitation to relieve the sorry condition of these unemployed textile workers.

The great majority of automobile owners in Massachusetts should appreciate the activity of the insurance company which was responsible for bringing to trial before the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge over a score of men, largely residents of Hudson and Marlboro for conspiracy to defraud in automobile insurance cases. Of the 28 men indicted, 18 admitted guilt. Among the defendants are lawyers and physicians. It is regrettable to see members of the Massachusetts bar on trial for such an offence. It is even more to be regretted that members of the medical profession are on trial, charged with assisting in the concocting of fake insurance claims. The victims of those who steal by making false claims for automobile insurance are the owners of automobiles who have been paying more and more each year for compulsory automobile insurance. We have more respect for the "tough guy" who resorts to highway robbery than we have for the smug hypocrites who pose as honest citizens while stealing covertly from their fellows. The "yegg" is taking the chance of getting knocked off while pursuing his profession. The insurance thief works under cover, subtly. Assistant District Attorney Crafts has done good work in this case.

The other day a dog suffering from rabies started amuck at Waltham and before being shot and shot several miles away, between Lincoln and Concord, this mad animal bit 18 other dogs. That he did not bite humans, was due to the heroism of a woman who braved the fury of the dog by rushing by him into her automobile and drove ahead of him, as he ran along the road, warning people.

Last year in Massachusetts 5189 persons in Massachusetts were bitten by dogs. Three hundred positive cases of rabies were diagnosed from dogs' heads examined in the laboratory of the State Department of Health. Ask anyone who has had to take Pasteur treatment regarding their experience, not to mention the nervous strain after one had been bitten by a dog afflicted with rabies. Just how much longer this State will continue to treat this increasing menace with indifference is doubtful. But, the day will come when the same restrictions must be placed on dogs here that was placed on them in England long ago. We like dogs, but the lives and safety of human beings is more important than the unrestricted freedom of canines. Much of the biting by dogs must be charged against that breed so popular in this country since the World War: the so-called German police dogs. These dogs are unusually intelligent and make fascinating companions for those who own them. But, a large percentage of them are treacherous to other persons than their owners.

Newton Stands High In Health Work

First In Two Of Four Pre-School Protective Measures

The announcement of the results of its study of preschool health work by the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection gives Newton first rank among the 146 cities studied. In the group of 37 cities of the country in range of population from 65,000 to 104,000 Newton leads the list, standing first in periodic dental examinations, first in vaccination against smallpox, fifth in periodic health examinations, and twenty second in immunization against diphtheria.

Newton also stood well in comparison to the other cities of the country regardless of size, rating second in dental examinations and fifth in vaccination against smallpox. Moreover, Newton is the only Massachusetts city to receive a rating among the first five cities of the country regardless of size.

The above study made during the past year included children up to six years of age. "Health examination" means well children taken to the physician for advice, and "Dental Health Examination" likewise means well children taken to the dentist to have their teeth looked over. The studies were made by local workers under the supervision of the Committee on Medical Care for Children of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection.

Dr. Francis Geo. Curtis, Chairman of the city board of health says that the credit for this excellent showing goes to the board of health nurses, especially in connection with our annual health examination round up of preschool children in May and June of each year.

The other New England cities which made a specially excellent showing as a result of the study were Providence, which stood second in rank with all cities in health examinations and third in vaccination against smallpox, and New Haven which stood fifth in vaccination against smallpox and fourth in immunization against diphtheria.

FIRST AID ACTIVITIES

Marked progress has been made in the first aid activities of Newton Chapter, American Red Cross. Through the untiring efforts of Miss H. Margaret Norcross, instructor in home hygiene and first aid, many desirable achievements have been recorded.

At the recent Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts the following boys of the Newton Highlands troop, who took the Red Cross first aid course with Miss Norcross, received first aid certificates: John Nichols, Douglas Hill, Thomas Frey, George Collins, Allen Roberts, Kimball Mitchell, Prescott Downer, Herbert Abel, Rebfield Lamplier, Mortimer Lenk, Robert Bittender, Lester Davis, Charles Winslow, Howard Ness, Carl Goodwin, John Ball, Abraham Rockwood, Bruce Roberts, Robert Dunlap, Joseph Ferlazzo and William Camp. The presentation of the certificates was made by Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, Jr., treasurer, of Newton Chapter.

TO PRESENT COMEDY

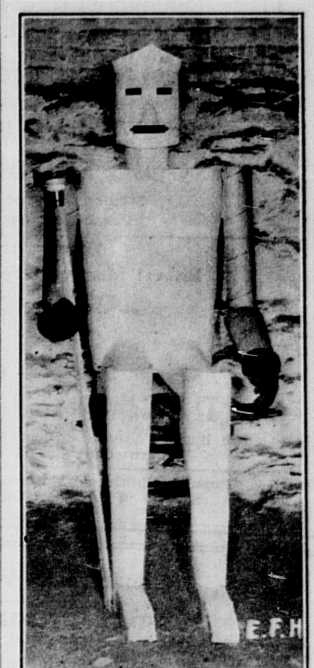

The Junior Dramatic Club will present "The Charm School" a three-act comedy by Alice Duer Miller in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Friday, March 6, at 8 p. m. The play will be followed by dancing.

This is the annual affair of this enterprising group of young people by which they secure money to finance their year's work and to contribute to a Newton charity. The play is the story of a young man who falls heir suddenly to a private school for young ladies and has a chance to put into practice his theory that girls should be educated to be charming and not intellectual. The extraordinary results afford an evening of hilarious laughter. The play is produced and coached by Mrs. Everett W. Varney. The characters are interpreted by Katharine Swinnerton and John Whelden who play the leads, Norman Dorr, Mary Jane Fuller, Ruth Stephen, Richard Wilson, Richard Chase, Basil Ridgway, Clark Rayner, Rosalind Bigelow, Margaret Caswell, Edna Mitchell, Priscilla Wright, Peggy May, and Barbara Anderson.

The management of the stage and lighting are in charge of C. Hassler Capron assisted by Bolton Wilder.

FIFTY YEARS AN ORGANIST

An organ recital will be given in Eliot Church, Newton, next Wednesday evening, March 4th, at eight fifteen o'clock by Mr. Everett E. Truette in commemoration of fifty years as a concert organist. HOSPITAL AID BENEFIT SHOP

Mrs. Frank H. Day, Jr., is opening her home at 170 Sargent street, Newton for a tea given to the staff of the Hospital Aid Benefit Shop on Tuesday, March 3. The speaker of the afternoon is to be William Jacobs whose Indian name is Crazy Bull a direct descendant of the famous Sitting Bull. He is a full blood Sioux Indian and dressed in ceremonial Sioux costume will tell of his people's customs and especially of the rites of the medicine men of his tribe. There are about 170 women from all the Newtons and from Wellesley enrolled as volunteer workers on the Benefit Shop staff, all enthusiastic helpers in this good work.

Never before has the need of just this type of activity been so great, for now, the working person who needs help, but can't accept actual charity finds a source of supply where a very little money buys warm clothing and useful furnishings.

NEWTON MAN HEADS FRAMINGHAM BANK

At a meeting of the directors of the Framingham National Bank held yesterday, R. E. Chambers of Newtonville was elected president to succeed Frederick L. Oakes whose resignation takes effect upon completion of the new building. Mr. Chambers will assume his new duties April first.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

WINS SECOND BIG SCHOOL TRACK MEET

Newton high won its second major interscholastic track victory of the season last Saturday by winning the seventh annual Andover gathering at the Case Memorial cage last Saturday afternoon. The Newton athletes scored in seven of the nine events of the program to total 17 2/3 points, nosing out Lynn English which finished second with 17 1/4. Thirteen other schools, led by Lynn Classical with 14 1/6, Brookline 13 3/4, Lawrence 12 1/6, Watertown with 10 and Boston English with 9, split the remaining points. The meet was outstanding in many respects. Three meet records were broken and another equalled. The practice of awarding three points to each school for new records placed a high premium for such accomplishments and almost prevented Newton from coming through victorious. In the dash twenty points were divided by four schools with Newton and Lynn English scoring seven each when Holmes and Jannell finished in a dead heat in the final to break last year's mark. Arlington scored five points with McCarthy taking third after making a new record in his semi-final. Lowell took the single point for fourth place.

With eight points—five for first and three for a record—in the shotput when Genlawicz of Lynn English smashed his 1930 mark with its seven points in the dash, put Lynn English right up in the running although a fourth in the broad jump by the same Jannell and a point and a quarter in the relay proved insufficient to head off Newton. Lynn Classical in third place with its 14 1/6 points scored eleven of the points in the broad jump. Niblock took first and shattered his last year's record for eight points and his teammate, Winer, took second for three more. A second in the shotput by Niblock and a sixth of a point in the relay were the only other points Lynn Classical could score. It was Newton's team strength that brought Coach Enoch's squad through with flying colors although there were many questionable moments as the afternoon wore on.

Seven trial heats in the hurdles reduced a huge field to fourteen outstanding competitors led by John Donovan of Lawrence, Captain Milton Green of Newton, Harry Boyd of Lawrence and John Hallahan of Boston English. This quartet proved its class when each won his semi-final and only the winners qualified for the finals. The final coming after the dash trials were held was a thriller with Donovan and Green staging their third hectic dual of the season. Green had been the victor at the Northeastern interscholastics three weeks previously over the low barriers and Donovan took the lead in the final. Donovan's time of 5 1/5 seconds equalled the record held jointly by six hurdlers of former years including Green in 1930.

Over fifty competitors answered the clerk's call for the dash, necessitating nine trial heats and three semi-finals. Don Irwin of Newton was nosed out in the first heat by Grigas of Brockton who finished second to Roberts of Lawrence to qualify for the semi-finals. McCarthy of Arlington won the second heat in 4 4/5 seconds to equal the record and give notice that he would be a dangerous competitor before the outcome was finally settled. Doug Sloane of Newton was second to McCarthy in this heat.

White of Lowell also equalled the mark in the fourth heat. Coming down to the final trial heat the draw brought Jannell of Lynn English and Holmes of Newton as the two foremost sprinters. It was a close race with Jannell winning the official decision in record equalling time. The first semi-final immediately followed and the draw sent Holmes, with no rest after his trial heat, against McCarthy and other qualifiers. Consternation reigned among the Newton supporters when the announcement came that McCarthy had beaten the Newton negro and broken the record, as it looked to many as though Holmes, who was on the outside lane, had the edge. Newton could have used those three extra points for a new record at the time. The second semi-final was won by White of Lowell with Sloane of Newton second and qualifying for the finals. Jannell won the third semi-final over Woods of Boston English. After the final in the hurdles had been run the dash finalists took the mark with Woods on first lane, Holmes second, White third, McCarthy fourth, Sloane fifth and Jannell on the outside. McCarthy and Jannell got off to a pretty start with Holmes getting off poorly. In the last fifteen yards Holmes literally ate up the ground to overhaul Jannell and finish in a deadlock for first place. McCarthy took third and White fourth.

Four heats in the 300 with the winners and the two fastest second men to qualify put Litman of Brookline, Pass of Malden, Good of Medford, Woodman of Brockton, Boyd of Lawrence and Mouser of Newton into the finals. Boyd had placed second to Litman and Mouser second to Pass. Mouser was running his first race in several weeks, having been scholastically ineligible until ten days ago. One of the biggest upsets of the day occurred in the first heat in which Larry Scanlon of Boston English, the favorite, was beaten for the first time this year, after being jostled off his stride at the first bank. Litman withdrew from the final and Boyd won it handsily with Pass of Malden second. Mouser overhauled Good of Medford to take third and boost the Newton total two more points. The 600 was run in three divisions against time with the point awards being made on the grading of the best times. Captain Lindsay Brigham won the first heat, going away from his opponents in 20 4/5 seconds with Thurber of Watertown second. Marvin of Boston English won the second heat with Malone of Winthrop and Guzzi of Newton staging a thrilling fight for second. Guzzi had laid back too long and failed to nip Malone at the tape. It turned out that Guzzi would have had to beat Marvin to finish in the points as the Boston English lad got but a fourth. McCarthy of Brockton won the third heat with Thompson of Medford second. Brigham's heat was the fastest and Brookline chalked up five points for a first. McCarthy took second, Thurber third and Marvin fourth. This was the first event Newton had not finished within the points.

The 1000-yard run was also run in three divisions with points being awarded according to best times. John Desmond of Commerce ran away with the first heat to win by 25 yards over Hagstrom of Worcester North in the time of 2 m. 25 3/5 sec. George Lamb of Newton won the second heat with plenty to spare over Doherty of Boston English, and Morgan of Malden won the third heat with Rountree of Medford second. On times Desmond won first, Hagstrom second, Lamb third, and Doherty fourth.

Meanwhile the shotput and broad jump had been held. Genlawicz, the Lynn English wonder, tossed the shot 50 ft. 11 in. for a new record. Niblock of Lynn Classical was second, Jim Colligan of Newton third and Zaitz of Boston English fourth. Colligan's best heave was 45 ft. 6 1/2 inches for two points for the orange and black.

As mentioned Niblock broke his own record in the broad jump for first place. Niblock took first and the high jump was won by Winer, second, for a total of eleven points to put Lynn Classical in the fight for the trophy. Lowney of Watertown was third and Jannell of Lynn English fourth. Green of Newton was nosed out of the points. Niblock's distance was 10 ft. 2 1/2 inches.

Thus the situation came down to the relay races and the high jump with Newton and Lynn English tied with 16 points, followed by Lynn Classical with 14 points and Lawrence with 12 points. Newton was the only school in this quartet that was in the competition in the high jump. Green was expected to place well up in the jump and the relay team was expected to score enough points to shade Lynn English. But Green could only clear 5 ft. 6 in. for a tie for third in the high jump and 1 1/2 points. Varney of Brookline captured the event with Perkins of Watertown second. Hilliard of Brockton tied Green.

Meanwhile several relays had been completed with Boston English making the fastest time to defeat Everett. It is doubtful whether he will be following the questioning of its time in the B. A. A. meet by finishing with the second best time. Medford and Newton followed in a hectic race. Hersey of Medford and Chalmers of Hersey handing the baton over to his second man with a yard lead. Bell and Guzzi ran the two Medford runners, Thompson and Elliott, on even terms before Cahill and Good began their anchor legs. On the final lap Cahill was trailing Good by about two feet when he stumbled and went down. Scrambling to his feet he finished eight yards behind Good. Newton's time of 2 min. 30 sec. did not make it look any too certain as to the outcome of the meet. Lowell shaded Lawrence and Brookline swamped Brockton to bring the meet down to the final schoolboy relay between the two Lynn teams, English and Classical. English needed to tie or better the time of 2 m. 29 1/5 sec. previously made by Lowell in order to defeat Brockton. Good needed to place among the first three best to win from Newton and English. It was a great race with English winning by a yard but their time of 2 m. 29 4/5 sec. just shaded that of Newton by 1/5 of a second while Classical tied Newton's time as Lawrence had in its race with Lowell.

By capturing the meet Newton has proved itself the outstanding schoolboy track team of the state, having won the Northeastern meet last month and a strong claim on the disputed B. A. A. schoolboy title two weeks ago. With the State Meet at the East Armory on March 7th the remaining meet on the schedule, Coach Enoch and his lads are preparing to give the other Class A High Schools a close race and good prospects of coming through on top, although the competition will be even closer than last Saturday because of the presence of the Boston schools, the Newton team has the opportunity to set a record that will be years in being equalled or surpassed.

SPORT NOTES

Harvard Wins Again

Harvard dealt Canadian hockey prestige a staggering blow last Monday night by defeating McGill University at Montreal, 2 to 0. It was the Crimson's second victory of the season over McGill and brought international intercollegiate supremacy to America as Harvard has won all games against Canadian college opponents. It was a thrill game of hockey. Cunningham scored the first tally unassisted. The second Harvard tally came in the second session. Johnny Garrison of West Newton started the play and passed to Everett who took a shot. Cunningham was on the spot to slap the rebound home.

Pescosolido Wins Dash

At the triangular college track meet at the Boston Garden last Saturday evening Carl Pescosolido, Harvard freshman, equalled the meet record in winning the 50-yard dash finals. Hardy of Cornell, who equalled the record in his trial heat, was second and Hayes of Harvard third. Dartmouth failed to qualify for the finals.

OUR LADY FIVE DROPS BIG GAME

The Our Lady High School basketball team dropped an important Greater Boston Catholic High School league game Tuesday to St. Charles School of Waltham on the latter's floor, 24 to 39. The defeat dissolved a triple tie between St. Charles, Our Lady and Cathedral high of South Boston and left the Waltham and South Boston quintets in a top tie as Cathedral whipped Mission High of Roxbury, 32 to 27. Yesterday St. Charles took the lead in the race by trouncing Mission, 52 to 17, in a game originally set for today put ahead by agreement. Our Lady and Cathedral meet today on the Newton quintet's court and the locals must take the game to stay in the race. Should Cathedral drop today's game and then win its crucial contest with St. Charles next Tuesday another triple tie will exist. Should Cathedral defeat Our Lady this afternoon the South Boston outfit will be in a deadlock with St. Charles and the title will be at stake in Tuesday's game. In the first round set of games between these three teams Our Lady defeated St. Charles, St. Charles defeated Cathedral and Cathedral in turn trimmed Our Lady.

In the St. Charles victory over Our Lady on Tuesday the Newton ace, Charlie Gallagher, took high scoring honors with five baskets and a foul goal for eleven points to top Everett Guzzi, St. Charles' star, who was covered closely and held to two baskets from the floor and four fouls for eight points.

The league standing this morning was:

	W.	L.	PF.	PA.	P.C.
St. Charles	12	1	634	173	.923
Cathedral	11	1	395	226	.917

* St. John and St. Mary's played tie game.

SPORT NOTES

Ebelhare Fails to Place

Edward Ebelhare, former Newton High athlete, failed to place in the high jump at the triangular college track meet last Saturday. The former all-scholastic jumper was expected to score points for Cornell but was eliminated at six feet which was cleared by two Dartmouth athletes, Milans and Moody and by Kuehn of Harvard. Hamilton Kollmyer, Harvard sophomore quarter-miler, did not compete as he has not entirely recovered from the effects of his recent illness. It is doubtful whether he will be in shape to compete in the intercollegiate next week in New York.

Osborne Wins Furlong

Lloyd Osborne won the 220-yard swim for Yale in the dual swimming meet with Columbia last Saturday in which the Blue caged the Lion to the tune of 54 to 17.

Wilson Fourth At Nationals

Edgar Wilson of Newton took fourth place in the mile walk at the American National indoor track and field championships at New York on Wednesday night. The event was won by Carlisle of the New York A. C. with a teammate, Podolski, second and Beutel of the New York Y. M. H. A. third.

Pescosolido Wins Another Dash

Carl Pescosolido won the final heat of the 70-yard dash at the Harvard annual Winter handicap meet on Wednesday. Pesky qualified for the finals by winning his preliminary heat Tuesday. The ex-Newton high athlete shaded A. C. Forbes a junior and J. C. Hayes a fellow freshman in 7.5 seconds. Hayes was clocked in 7.5 seconds in his trial heat Tuesday.

Town Team Eliminated

In the New England Olympic hockey tryouts at the Arena last Friday night the Brae Burn Club team defeated the Quincy Rangers and the St. Thomas H. C. of Jamaica Plain eliminated the Newton Town Team. The Brae Burn sextet is the sole surviving local team now in the tourney. The Brae Burn Quincy melee was a thriller with the locals leading, 1 to 0, for more than a period by means of a tally by Rice. In the second period Jack Hutchinson added a second before Quincy counted. In the third session Rice scored again to make the win certain. The Town Team-St. Thomas game was marked by many penalties, ten being imposed in the second period. St. Thomas scored in the first period and then safely protected its margin despite the attempts of Billings, Reilly, Bell, Duane, Harrington, and Andres, former high school players and their teammates to score.

Close Race in Newton League

The race for honors in the Newton bowling league Boston pin matches still lies between three teams as the result of Wednesday night's matches. University, by winning three points from Waban went into a one-point lead over Hunnewell and Middlesex as these two outfits split even on the Arlington Club alleys. Hunnewell with 1640 had the high team total of the evening and Mergus, which took three from the Newton Club at Wellesley had the high team single with 5774. Bloomfield of Waban set a new high single for the season by topping 150 pins on his first string. In the other match at the Weston Club Commercial of Brockton took three out of four. Gaze of University hit 375 for a three string total with 114, 143, 118. The standing to date:

NEWTON LOSES TO EVERETT IN FINAL

Last Friday night at Everett in the final game of the Newton High School basketball season the orange and black quintet lost to the ex-Suburban league team 7 to 24. Newton failed to get going and Everett had little difficulty in penetrating the Newton defence. The Everett second team took a hard fought 13 to 12 contest from the Newton seconds. In the main game Wetherbee and Huston each scored a field goal with Weldig adding two points from the foul line and Captain Bailey a single one to total the seven tallies. Fogberg and Rogaean led for Everett with six points each to score half of their team's points.

McCullough Elected B. U. Captain

The letter men of the Boston University baseball team held their long delayed election of a 1931 captain yesterday and selected John C. McCullough, veteran outfielder and senior, who is well remembered locally for his scholastic athletic ability. At Newton high the Newton Centre youth captained the baseball team in his senior year and was an all-scholastic end on the football team. After graduating from Newton he entered Exeter where he starred both as an outfielder on the nine and an end on the eleven. He entered the College of Business Administration at Boston University prior to the establishment of the freshman rule and made the nine in his first year. Last fall was his fourth as a regular end on the gridiron squad. He was also a member of the hockey squad as a sophomore. In baseball McCullough had his best year in 1929 when he led the team at bat with a mark of .415. Last year he had a low batting average but kept up his fine work in the field. His best day in 1930 was in the 16 to 15 loss to Boston College in which he clouted a home run and a triple in five times at bat. McCullough is a member of Skull, junior honorary society, freshman service committee, B. U. Athletic Association, and Chi Sigma Chi fraternity. McCullough will lead a squad of fine prospects with the first battery practice slated for this afternoon.

Miss Rice Loses

After winning her first round match in the women's singles of the Bermuda Lawn Tennis championships at Hamilton, Bermuda on Tuesday Miss Virginia Rice, former Newton Centre young woman lost in the second round. Miss Rice defeated Helen Trimmingham of Bermuda after a hard struggle, 8-6, 4-6, 6-1, and then met Penelope Anderson of Virginia. The Southerner and Miss Rice played the outstanding match of the day with the former the victor, 6-3, 1-6, 7-5.

Country Day Wins

The Country Day school team hung up a 44 to 19 victory over the Browne & Nichols school Wednesday on the latter's outdoor track at Cambridge. Jean Labouchere of Country Day was the most versatile performer scoring ten points with seconds in the hurdles, 600 and shotput and third in the high jump. Bill Schmidt of Country Day and his brother Don of Browne & Nichols were pitted against each other in the final of the dash with the Browne & Nichols youth winning by two feet. The Country Day Schmidt got revenge in the first trial heat of the hurdles by winning from his brother by two yards and then taking the final. Country Day swept the 1000 with William Haley, Robert Walldinger and Harold Stanton finishing in that order and also the shotput with William Nelson, Labouchere and Bradford Jenkins in first, second and third places. Jenkins also picked up a third in the 300. The Newton school added to its score with a first in the 600 by Captain Browne and a first in the high jump by James Sampson.

At Newton, Phillips confined his athletics to junior varsity football.

The great eclipse of 1931

To the motorist thinking of buying a new car now, the attention the entire industry is giving to Free Wheeling means a great deal. Pierce-Arrow and Lincoln, noted for engineering excellence and conservatism, have adopted—intact and unmodified—the same Free Wheeling mechanism that is built into Studebaker's three great Eights and brilliant new Six.

Free Wheeling has captured public interest as thoroughly as it has captured the hitherto wasted power of momentum.

Highway commissioners and safety directors throughout the country have driven Free Wheeling Studebakers and then voiced approval of Free Wheeling with positive gear control as a new measure of safety to driver and public.

All Studebaker cars—the President, Commander and Dictator Eights, as well as the brilliant new low-priced Studebaker Six—have Free Wheeling with positive gear control. Studebaker cars are priced, f. o. b. factory, from $795 to $2600.

In Free Wheeling, for the first time in the history of the automobile, Studebaker has released momentum and made it serve as an instrument of economy and power. Free Wheeling with positive gear control enables the engine to deliver five miles of travel on four miles of effort.

You will do well if you make sure that your new car is a Free Wheeling Studebaker. It will save you substantial amounts on gasoline, oil, tires and repairs.

The cars of today that do not offer Free Wheeling are cars of the old order even though they may be spoken of as new. Base your new car choice on first-hand knowledge—ask your Studebaker dealer to take you Free Wheeling.

POLICE NEWS

Francis Hughes of 137 Waltham street, Watertown was arrested Saturday night by Special Officers Feeley and Mullen charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He was in the Newton court on Tuesday and his case was continued until March 4.

Salvatore DeVito of Spring street, Waltham, a taxi driver was hired in Central Square that city on Monday night by three men who stated they wished to be driven to Newtonville. On Nevada street, Newtonville, the trio ordered DeVito to stop the taxi, pulled revolvers and took his money, amounting to $5.70. They drove off in the taxi, leaving DeVito standing on the street. The taxi was found a couple of hours later abandoned on California street, Newtonville, a short distance from where the robbery occurred.

In the Waltham court on Tuesday Clarence DeWolfe, 20, of Taft avenue, West Newton, and William Gowell, 18, of 517 Crafts street, Newtonville were sentenced to serve two months each in the Middlesex county jail. They appealed. They were found guilty of having stolen the car of W. Griffin of Arcadia street, Dorchester while it was parked on Monday night at Moody street, Waltham. Soon after news of the theft of the automobile had been broadcast, State troopers found the car on Billerica street, Bedford. DeWolfe and Gowell were standing alongside the car, which had apparently collided with a pole and was badly damaged.

Graham McLeod of 45 Mason terrace, Brookline, a student at Harvard, was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with speeding his car by a street intersection at Newton Centre. McLeod's attorney asked for leniency and Judge Brown complied with the request, placing the case on file. This was not even lenient enough for McLeod, who appealed. Judge Brown then fined him $10 and held him in bonds of $50 for appearance before the Superior Court.

Richard Howard of 225 Chapel street, Nonantum was arrested Tuesday night by Patrolmen Feeley and Jenkins, charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He was in court Wednesday and his trial was continued until March 11.

Suspended fines of $20 each were imposed last Saturday in the Newton court on Mr. and Mrs. George McNamee of 128 Westland avenue, West Newton for failure to connect their house with the sanitary sewer on the adjoining street. The fines were suspended until April 25th with the proviso that the connection be done by that date.

Sherman Smith of Warren street, Newton Centre, complained to the Newton police last Friday that a member of his family had been bitten by a dog owned by Franklin Trube of 550 Beacon street, Newton Centre. The dog was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle notified to examine it.

Arthur Gray, 19, of 10 Prospect street, West Newton was arrested Monday after a car he was driving had collided with a car driven by George Wilson of 230 Walnut street, Newtonville. The accident happened opposite 218 Walnut street and young Gray was charged with driving without a license. In the Newton court on Tuesday he was also charged with leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. Gray received injuries to his head and was treated by Dr. Lowe. His case was continued to Feb. 28.

A squad of police under Sergt. Moran raided the house of James DeZotell at 11 Faxon street, Nonantum on Saturday night and seized two pints of alleged whiskey and 32 empty pint bottles. Later in the night DeZotell was arrested on the charge of having made an illegal sale of liquor. DeZotell was in the Newton court on Tuesday and his case was continued until March 6.

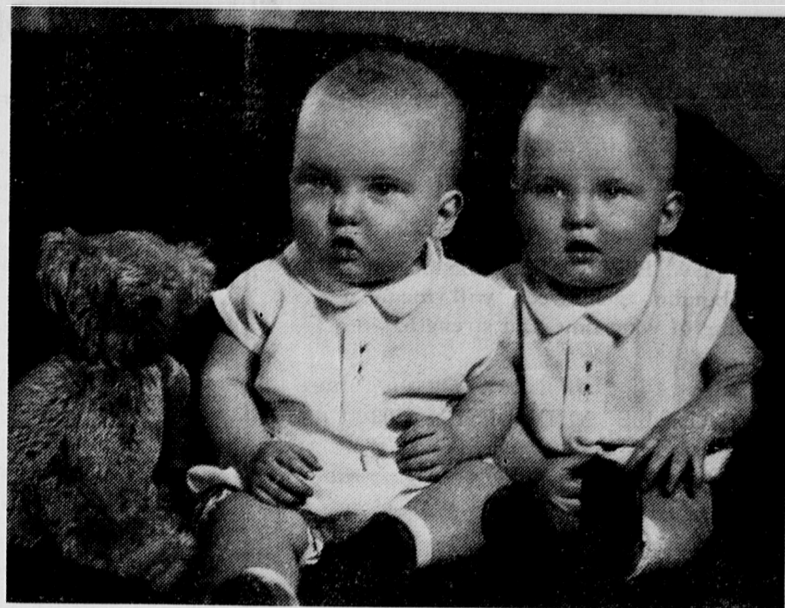

Louis Ebb, the Boston constable who collects delinquent taxes in Newton, was the complainant against Christopher Crowell of 55 Colbert road, West Newton. Ebb complained that he went to Crowell to collect taxes and received a check for $50 which subsequently proved worthless. As Crowell had made restitution, the case was placed on file.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

One of the Baptist churches in this District recently received a compliment, when the Baptist State Secretary for Religious Education said, "You are certainly doing the best piece of work I've seen for a long time in a church without a director." There are several reasons for this remark. In the first place, the minister of that church is himself teaching a teacher-training class of young people at the church school hour. In the second place, the superintendent of the school has recently taken courses at the Norumbega District School of Religious Education and is conscientiously trying to put into practice much that was learned there.

The Girls' Basketball League of the District ran off two games last week. The winning teams were the Newtonville Methodist and the Newtonville Congregational. Miss Barbara Smith acted as referee and Miss Lullona Barker as official scorer. To play for the fun of the game and for the good exercise is emphasized in this league above the playing for victory.

The Executive Committee of the District Young People's Cabinet met last Sunday evening and decided to call a special meeting of the Newton Y. P. Inter-church Councils on Saturday, March 14, to make further plans for the Easter Sunrise Service. This Council meeting will be at the Eliot Church.

F. Baker composed the "Y" team. The next match will be played March 7th when the team meets Boston Y. M. C. A. at Boston in a preliminary match of the Y. M. C. A. State Championship.

Senior Basketball

The Senior Basketball Team of the Newton Y. M. C. A. reversed the result of the game played at Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. when it was defeated, by defeating Hyde Park "Y" at Newton Saturday evening, 46 to 10. Every member of the Newton team took part in the scoring with "Bussy" Earle alternating at right forward leading with fourteen points. Henry Mahler, captain of the Newton team, who plays left guard, scored ten points; Ralph Dunbrack, alternating at right forward, scored seven points; John MacDonnell, left forward, scored six points; Dick Walls, center, scored five points, and "Red" Joyce at right guard, scored four points.

In the second team game with the score 10 to 10 at half time Hyde Park outscored Newton in the second half to win 25 to 20.

Next Saturday the "Y" first and second teams meet Wakefield "Y" at Wakefield.

Junior Basketball Championship of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire Saturday at Worcester "Y" by defeating Fall River 37-12 in the semi-finals and Nashua 50-34 in the finals. The Newton team displayed a great team game with much fine passing and an almost impenetrable defense.

Babe Plenty and Ray Clark were without doubt the best guards in the tournament. Kasper did excellent work on both the offense and defense, scoring many difficult shots. Lansed, with his all around scoring and defensive play, was a continual threat which the opponents couldn't seem to stop. Bass, Herlihy, and Stevens contributed a good many points and did a great deal to keep the opponents' scores down. The Y. M. C. A. Championship Shield was awarded the team and individual gold medals were awarded the players. The team will continue to play basketball well into March.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Intermediate Team defeated the strong Lynn Intermediates in the Newton Y. M. C. A. swimming pool Saturday afternoon 31 to 26. ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

It had never occurred to me that the friends of sleep were so influential as to prevent the ringing of bells on Washington's Birthday. On several occasions, following State and city elections, I have heard it said that voters were "asleep." It struck me as a word of bitter criticism. I supposed that it meant they had failed to do their duty as regards some important office or question. I now find that if you are fond of sleep it counts in your favor, if not at the polls at least in the privacy of your home.

I cannot say that I got any marked advantage from the Mayor's ruling and the consequent abandonment of bell-ringing from church steeples last Monday. Frankly, I missed it, because, I suppose, I was brought up to listen to it and like it. As a very young boy I thought the distinction that Washington's Birthday and Fourth of July received was a lesson in patriotism even if dimmed into one's ears, so to speak. It sort of thrilled me to hear the tones of the big bells. For a few minutes, at least until the bells stopped ringing, I was always reminded that George Washington was the father of his country and responsible for the liberties we still enjoy. I do not charge him with having brought upon the country all the liberties that we take, but I give him credit for those worthy of emulation.

More out of habit than in a spirit of fiery patriotism I hopped out of bed early on the day we celebrated, which was the twenty-third, and prepared myself for a day of toil as usual. I could not take advantage of the noiseless holiday because I had things to write, including this. But I did give the matter some thought. I decided that if there are early morning disturbances to be cut out of our daily existence I could offer some which should have precedence over church bell ringing.

Not only on holidays but every day would I stop the ringing of telephone bells which, when answered, prove only that the operator has called the wrong number. This at an early hour is worse than anything that ever happened on Washington's Birthday or Fourth of July. Then there is the sounding of automobile horns by very early morning drivers, the motorist's glorious banging of the front-end gong (I live on a trolley line) and sometimes the sounding of the backdoor buzzer by a choreman who wants to get things done up early. It's no use enumerating all the noises of early morning. There are so many that bell ringing on two holidays really proves as soothing as a slumber song. Ho hum!

Bell Castle Inn,
Belladuna, O.

Dear L. D. G. B.—Now that we have answered the bell to breakfast by the Belle of this old landmark in the grand old state of O-ho-ho, I mean, O-hi-o, I simply must try to have you enter my earnest protest against the Anti-Bell Ringing activities of my old friend, the young Mayor of your fair city.

What in the world has $42 (forty-two dollars) got to do with it? Where in the world is this movement headed? What would be the sense of a platform without bells and bell ringing, yes and belles of all kinds? The bell on the alarm clock, the one on the door, the one on the phone, the one on the truck (police and fire) the belle on the ballroom floor; yes, the bell in the steeple, the bell in the school, the bell on the college chapel, the bell on the hill, calling the august Senate of the United States to roll-call. All with a purpose, perhaps patriotic, useful or whatnot.

I always thought him a young man with bells on, I assure you it is going to be hard to think of him with bells off. What a business! Can statesmanship long survive these assaults on our old-fashioned habits—that are even inbred in us for years and for which we are grateful. It never was noise in the good old days. Then it was the reverent calling of the house of the Lord asking us to pause and give thanks for our sacred heritage, our traditions and our faith. Suppose we are disturbed at 7 a. m.! It's high time that someone in this great country of ours be awake as early as 7 and perhaps earlier. Paul Revere would never call, "Asleep, asleep!" But now he had to be contrary and yell, "Awake, awake!" and in the absence of something better than a lantern and a horse and sense enough to use them in the right way where would we be now and where our churches and their bells? Penny-wise and pound foolish is no name for such goings-on.

Still, I shouldn't complain, it's anti-this and anti-that 'till one's head's in a whirl. Mention a new movement and it's bound to have an appeal and it won't be sox appeal either, either.

There are cow-bells and jingle-bells, bells-bells and other bells and on indefinitely. To me there is beauty in all things and everything has a purpose; of course we cannot all think alike, yea, or even sleep alike. But I pray you do what you can to pass along this word of complaint. Let us hold our old-fashioned habits and our legends, our respect for things as they have been and when we seriously follow protests be sure they are majority protests; and that move, even such as these will consider the women and children first. Let the mothers hold counsel with their children and tell of our glorious history and our struggles, our pride in things past and our hope in the future.

This is the end. I must cut this short for I hear the dinner bell.

Yours truly,

I. M. Regusted.

An incident that came under my personal observation the other day has led me to wonder if it would not be more interesting to high school pupils if they were brought in more direct touch with affairs at the State House than is at present the custom. Ordinarily, a large number of boys and girls are marched into the capitol

Insured and Assured

Metropolitan policyholders—including about one-fifth of the total populations of United States and Canada—have built up their reserves from millions into billions.

THE financial story below is a record of achievement by men and women who are planning to avert want or to build estates. You may admire their steadfastness of purpose last year under handicaps which tested courage.

These people—policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—are building for their future. They would like to know what the future holds in store for them and for the country as a whole.

Let them, and other citizens, examine any chart of our country's unparalleled prosperity over the past hundred years. It appears, not merely as a jagged line, but as a series of towering steps which rise steadily onward and upward.

It is heartening now to recall that, after each depression, our country has always gone forward to greater heights of prosperity and better, sounder standards of living. Today this country has more riches and better facilities than ever before with which to commence her next great period of development.

A review of the financial history of the United States since it was founded in 1783 should turn any pessimist into an optimist.

The Metropolitan will gladly mail, free, a booklet, "The Development of Prosperity in America", telling of past ups and downs—and ups again—and how soon the "ups" followed.

LEROY A. LINCOLN, Vice-President and General Counsel

under the supervision of one or more teachers and marshalled into double columns in one of the corridors while seats are prepared for them in the public gallery. After having taken their seats they look down the assembled legislators. It may be that there is a debate in progress, but if the pupils are not informed as to the provisions of the pending measure there is little chance of their understanding what the discussion is all about.

It has frequently puzzled me, as I have watched these youngsters, whether they knew what the General Court was up to at that moment and if not whether they were able to form a proper idea of the procedure. They should be informed beforehand, if possible, that such and such a bill had been reported and certain speakers opposed, or that the measure had been adversely reported and its supporters were seeking to have it substituted. You cannot impart this during a session to a whole gallery filled with young people, particularly when complete silence among spectators is the rule.

Of course, if it is merely part of a "visit to the State House" that is another matter. Otherwise, children, who have come to learn and catch only a portion of the debate, must go out with jumbled thoughts of legislative goings-on. How can you blame them.

Now for an example of what I believe to be the most comprehensive way of teaching the youth what State government means. Through arrangements made in advance, a group of some 200 High School pupils, accompanied by their instructors, were permitted to attend a hearing before the State Industrial Accident Board. These pupils, students of commercial law, heard an applicant for workmen's compensation present his claim. The applicant had no lawyer, but recited the circumstances of his injury, his weeks of recovery and such details as the State board required. Then the other side was presented.

Here, then was something that the pupils could readily comprehend. Furthermore, the presiding commissioner made an address in which he described the form of the proceedings in detail. It gave the young people a clear idea of the administration of the industrial accident law and was equally interesting. I am sure, as the pages of a textbook. More teaching of this kind, as I view it, would help the pupils and also spread a wider knowledge of State affairs, which is desirable in young and old.

If I had the time I should like to compute statistics showing the amount of time consumed by Newton people in putting on and taking off overshoes. I think I should have the figures cover a period, beginning December 15 and continuing to date. If I said March 1 or some other period someone might get the idea that Winter will be over in a week or two, or that I had made such prediction. For my own part I don't care how soon Winter weather leaves us and Spring comes fairly tripping into our presence.

Speaking of tripping, that is what I am apt to do when I decide to leave my overshoes unbuckled, with the notion that I can make the usual progress. No, they were made to be fastened, although you would not think so to observe certain of our younger citizens as they flap first one foot and then the other through the streets. You know there is something paradoxical in this unbuckled overshoes business. The young have little or no trouble in bending over and adjusting the buckles. Their elders have excellent reason, or reasons, for not desiring the bent-over position. To some of us it is a decided inconvenience and a nuisance. Yet the very ones who find it difficult to buckle their overshoes are those who never leave them flapping. Just why this should be I am not prepared to explain. It may be that youth likes to show its contempt for age by sporting unbuckled footwear or that it has something else which it prefers to do with its time.

As I started to say, I wonder how much energy is expended in getting into and out of these substantial, serviceable and clumsy overshoes. I have not yet evolved a satisfactory system of putting them on or tearing them off. I have tried sitting down, also standing up with one hand on the door-knob. Placing the overshoe on its side and trying to wriggle one's foot in calls for an acrobatic performance. To sit down and plunge one's foot into the opening usually results in a terrific struggle. If the foot should slide in readily it does so with a suddenness that is quite likely to make one tumble forward.

The whole thing is a problem that no scientist thinks worth while and yet the man who some day solves it and thus relieves his fellow man should receive gratitude as well as royalties. I might make this paradoxical in this unbuckled overshoes business. The young have little or no trouble in bending over and adjusting the buckles. Their elders have excellent reason, or reasons, for not desiring the bent-over position. To some of us it is a decided inconvenience and a nuisance. Yet the very ones who find it difficult to buckle their overshoes are those who never leave them flapping. Just why this should be I am not prepared to explain. It may be that youth likes to show its contempt for age by sporting unbuckled footwear or that it has something else which it prefers to do with its time.

It must take infinite patience to be a finger-print expert. I dropped in the other day at the office of one of the best known in the country and saw him at work. It caused me to wonder why we don't see more reference to this branch of crime detection in stories and plays. I suppose it is as difficult to "put across" in language that the every day "movie" fan will understand. I doubt if the more studious would grasp it readily without the aid of charts and things. And you know what an audience would do if you tried to teach them something that required some mental strain.

Nevertheless, there is a whole lot about this finger printing business that is fascinating even to the casual visitor. The matter of filing and having accessible at short notice information about crooks of all grades is one of the achievements of the expert with whom I visited. It is not simply a case of making a finger print and recording it. He goes much further into the subject. So much so that it was too deep for me, that is, some of it was and the rest I delighted to hear about.

"You know," said the expert, "that we classify these people according to their line of crime. We follow a forger and we watch how he operates. By the way, we have the record of a pair of these men who pretended to have established a partnership and in that way formed a business concern. It made their forged checks so much more impressive, yet they were forged, nevertheless."

He then showed me some of the inner mysteries of the art of developing finger-prints and of making what would ordinarily appear a mere thumb mark into a substantial piece of incriminating evidence. It was a marvel to me but revealed how very progressive are modern police methods.

REDUCING THE COST OF BEING ILL

In recent years there has been a great deal of wide-spread criticism of the increasing cost of illness because of doctor's fees, nursing and hospital care. In many cases it has been a great hardship for the patient or those upon whom he or she may be dependent to meet these expenses when the usual fees are charged. The new measures adopted by the Newton Hospital will do much to counteract these criticisms and enable those of moderate means to have the best care possible. By this plan the fees of the doctors and the hospital charges are determined in consultation between the patient or his family and the hospital superintendent and with consideration of the income of the family. In many cases the doctor's fee and the hospital charges are scaled a considerable amount, depending upon the financial statement of the patient's family. At the Newton Hospital the poor receive the best hospital care always, the needs of the well-to-do are met with the best that money can provide and patients of moderate means are now being cared for at an expense within the possibilities of their incomes.

NEWTON RANKS HIGH IN HEALTH MEASURES

The city of Newton has long been noted for the quality of its health work for children of school age, both medical and health educational. Now, as a result of the study of health work for children of preschool age in the leading cities of the country, stimulated by the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection, Newton takes first rank among the highest scoring cities. As Dr. Curtis of our health department says, "A city which furnishes such good care for her children before they reach school age may be considered a safe and desirable place in which to bring up a family."

Facts About Newton

REMINISCENCES OF FORMER RESIDENTS

Florenia W. Whitney

Newtonville, remotely known as Hull's Crossing, has been the home of many persons of distinction.

Mr. Stephen A. Schoff resided for many years on Austin street. He was the finest of American steel engravers—working first on bank notes and later filling orders for a head of Emerson—a portrait of Mrs. Harrison Gray Otis—Hunt's "Bathers," one of Marshall Johnson's sea views, and many interesting subjects.

He was honored in a letter from Ruskin praising his exceptional work. So painstaking—always striving to "paint the lily and adorn the rose" he would destroy plate after plate—and in consequence the financial profits were small.

When etchings came into favor he took up that line of work. In the biography of Nathaniel Hawthorne and his wife, by their son, Julian, there are portraits etched by Mr. Schoff—and in many other fine publications we find the work of his hands—all combining to prove a remarkable record.

On the site now occupied by the Newton Trust Company was the home of a successful artist, Edwin Lord Weeks. Later, his studio was in Paris, where he had the advantage of the finest instructors.

His subjects were oriental and in much favor with the French people, partly because of their novelty—for at that time few artists had traveled in those countries. One of his paintings—a large canvas—was placed on the walls of our Boston Art Museum.

In 1896 he published a volume entitled "From the Black Sea Through Persia and India."

This was beautifully illustrated by the author; and the fine English of the text proved his literary ability.

A near neighbor was Dr. Sullivan Whitney, born in 1807—the year that James Sullivan, one of the two famous Sullivan brothers was Governor of this state. A prominent Homeopathist, he was for a long time attending physician at the Boston Dispensary; also he was one of the founders of the Hospital and a trustee of the same.

He manufactured Homeopathic medicine and the thoroughness which made these important products of his labor absolutely to be trusted was appreciated by the best of the medical profession.

A musician, he was also much interested in the study of astronomy—and with the late Theophilus Parsons of Cambridge, owned a large telescope.

Mr. Levi Flanders' home was for a time on California street, near the Charles River, beautiful in its windings.

He is known as one of the finest interpreters of Browning's poems, and his talented wife, Celia, spoke of his reading of them as a "fine art."

It was this poet who wrote the inscription for Thaxter's headstone in the church yard at Kittery.

Mr. Thaxter was interested in the stage and on Sunday sometimes entertained actors. These occasions were festive and not agreeable to neighbors who had strict ideas as to the observance of the day.

The traditions of the Clafin House, where literary people were entertained, and also those of the Hull Mansion are well known, but in passing, we record what is not often mentioned:—on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of Bunker Hill Monument, June 17, 1825, General Lafayette had a part in the ceremonies and later was a guest of Gen. William Hull at The Elms.

This week's official report of the work of the six and one-half weeks the Legislature has been in session gives one an idea of the progress that has been made. The number of matters referred was 1836 as compared with 1379 in 1929 and 1355 in 1928. This year 489 matters have been reported at the end of six and one-half weeks, whereas 436 had been reported at this period a year ago and 456 two years ago at this time.

The total of matters this year upon which hearings have been held and which at this time await executive committee action is 754. Matters assigned for future hearing total 335 and matters not yet assigned for hearing total 258. There are 103 of the 258 unassigned matters which are in the three committees on Ways and Means, which is a normal condition at this time of year when the general appropriation bill is being heard.

From the above report it will be noted that to date there have been referred to the various committees 1836 matters, 457 more than at this period last year and 481 more than at this time in 1929. Up to this week there have been reported 175 matters. During the corresponding period last year there were 103 matters reported, and two years ago at this time 132. There have already been reported this year 53 more matters than at this period in 1929.

The State Department of Labor and Industries, through the Division of Statistics, announces that, according to data collected in connection with the census of manufactures for the year 1929, the total number of manufacturing establishments in operation in the State of New York was 71. The total value of all products manufactured in these establishments was $18,542,357, the value of stock and materials used in manufacture was $7,357,541, and the difference between these amounts ($11,184,816) represents the value added by the various manufacturing processes. The average number of wage-earners employed during the year was 3,490, and the total amount paid in wages was $4,254,165. The principal products manufactured in New York in 1929 were knit goods, electrical machinery, apparatus, and supplies, textile machinery and curtains.

The bill to prohibit the solicitation of business on public sidewalks without a license or permit was opposed by Senator Hollis, who cautioned the Senate to be careful. He said that there were places no doubt where the evil from this sort of thing existed and which the bill would correct. He feared, however, that it might also affect certain legitimate practices such as the selling of Christmas trees on the sidewalks. He thought it a bill intended merely to remedy a local condition and urged that it be rejected.

According to Senator Ulm of Dorchester the Fruit and Produce Exchange favored the bill, which, the Senator insisted, was not a local matter. It particularly affects larger cities, the Senator continued, asserting that a permit is required "even in Newton" to sell Christmas trees on the sidewalk. Senator Hollis replied that the bill would either be a hardship or would simply be another law that could not be enforced. The Senate passed the bill to be engrossed, 16 to 7.

The biggest problem now before the Legislature is the general appropriation bill, commonly called the "budget," on which the Joint Ways and Means Committee has been working for several weeks. The task is a tremendous one each year, but this session it is more so. In addition to the requests for money from various State departments there is the proposition of Governor Ely for a bond issue of $2,000,000 for public works and road construction, the Governor's request for an emergency fund of $1,000,000, and other items recommended by the Governor.

The committee is Representative Baker of this city, whose ability has proven of much value in the committee's deliberations. The Committee on Constitutional Law has reported "no legislation necessary" on the recommendation of Governor Ely as contained in his inaugural address to the Secretary of State, State Treasurer, State Auditor and Attorney General be appointed by the Governor. For many years there has been agitation in favor of this procedure both by Republicans and Democrats, but no action taken.

The Committee on Election Laws has reported adversely on bills of Charles H. McGlue, ex-chairman of the Democratic State Committee. One of them would have prohibited the opening of ballot boxes in towns until the voting is completed.

LASELL SEMINARY

At the Martha Washington costume party on Saturday evening, February 21, the prizes for the most beautiful Colonial costumes were awarded to Betty Follett of Newton Centre and Frances Parker of Danforth, Maine. A prize for the most perfect Mid-Victorian costume went to Ruth Small of Needham.

"Railroads are subject to increasingly heavy taxation, and at the same time are expected to improve grade crossings and other antiquated facilities. The grade crossings are largely necessary because of the motor traffic which directly competes with the railroads. Railroad taxes should be reduced or motor vehicles more strictly regulated than is generally the case.

It is clear that our government cannot go on taxing and regulating railroads with severity while at the same time it subsidizes competition on highways and waterways.

"Such a policy will either kill the railroads and leave us without adequate transportation or it will result in government ownership with all its evils."

Thousands of former railroad employees in Massachusetts who received high wages, have been idle for much of the time in late years due to motor trucks taking freight business from railroads. Drivers and helpers on these trucks receive far less pay and work much longer hours than did the railroad employees.

DROUGHT RELIEF FUND GROWS
Newton contributions to the Red Cross Drought Relief Fund now total $21,800 and the local chapter announces that it will gladly receive further contributions at its office at 12 Austin street, Newtonville. Among the most interesting stories of contributions is that to a Vermont Chapter a few days ago when a little lad presented the Red Cross workers there with a dime. Behind the act was the story of how the little lad had sold his sled in the height of the coasting season for thirty cents on the installment plan. As he left the lad said, "I'll be around pretty soon with some more money."

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A large percentage of casualties caused by automobiles hitting pedestrians result from reckless driving. And an appreciable percentage of such accidents are caused by reckless walking. Persons who walk behind automobiles which are being backed out of parking spaces are not displaying much common sense. And women who push baby carriages behind an automobile which is being backed out of a parking space can't be accused of being overburdened with brains.

John (Shauno) Collins, manager of the Boston "Red Sox" is again to become a resident of this city. The former Upper Falls boy has purchased one of the new houses located on the former Waitt estate at the corner of Vernon and Park streets, Newton and will reside there when he returns from Florida where the "Red Sox" have gone for the training period. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Meehan of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, formerly of Newton Upper Falls have gone to Florida with Mr. Collins, who is Mrs. Meehan's brother.

Allan C. Emery of Weymouth, the principal factor in bringing "Billy Sunday" to Boston, is a former well known resident of Newton. He was prominent in building up the Y. M. C. A. in this city and was a leader in the campaign which financed the present plant of this organization in Newton. Mr. Emery achieved considerable success in the wool business—the days when the cotton and wool industries reigned supreme in New England.

Mr. Russell Harmon of Worcester continues his activities against the proposed Worcester turnpike route for the Boston to Worcester traffic artery. Mr. Harmon is the person who proposed to use Commonwealth avenue in this city as one link of this State highway which will carry by far the heaviest automobile traffic in Massachusetts. Having been rebuffed by residents of Fayville, Framingham and Natick in his efforts to change the route planned by the engineers of the State Department of Public Works, he found a fertile field for his endeavors in Wellesley where there was some opposition to the traffic artery crossing Wellesley Hills square.

Mr. Harmon then presented his circuitous plans to the Mayor and Aldermen of Newton. Just why he expected them to fall for a scheme which would run real estate values in much of this city, as well as cause traffic hazards through the most thickly populated districts of Newton, cannot be understood by those who believe the members of Newton's City Government to be possessed of ordinary common sense. One of his latest ideas proposed that the artery cross the Charles River in Weston near the Metropolitan golf links and then travel along the river on the Newton side until Boylston street would be reached at Newton Upper Falls.

It is more than probable that the Legislature will vote to improve the plans of the Public Works Department and have the traffic artery built along the direct route of the old turnpike. There is no good reason why Wellesley, whose citizens will enjoy the advantage of the new route, should not have the direct way between Boston and Worcester travel in part through that town. No other community between Boston and Worcester clamors to be omitted from the route of the time saving highways, and assuming it will be constructed as planned, Wellesley residents in years to come will appreciate the facilities it will afford them to reach Boston or Worcester speedily. Mr. Harmon should concern himself more with his own territory and less with Newton, Brookline and other places removed from Worcester. The people of these communities are competent to handle their own affairs without the assistance of unsolicited advisers.

Victor Cutter of Newton, head of the United Fruit Company, spoke fairly when he told members of the Traffic Club of New England the other night that motor truck owners pay disproportionate taxes as compared with railroad companies. He called attention to the fact that motor trucks carry 2,160,000 tons of freight over one road alone, annually between Boston and New York. He said:

"Railroads are subject to increasingly heavy taxation, and at the same time are expected to improve grade crossings and other antiquated facilities. The grade crossings are largely necessary because of the motor traffic which directly competes with the railroads. Railroad taxes should be reduced or motor vehicles more strictly regulated than is generally the case.

It is clear that our government cannot go on taxing and regulating railroads with severity while at the same time it subsidizes competition on highways and waterways.

Thousands of former railroad employees in Massachusetts who received high wages, have been idle for much of the time in late years due to motor trucks taking freight business from railroads. Drivers and helpers on these trucks receive far less pay and work much longer hours than did the railroad employees.

POLICE NEWS

Arthur Gray of 10 Prospect street, West Newton, was fined $10 in the Newton court yesterday when found guilty of driving a car without having his license. He was found not guilty of going away after an accident without revealing his identity when he told Judge Weston that he had received a head injury in the collision in which the car he was driving was involved, and had become dazed.

Burglars entered the home of John Cimaglia, 934 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, on Wednesday night, and stole jewelry valued at over $1000 and $140 in money. The thieves broke three doors to effect entrance, taking a panel out of one door. The loot included a pearl necklace, two diamond rings and two pairs of gold earrings, one of which had belonged to Mr. Cimaglia's mother and was valued for sentimental reasons.

Harold Hatter of 32 Llewellyn road, West Newton, was arrested Wednesday night by Patrolman Hayden after a woman residing on that street had complained that Hatter was forcing his attentions on her. In court yesterday he was charged with drunkenness and sentenced to the State Farm at Bridgewater.

Arthur McDonald of Beech street, Newton, was given a suspended fine of $10 in the Newton court yesterday for keeping an unlicensed dog.

The 16th Amendment

NOWADAYS we seem to hear more about the 16th Amendment. But just the same it's the "16th" that's bothering some of us now. The 16th is the "Income Tax" Amendment, ratified in 1913—18 years ago.

Have you made your "return"?

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

Members and guests of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., were entertained by Mrs. Albion H. Brown on Tuesday afternoon, February 24, at her home, 9 Saxon terrace, Newton Highlands. Assisting Mrs. Brown in receiving were Miss Geneva Brown, Mrs. Thaddeus W. Collins, Mrs. Luther F. Elliott, Miss Emily Fanning, Mrs. Charles O. Farrar, Mrs. Ernest E. Fewkes, Miss Harriet M. Ward and Mrs. Wilmet Brown.

The regent, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, presided. The chapter was commended upon the representation of members attending the State bridge party, four tables being sold through the efforts of Mrs. Albion H. Brown. It was voted to suspend the by-laws and postpone the date of the meeting scheduled for April 28 to the first Tuesday in May. A cordial invitation was extended by the regent to all members of the chapter to a picnic lunch at her summer home in Rockport on June 23 in celebration of the birthdays of Mrs. William K. Crosby and Miss Annie S. Head.

Miss Annie S. Head, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker of the day, Rev. Douglas Horton, who addressed the chapter on the timely topic, "Patrimony and Patriotism." Mr. Horton made a strong plea for a continued love of country and a steady belief in its greatness.

Mrs. Bessie Dowse, contralto, accompanied by Mrs. Lucy Chase Simonds, rendered two groups of songs during the afternoon. A rising vote of appreciation and thanks was accorded both Mr. Horton and the musicians. As a fitting sequel to Mr. Horton's talk, Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson, chairman of World Affairs committee, gave a splendid report on India, describing conditions in that country from earliest times to the present day.

Tea was served by the hostesses at the conclusion of the program with Mrs. Charles O. Farrar presiding at the tea table.

ROTARY CLUB

The Natick Rotary Club was host this week to the Newton Club at their weekly meeting place, Unity Hall, in Natick. Registrars of Motor Vehicles, George A. Parker, also a guest of the Natick Club, spoke in a most effective and convincing way of the lessons to be drawn from the accidents caused by injudicious handling of the automobile. There were 796 fatalities in the state last year due to motor accidents, slightly less than in previous years, and yet appalling. A bit of a silver lining is found in the fact that the decrease of fatalities among children was 18 per cent. It would appear that the schools are effective in their teaching of safety. Many of the accidents when analyzed might seem ludicrous if they were not so tragic in their results. Just the people that you would expect to be careful do the most absurd things on a broad highway in daylight, running into railroad trains and into other cars without excuse. With the increase yearly of motor cars, we must be more vigilant than ever in fighting for safety. The rotarians asked Mr. Parker many questions to which he gave illuminating answers, and the weekly meeting came to an end at a later hour than usual.

ZONTA CLUB

On Monday evening, February 16, a meeting of the general committee of Zonta Clubs of Boston and its suburbs was held at the Pierce Secretarial School in Boston. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the entertainment of delegates to the district conference which is to be held at the Hotel Statler on Saturday and Sunday, April 11 and 12. Although many details still remain to be worked out, among the festivities under consideration are a luncheon and a banquet on Saturday, a classification breakfast Sunday morning, and a good fellowship meeting at noon on Sunday. This will be followed by a shore dinner. Newton Zonta will undertake the responsibility of transporting the candidates.

The members of the Newton Zonta Club acting as representatives on this committee are Marian Fuller, chairman, Margaret Baker, Gladys Bigelow, Bertha Fisher, Dorothy Sprague, Annis Sturgis, and Louise Turner. The next regular meeting of the Newton Zonta Club will be held in the Assembly Room of the Newton Centre Library on Monday evening, March 2nd, at seven forty-five. Miss Ruth O. Huestis will talk on Life Insurance.

Children and their parents have discovered an entirely new field of art training at the Vesper George School of Art. Saturday mornings find a group of young people from six to sixteen very much absorbed in illustrating with paper cutouts the story being told by the instructor. A puppet show of "Aladdin and His Lamp," including fifteen marionettes in gorgeous costumes and colorful scenery, was given for the benefit of the children's class last week and other performances will follow. Miss Evelina Jackson, who is in charge of this new department, has already had such phenomenal success that she has been invited to lecture next month on her work with children at the University of New York.

Letters To The Editor

UNEMPLOYMENT AND IDLENESS

To the Editor of the Graphic:
I noted four interesting accounts of the meeting for the utilization of the spare time of the unemployed and others recently held in connection with the Y. M. C. A. of Newton and the Newton Playground Commission. Nothing I noticed was mentioned of another general movement to bring people back to the soil.

Since the World War with the speeding up of the gardening interest there has been a general letting down of effort to cultivate the soil either for pleasure or profit. Our minds are given over to the use of machines, mass production and the acquisition of speed. In generations past in time of stress there has been a returning to the land and in fact in some instances great revolutions have been caused by the hoarding of the soil in large areas, eliminating the freedom for cultivation of the ground for the many.

In reading the recent History of Newton one is reminded of the important part that its citizens took in horticulture, gardening and the art of the beautification of their homes. At one time the schools gave courses in seeds and plants, with patches of convenient land for a school garden; thus instilling into the children the love for living and growing things.

In many countries a garden is part of the household economy and is often one of beauty in its relation to home and in the life of the country. We know how to play ON the soil in Newton and but little to work IN the soil.

The following quotation from Francis Bacon is quite pertinent:

And a Man shall ever see, that when To Civility and Elegance, Men come to build Stately, sooner than to garden finely as if Gardening were the Greater Perfection.

And another quotation from Arthur Young will help:
"Give a man the secure possession of a bleak rock, and he will turn it into a garden; give him a nine years' lease of a garden and he will convert it into a desert."

Thus one will see that the recent Zoning changes in Newton to private and single residence has been a help in the direction of home ownership.

The recent report of the Welfare Bureau appointed by Mayor Weeks under the direction of Mr. Leon Rogers reports that many in this stress are fearful of losing their homes. They have attached themselves in a permanent way to the land and the city and one can well balance that their unemployment will not be one of idleness. They have an attachment that makes for better citizenship.

Now what can be done about the future, is the problem. The children in the schools will be the citizens of tomorrow. Spring is coming and I wonder if the return to school gardens and a general interest in home gardens inspired by the children would give something to help the future. Many a little plot could produce much of interest and profit during the coming summer with the canning to follow to care for the food for another winter. It was done in the war time; why not now to help. The more homes with ownership of home and land the better for Newton.

Back to the Soil is no mean slogan.
HERBERT J. KELLAWAY.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE—NEWTON

The most powerful story of regeneration ever written forms an irresistible attraction at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, next Sunday and the first half of next week when "The Man Who Came Back," directed by Raoul Walsh and enacted by Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, is the feature film. On the same program is "Hook, Line and Sinker" with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey as the leading funmakers in another hilarious success.

The last half of the week the feature will be "War Nurse" with Robert Montgomery and Anita Page, in a vivid and outspoken story of the flapper of 1918, going to France on a romantic lark, bringing courage and love to the battlefields of France. George Sidney and Charlie Murray in "Cohans and the Kelleys in Africa," said to be the world's funniest picture, completes the bill.

family of the General Federation, followed by a reception and garden party given in the grounds of the Hotel Westward Ho, official headquarters for the convention. The pageant, "Masque of the Yellow Moon," presented by several thousand high school students at the stadium, will be an entertainment feature. It will be given at the Arizona Biltmore, at the foot of Camelback Mountain, by the five district Federations of the state.

"Play Day," the one day set apart as a period of fun and frolic when all serious matters are cast aside, will take the form of a drive around the valley, ending in a barbecue or chuck wagon lunch at the Heard Boy Scout Pueblo, in the South Mountains. Visiting Clubwomen will also be shown a part of the great Salt River valley which has been converted from a desert to fertile fields by the construction of the immense Roosevelt Dam a number of years ago.

It is expected that several thousand will attend this meeting as already many of the eastern states are making up special parties, several of which will continue to other western points of interest.

RECENT EVENTS

Community Service Club of West Newton

The February 18th meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton was held in the Parish House of the Second Church, with Mr. Walter Pritchard Eaton as the speaker for the afternoon, whose subject was "The American Stage Today—Current Plays."

Mr. Eaton said that as the spoken drama has been forced out of all but the key cities of this country by moving pictures, it is difficult to speak of drama in many of the smaller towns, though they do hear of them now through the motion pictures. In spite of moving and talking pictures however, Mr. Eaton believes that the spoken drama is not going to die, but may be presented in different ways of organization. He mentioned the very successful Community Theatre, in Pasadena, where worthwhile plays are produced by home talent, with a waiting list of 8,000 desirous of taking parts.

The speaker said that Boston is faced with the difficulty of suburban conditions, with moving pictures in most of the surrounding towns. He mentioned enthusiastically Eva Le Gallienne's success in organizing the Civic Repertory Theatre in New York, where really worthwhile plays are produced at moderate prices, and he spoke of her endeavors as representing his idea of a real theatre, the kind which Boston should have. This young and slender woman, he declared, had ability which would warrant her name being emblazoned in electric lights on Broadway, but she has chosen instead to give her efforts and talents to the end that fine plays may be available to multitudes of people.

Mr. Eaton reviewed briefly but interestingly a number of successful plays current this season in New York, some of which Bostonians may look forward to seeing and most of which can be obtained in book form. He spoke of how interesting it is to see how and why changes are necessary to make a reading play effective on the stage. In his opinion, the hope of a real art in drama lies with the people, in their demand and support. Tea and coffee were attractively served after the meeting under the direction of Mrs. William Wise and a corps of able assistants.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A Cabaret of all home talent was the feature of the last meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Thursday afternoon, February 19. A short business meeting preceded the program, conducted by the president, Mrs. C. Carter Willson. Among the committee reports, Mrs. Joseph McCarron told what had been done by the Community Service committee in aiding those in Newton who had needed help but would not ask for it. She stated that there was still need for warm, serviceable clothing for the Community Chest. An important step, taken by the Club after some discussion, was the nearly unanimous vote to change the day for club meetings next year back to the original Tuesdays.

The program of the afternoon had been planned by Mrs. J. Warren Bucknam, and was perhaps the most enjoyable one the Club has had this year. Many small tables seating four, were placed about the room, and the program opened by the entrance of twelve members of the Chorus in striking costumes, who wound their way about the tables singing the Gipsy Love Song. Mrs. Dana Kendall and Mrs. Edwin Doney gave the solo parts, and Mrs. Raymond Perkins at the piano. Three of the Club daughters gave solo dances: Miss Polly Godfrey, a pupil at the Braggiotti School of Dancing, Jean Budding, and Virginia Willson. Mrs. Dana Kendall, in a picturesque costume, sang two Japanese songs in a charming manner. Mrs. J. Frank Leland, accompanying her on the piano. A short original skit by Mrs. Clifford Parcher, Mrs. Edward Gray, and Mrs. Leslie Ford, created great amusement, as it included several personal remarks about Club members, and demonstrated how difficult it would be for an outsider to get by the door-keepers without proper credentials. Mrs. Lorraine Holmes also contributed to the program with two humorous readings. Two gentlemen were included in the entertainment: Mr. Roger DeWitt, son of a Club member played two saxophone solos, and Mr. James Dunlop, a "Club husband," danced a Buck and Wing. During the program refreshments were served, and the money which would otherwise have been spent on a paid program, went for Relief Work.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Alice Friend Mitchell addressed the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday, February 24, using as her topic, "Know Yourself." Mrs. Mitchell, a student of Child Psychology, and president of the Homemakers' Club of Providence, was formerly a resident of West Newton. Her many friends in Newton welcomed her to the Club and were glad of this opportunity to hear her.

Her talk dealt with the problems of parents in training children. There are problems, according to Mrs. Mitchell's ideas, because children cannot be moulded into any set form, and no given rules and regulations can be laid down for them to follow. If this were the case, then training would be reduced to a minimum and no problems would arise. The question of heredity and environment was discussed, and Mrs. Mitchell claims that the problem here for parents is to regulate environment so as to get the best out of inherent capacity.

In Mrs. Mitchell's opinion the parents are in most cases the greatest influence for the future life of the child as a good citizen, and she classified parents in four groups, namely: the domestic parent, who always makes the child how to his will; the do-as-you-please parent, who believes in too much freedom; the parent who tries to understand the child, who is the true psychological parent, and the parent who smothers the child with too much love.

In conclusion, Mrs. Mitchell summed up her talk by saying that it all revolves into having patience, perseverance, and a sympathetic understanding of the child, and in trying to train him to do the right thing merely because of the principle. To consider the home a training school, and above all to take this parental job toward eliminating the problems of childhood.

Mrs. Mitchell was introduced to the audience by Mrs. Bion M. Weatherhead, chairman of the American Home committee, as this committee sponsored the meeting. The Club has enjoyed two helpful and instructive meetings this year for which they are indebted to the American Home committee.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

"The Principles of Character Education" were discussed by Professor A. A. Capone, of the Harvard School of Education on Friday, February 20, in the second of the series of lectures on Child Psychology, sponsored jointly by the American Home committee and the Education committee of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. Despite the stormy day, a large number were present to hear Professor Capone and to remain for tea, which was served by the American Home committee under the direction of Mrs. Walter E. Decker.

Professor Capone pointed out that character education is devoted to the development of normal, healthy personalities; to the development of individuals who find happiness in life, and joy in contributing to the social welfare. There is nothing particularly new in the expression of this objective of education, but it seemed to him that this objective would be more nearly a reality as was emphasized more and more in the education and training of the emotions. Studies of psychology and mental hygiene indicate the importance of human motives and human desires in the growth and development of normal wholesome personalities. Many of the adult motives and desires originate in early childhood experiences, therefore, it is essential that teachers, and parents in particular, understand the principles that underlie character education.

He stated some of the most important motivating forces in the formation of character, as follows: first, every normal individual, from the day of birth to the day of his death, desires and inwardly demands to be treated with respect. This desire is so strong that any word or deed which tends to hurt one's self respect results in complications which may be very undesirable socially and biologically. Such behavior as dissatisfaction in one's work, at school and otherwise, running away from home, isolation from society, nervous illnesses of various sorts, and cynical views of life, may result from a sense of disrespect of one's ego. Second, the desire to follow one's own wishes, which is a very natural desire, impels the individual to do the things he likes to do, and to avoid the unpleasant. This may appear at first to be a very undesirable trait, but in reality it is very desirable because it can, with proper direction and guidance, be made to motivate socially desirable ends. Coupled with this interest of doing what he pleases, the individual also desires social approval and the approbation of his friends and neighbors; therefore, by controlling (intelligently) praise and approval in the child's everyday experiences, the child may be led to like the things he should like and to dislike the things that are socially undesirable. Third, the home, school, and church need to have a better understanding of the sex life of the child. In spite of the general knowledge among the social workers and specialists in the field of juvenile delinquency as to the place of sex in causation of such conduct, little has been done to attack the problem at its most strategic point, the parent. Parents must know the psychology of sex, as well as the physiology of sex, to be effective in developing socially wholesome attitudes at this point.

Dr. Capone summarized that with the emotions properly directed and attached to socially desirable ends, the more formal aspects of education can be carried on with less fear. Those tools of knowledge which have heretofore been given and used indiscriminately for both social and anti-social purposes may now serve more effectively the fundamental objective of education.

Newton Federation

The February meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was held on Tuesday, February 24 at 2:30 p. m. in the Library of the Technical High School, with the president, Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, presiding.

Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, chairman of the Education committee, was in charge of the program for the afternoon.

It was announced that in place of the usual Mid-winter Meeting, the Federation has accepted the invitation graciously extended by Mrs. Thomas J. Taylor, of the Waban Woman's Club, to meet with them on Monday, March 30, at 2:30 p. m. at the Waban Neighborhood Club House, when Mr. William N. Craig, horticulturist, will give an illustrated lecture on "Helpful Hints for Garden Lovers." There will be an exhibit of flowers, and tea and a social hour will follow.

A visit to the Massachusetts State Legislature is planned by Mrs. Arthur W. C. Desoe, chairman of the Legislative committee, for Tuesday, March 10. Arrangements have been made to have Representatives escort the visitors through the State House. All Clubwomen are cordially invited to see the Senate and House in action. Those wishing to attend are asked to meet in the Hall of Flags, State House, at 1:30 p. m. on Tuesday, March 10.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mr. U. G. Wheeler, Superintendent of Schools, presented an interesting and instructive discourse on the Junior High Schools of this city.

GASOLINE STARTS FIRE

Wednesday while Mrs. Carl Margeson of 38 Morse street, Watertown was cleaning cloth with gasoline on the kitchen table at her home, friction ignited the inflammable fluid and the blaze set fire to the furniture in the room. Engine 1 of Newton, which is the nearest piece of fire apparatus, responded, together with the Watertown fire apparatus. The flames were extinguished before much damage resulted.

Despite High Finance.
Two Engineers.
The Pendulum Swings.
Ladies Hear About Russia.

In spite of objections from highest financial authority, including Secretary Mellon, the House approved overwhelmingly, 363 to 39, the bill to let veterans borrow one-half the value of their war certificates. If they all borrow one-half, Uncle Sam will have to pay out more than fifteen hundred million dollars, and high finance says that will be ruinous.

As a rule, "Big Money," which means ability, should receive respectful attention, as does the captain of a ship. But high finance is sometimes mistaken. Big bankers said the Federal Reserve system would ruin the country, because it kept a few men from controlling all the money. They were wrong. Without the Federal Reserve this country would have had a black panic, long ago. They may be wrong in their idea that handling a billion dollars to those that need it, and earned it, will ruin us now.

In his introduction to the writings of George Washington, prepared for next year's 200th anniversary, President Hoover says Washington's engineering ability has never been fully appreciated.

Washington's methods were surprisingly modern. He reclaimed the Dismal Swamp in Virginia, was adviser and engineer on the Potomac and James River Canal and first to advise a combined highway and waterway from the Atlantic Coast to the Ohio River.

The President describes his predecessor as "the most potent human intellectual force in the firmament of American intellect."

George Washington was the first engineer to occupy the White House. President Hoover is the second.

A war with England interfered with Washington's engineering activities.

A war with bootleggers interferes with Hoover's.

Civilization expresses horror of religious fundamentalists in Turkey. They want their old Mohammedan religion restored, veils on women's faces, fezzes on men's heads.

Twenty-seven of these religious protestors were landed recently and it is expected others will be landed as rapidly as they are caught. Mustapha Kemal does not believe in half-way measures.

Thus the pendulum swings the other way. Old-fashioned religions have killed, burned, boiled, tortured hundreds of thousands under the most revolting conditions, as when Dr. S. Servetus was burned by order of Calvin in Switzerland. Damp wood was used to make the fire burn slowly and prolong the agony. Probably the plan miscarried, since damp wood, producing much smoke, would suffocate the victim before burning really began.

After a "day of silence," Gandhi, the leader of 300,000,000 Hindus, goes to New Delhi to discuss freedom with the British Viceroy.

The "day of silence" devoted to reflection and introspection, was a day unknown to great Asiatic conquerors of the past. Genghis Khan, Tamerlane, Attila had no days of silence, every day was active.

American lady patriots listening here for three hours, are assured that Russia threatens our institutions and this land is practically the last refuge of good government, as opposed to Red Russian ideas. Dr. Patmont, of California, went to Russia, "foiled the secret police, went just wherever he pleased, and saw things behind the scenes that Americans less intelligent never see."

He saw young girls standing in bread lines "with babies born illegitimately under this Soviet system." He saw "wild children, offspring of free love, sanctioned by the Soviet system, roaming around, until they were killed as pests by villagers and their bodies burned."

According to Dr. Patmont, killing folks and burning them, seems to be an important feature of Russian life. If Red Russia upsets our Government, takes all the money away from Mellon, Rockefeller, Baker and Ford, and gives free divorce to everybody, "with wild children, roaming around," in consequence, it will not be the fault of Dr. Patmont. He has warned this Government.

Meanwhile those Russians, enemies of capitalism, do a little capitalistic business on their own account. An American firm, the Elitongh Schild Company, has contracted to buy fifty million dollars worth of furs from Russia, ten million dollars worth every year, for five years. And this Government, recovering from its Russiaophobia in a brief interval approves the transaction.

Also Russia's Government spends more than ours and has a surplus. Instead of a deficit, and every man in Russia has a job, whether he wants it or not. No idle class allowed. Such a country should be able to feed its wild children.

POLICE NEWS

Malcolm Blanchard of 25 Evans road, Brookline, was in the Newton court yesterday charged with driving too speedily. He was fined $10.

Everett Isaacs of 21 Newbury St., Newton Centre, was in court yesterday and was fined $5 for operating a car with improper lights.

Joseph B. Mulhern of 12 Théuerer park, Watertown, was in the Newton court Wednesday charged with $5 for parking too near a hydrant, and $10 for operating a car without having its registration in his possession. He appealed.

Arthur L. Veducchio, 18, of 30 Riverdale avenue, Nonantum was in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with operating a car without having his license in his possession. Judge Brown placed the case on file after cautioning the youth not to repeat the offense.

THE NONANTUM LIBRARY

The Nonantum branch of the Newton Free Library, which has been occupying new quarters since last July, in a central location at Adams and Watertown streets, in the former bank building, circulated 5,246 books to its readers in January, which was an increase of 84 per cent over January of 1930. More than half of these books were issued to children. Nonantum jumped from eighth to fifth place in point of circulation among Newton branch libraries last month, being exceeded only by Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and Auburndale.

Because of the limited space at the disposal of the library it has been found necessary to restrict the children's hours to the afternoons thus giving those of senior high school age and all adults a chance in the evening from seven to nine. The branch is now open every afternoon and evening during the week, and on Sunday afternoons for three hours. There is a good collection of books in Italian and French as well as in English.

Mrs. Katharine Hodgdon, who so faithfully served the people of Nonantum as branch librarian for 24 years, retired at the close of the year, and her place has been taken by Miss Lucy Holt who for the past five years has been an assistant at the Main library and latterly at Newton Centre. Miss Josephine Dalton, formerly of Nonantum, is substitute when Miss Holt is off duty, and Miss Emma LoChiato is serving as part time assistant at the branch.

NEWTON DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS PLAYS

On Monday evening, February 23, the Newton Dramatic Club presented two one-act plays in the Playground House, Newton Centre, before a large and enthusiastic audience. Miss Doris Jones entertained with violin selections accompanied by Miss Carolyn Blake. Mrs. Van Loesbeck was in charge of the refreshments served after the plays.
